Continuities in Sociological Human Ecology Michael Micklin, Dudley L. Poston, 2013-11-11 The completion of this volume would not have been possible without the generous and dedicated help of numerous people The book had its genesis in a conference held at Cornell University in the fall of 1990 that was organized by Dudley Poston Paul Eberts and Michael Hannan all professors at the time at Cornell With the very generous financial assistance of David Call then the dean of Cornell's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences Poston Eberts and Hannan put together a two day conference of lectures and papers by human ecologists from Cornell University and elsewhere The conference focused on sociological human ecology and celebrated the fortieth anniversary of the publication of Amos Hawley's Human Ecology Ronald Press 1950 Professor Hawley was the keynote speaker at the conference Many of the authors of the chapters in this volume presented earlier versions at the Cornell conference in 1990 Cornell's Departments of Rural Sociology and Sociology also contributed financial assistance however without Dean Call's very generous support the conference would not have been possible A few months after the conference Poston and Michael Micklin discussed the possibility of asking the various authors of the Cornell conference papers to revise them for publication in a volume on sociological human ecology Many opted to do so but others did not because of time and other kinds of commitments and constraints

New Methods for Measuring and Analyzing Segregation Mark Fossett,2017-09-14 This book is open access under a CC BY NC 2 5 license This book introduces new methods for measuring and analyzing residential segregation It begins by placing all popular segregation indices in the difference of group means framework wherein index scores can be obtained as simple differences of group means on individual level residential attainments scored from area racial composition Drawing on the insight that in this framework index scores are additively determined by individual residential attainments the book shows that the level of segregation in a given city can be equated to the effect of group membership e g race on individual residential attainments This unifies separate research traditions in the field by joining the analysis of segregation at the aggregate level with the analysis of residential attainments for individuals Next it shows how segregation analysis can be extended by using multivariate attainment models to assess the impact of group membership i e the level of segregation for a city while including controls for other relevant individual characteristics e g income education language nativity etc It then illustrates how one can use these models to quantitatively assess the extent to which segregation traces to impacts of group membership on residential attainments versus other factors such as group differences in income The book then shows how micro level attainment models can be used to study macro level variation in segregation specifically by estimating multi level models of individual residential attainments to assess how the effect of group membership i e segregation index scores vary with city characteristics Finally the book introduces refined versions of popular indices that are free of the vexing problem of upward bias This improves the quality of segregation measurement directly at the level of individual cases and expanding the number of cases that can be safely included in empirical studies
