Off the Spectrum Gina Rippon,2025-04-01 A cognitive neuroscientist reveals how autistic women have been overlooked by biased research and makes a passionate case for their inclusion Who comes to mind when you think about an autistic person It might be yourself a relative or friend a public figure a fictional character or a stereotyped image Regardless for most of us it s likely to be someone male Autistic women are systematically underdiagnosed under researched and underserved by medical and social systems to devastating effects In Off the Spectrum cognitive neuroscientist Gina Rippon sheds light on how old ideas about autism leave women behind and how the scientific community must catch up Generations of researchers convinced autism was a male problem simply didn t bother looking for it in women creating a snowball effect of biased research To correct this male spotlight problem Rippon outlines how autism presents differently in girls and women like their tendency to camouflage their autistic traits or how their intense interests may take a form considered to be more socially acceptable When autism research studies don't recruit female participants Rippon argues it's not only autistic women who are failed it's the entire scientific community Correcting a major scientific bias Off the Spectrum provides a much needed exploration of autism in women to parents clinicians and autistic women themselves
