Haunting the Tiger & Other Stories Thuan Chye Kee, 1991

The Haunted Muse Richard M. Magee, 2016-04-26 The Salem witch trials and the many narratives based on them both contemporaneous and subsequent discussions have had a powerful influence on the American national psyche informing the nation s political debates and propelling its fears Perhaps one of the major reasons for the importance of the trials is how they conceive of and present a narrative of danger The horror grows in and seems to threaten not just the body politic but perhaps more importantly the domestic sanctuary The home and hearth become a contested ground where good and evil fight for the souls of the inhabitants or an infection that threatens to spread to other homes and eventually the entire community The fear of witchcraft or demonic possession reveals not just a religious mania but also a level of misogyny Much has been made of the connections between witchcraft accusations and midwifery homeopathy and other usually female pursuits The link between midwifery and witchcraft is especially interesting here however as it suggests an anxiety linked to notions of creation and procreation This book proposes a link between the fears of usurped procreation elicited by the trials and fears of misdirected or usurped creativity In many Gothic stories the authors imagine their literary creations as children who have been transformed by malignant forces much as the Puritans of 1692 feared that the devil was transforming their actual children

The home in the Gothic story becomes a warped version of the sacred domestic space of sentimental literature and it transforms from refuge to place of terror The authors examined here include Nathaniel Hawthorne Louisa May Alcott Rose Terry Cooke Charlotte Perkins Gilman Shirley Jackson Stephen King and Ira Levin Poe, "The House of Usher," and the American Gothic D. Perry, Carl H. Sederholm, 2009-04-27 Poe The House of Usher and the American Gothic discusses the interrelation between Poe's tale and the modern horror genre demonstrating how Poe's work continues to serve as a model for exploring the deepest and most primitive corners of the human mind and heart The magic skin, The quest of the absolute, and other stories Honoré de Balzac, 1901 Lottery & Other Stories Shirley Jackson, 1976 The Lottery one of the most terrifying stories written in this century created a sensation when it was first published in The New Yorker Power and haunting and nights of unrest were typical reader responses This collection the only one to appear during Shirley Jackson's lifetime unites The Lottery with twenty four equally unusual stories Together they demonstrate Jackson's remarkable range from the hilarious to the truly horrible and power as a storyteller The wild ass' skin and other stories Honoré de Balzac, 1897 Shirley Jackson: Novels and Stories (LOA #204) Shirley Jackson, 2010-05-27 Features a collection of writings across different genres by the mid twentieth century author Scary Stories, 2006-08-17 A collection of twenty very scary stories by timeless authors The magic skin, The quest of the absolute, and others stories Honoré de Balzac, 1901 How Violence Works John Babak Ebrahimian, 2025-05-15 This book uncovers how violence stems from our desires It explores why we compete envy and sometimes escalate conflicts into war From wanting material things such as cars or prestigious jobs to seeking power or influence desire can often lead to violence The book shows how this plays out in major historical events such as 9 11 and the two World Wars Drawing from literature pop culture psychology mythology and religion it explains how desire is always mimetic or imitative We desire what another person wants While mimetic desire can be a constructive mechanism it is also capable of creating violent mechanisms such as the scapegoat mechanism which we have seen throughout history In looking at Jesus Christ's passion and resurrection we see how he uncovered the scapegoat mechanism and along with his teachings offered a viable path to peace and an end to violence
