Louise Bourgeois' Spider Mieke Bal, 2001-06-29 The sculptor Louise Bourgeois is best known for her monumental abstract sculptures one of the most striking of which is the installation Spider 1997 Too vast in scale to be viewed all at once this elusive structure resists simple narration It fits both no genre and all of them architecture sculpture installation Its contents and associations evoke social issues without being reducible to any one of them Here literary critic and theorist Mieke Bal presents the work as a theoretical object one that can teach us how to think speak and write about art Known for her commentary on the issue of temporality in art Bal argues that art must be understood in relationship to the present time of viewing as opposed to the less immediate contexts of what has preceded the viewing such as the historical past of influences and art movements biography and interpretation In ten short chapters or takes Bal demonstrates that the closer the engagement with the work of art the more adequate the result of the analysis She also confronts issues of biography and autobiography key themes in Bourgeois's work and evaluates the consequences of ahistorical experiences for art criticism drawing on diverse sources such as Bernini and Benjamin Homer and Eisenstein This short beautiful book offers both a theoretical model for analyzing art out of context and a meditation on a key work by one of the most engaging artists of our era

Transformative Objects and the Aesthetics of Play Lynn M.

Somers, 2024-12-26 This book considers the sculpture of Louise Bourgeois 1911-2010 in light of psychoanalyst D W Winnicott's 1896-1971 radical ideas regarding transitional objects, potential space, and play, offering a model for exploring the complex and psychologically evocative work Bourgeois produced from 1947 to 2000. Critical concepts from British object-relational theories, destruction-reparation integration, relationality, and play drawn from the writings of Winnicott, Melanie Klein, Marion Milner, and Christopher Bollas among others bear upon the decades-long study of psychoanalysis Bourgeois brought to her sculptural production that was symbolic, metaphorical, and most importantly useful. The book demonstrates how Bourgeois's transformative sculptural objects and environments are invested in object relations, both psychical and tangible, and explores Bourgeois's contention that the observer physically engages with the intricate sculptural objects and architectural spaces she produced. Each chapter focuses on a key body of work: Femme Maison, Personages, Lairs, Janus, and Cells, examining how these imaginative and playful objects are staged as embodied encounters in space and time to invoke the mutuality, reciprocity, and ambivalence of our object relationships. Weaving a tapestry of aesthetic, cultural, and psychological encounters, Transformative Objects and the Aesthetics of Play addresses critical relationships among Bourgeois's work and that of other artists from Pieter Bruegel to Eva Hesse. It brings together practical archival and theoretical material, offering close examinations of historically situated objects and analyses of their complex affects and spatiality. Gathering critical perspectives from psychoanalysis, cultural analysis, feminist, queer, literary, and affect studies, the book extends its specific art-historical scope to investigate the crucial roles that art and cultural experience assume in everyday life.

Sonic Possible Worlds, Revised Edition Salomé Voegelin, 2021-01-14

From its use in literary theory, film criticism, and the discourse of games design, Salomé Voegelin expands possible world theory to think the worlding of sound in music, in art, and in the everyday. The modal logic of possible worlds articulated principally via David K. Lewis and developed through Maurice Merleau-Ponty's phenomenological life-worlds creates a view on the invisible slices of the world and reflects on how to make them count politically and aesthetically. How to make them thinkable and accessible as the possibility of the everyday and of art to reach a new materialist understanding from the invisible and to develop an ear for the as-yet inaudible. This revised edition continues Voegelin's exploration of the sonic possibility of the world into the sonic possibility and impossibility of the body. Listening to work by Ine O'Dwyer, Hannah Silva, and Jocy de Oliveira, it considers sonic possible worlds' radical power to rethink normative constructions and to fabulate a different body from its sound. Hearing the Continuum Between Plural Bodies between humans, humanoid, aliens, monsters, vampires, plants, things and anything we have no name for yet but which a sonic philosophy might start to hear and call Stitching the Self Johanna Amos, Lisa Binkley, 2020-01-09 The needle arts are traditionally associated with the decorative domestic and feminine Stitching the Self sets out to expand this narrow view demonstrating how needlework has emerged as an art form through which both objects and identities social political and often non conformist are crafted Bringing together the work of ten art and craft historians this illustrated collection focuses on the interplay between craft and artistry amateurism and professionalism and re evaluates ideas of gendered production between 1850 and the present From quilting in settler Canada to the embroidery of suffragist banners and the needlework of the Bloomsbury Group it reveals how needlework is a transformative process one which is used to express political ideas forge professional relationships and document shifting identities With a range of methodological approaches including object based feminist and historical analyses Stitching the Self examines individual and communal involvement in a range of textile practices Exploring how stitching shapes both self and world the book recognizes the needle as a powerful tool in the fight for self expression A Dictionary of the Avant-Gardes, 2013-05-13 A Dictionary of the Avant Gardes recognizes that change is a driving force in all the arts It covers major trends in music dance theater film visual art sculpture and performance art as well as architecture science and culture

The Great Parade Pierre Théberge, Galeries Nationales du Grand Palais (Paris), National Gallery of Canada, 2004-01-01 A beautiful book that showcases how circus figures and artifacts have been portrayed in art over the past two centuries The circus is a dazzling world filled with acrobats and harlequins tumblers and riders monsters and celestial creatures Now this engaging book sets that world in a new light examining how painters sculptors and photographers from the eighteenth century to the present have used the circus as a springboard for their imaginative expression and have envisioned the clown as a metaphor for the modern artist The book presents more than 175 works by such artists as Degas Toulouse Lautrec Rouault Picasso Chagall and L ger Some of these are masterful works shown for the first time these range from the 18 meter stage curtain Picasso designed in 1917 for Erik Satie s ballet Parade to more intimate works such as Nadar and Tournachon s photographs of Pierrot as played by celebrated mime Charles Debureau

Childhood as Memory, Myth and Metaphor Catherine

Crimp,2017-12-02 A fascination with childhood unites the artist Louise Bourgeois 1911 2010 and the writers Samuel Beckett 1906 89 and Marcel Proust 1871 1922 But while many commentators have traced their childhood images back to memories of lived experiences there is more to their mythologies of childhood that waits to be explored They invite us to move away from familiar ideas whether psychological or biographical about what a child can represent and even what a child is The haunting child figures of Bourgeois Beckett and Proust echo each other as they show how imagining origins for a life for a work of art involves paradoxes that test the limits of our forms of expression Art meets literature profusion meets concision French meets English and images of childhood reveal new insights in this encounter between three great figures of twentieth and twenty first century culture Catherine Crimp holds a PhD from the University of Cambridge and is currently Lectrice d anglais at theEcole Normale Superieure de Lyon

The Inhabitable Flesh of Architecture Marcos Cruz,2017-03-02

Today s architecture has failed the body with its long heritage of purity of form and aesthetic of cleanliness A resurgence of interest in flesh especially in art has led to a politics of abjection completely changing traditional aesthetics and is now giving light to an alternative discussion about the body in architecture This book is dedicated to a future vision of the body in architecture questioning the contemporary relationship between our Human Flesh and the changing Architectural Flesh Through the analysis and design of a variety of buildings and projects Flesh is proposed as a concept that extends the meaning of skin one of architecture s most fundamental metaphors It seeks to challenge a common misunderstanding of skin as a flat and thin surface In a time when a pervasive discourse about the impact of digital technologies risks turning the architectural skin ever more disembodied this book argues for a thick embodied flesh by exploring architectural interfaces that are truly inhabitable Different concepts of Flesh are investigated not only concerning the architectural and aesthetic but also the biological aspects The latter is materialised in form of Synthetic Neoplasms which are proposed as new semi living entities rather than more commonly derived from scaled up analogies between biological systems and larger scale architectural constructs These neoplastic creations are identified as partly designed object and partly living material in which the line between the natural and the artificial is progressively blurred Hybrid technologies and interdisciplinary work methodologies are thus required and lead to a revision of our current architectural practice
