Love in Africa Jennifer Cole,Lynn M. Thomas,2009-08-01 In recent years scholarly interest in love has flourished Historians have addressed the rise of romantic love and marriage in Europe and the United States while anthropologists have explored the ways globalization has reshaped local ideas about those same topics Yet love in Africa has been peculiarly ignored resulting in a serious lack of understanding about this vital element of social life a glaring omission given the intense focus on sexuality in Africa in the wake of HIV AIDS Love in Africa seeks both to understand this failure to consider love and to begin to correct it In a substantive introduction and eight essays that examine a variety of countries and range in time from the 1930s to the present the contributors collectively argue for the importance of paying attention to the many different cultural and historical strands that constitute love in Africa Covering such diverse topics as the reception of Bollywood movies in 1950s Zanzibar the effects of a Mexican telenovela on young people s ideas about courtship in Niger the models of romance promoted by South African and Kenyan magazines and the complex relationship between love and money in Madagascar and South Africa Love in Africa is a vivid and compelling look at love s role in African society

The Life of Things, the Love of Things Remo Bodei,2015-04-01 From prehistoric stone tools to machines to computers things have traveled a long road along with human beings Changing with the times places and methods of their production emerging from diverse histories and enveloped in multiple layers of meaning things embody ideas emotions and symbols of which we are often unaware The meaning of thing is richer than that of object which is something that is manipulated with indifference or according to impersonal technical procedures Things also differ from merchandise objects that can be sold or exchanged or seen as status symbols Things in the philosophical sense are nodes of relationships with the life of others chains of continuity among generations bridges that connect individual and collective histories junctions between human civilizations and nature Things incite us to listen to reality to make them part of ourselves giving fresh life to an otherwise suffocating interiority Things also reveal the hidden aspect of a subject in its most secret and least explored side Things are the repositories of ideas emotions and symbols whose meaning we often do not understand In an unexpected but coherent journey that includes the visions of classic philosophers from Aristotle to Husserl and from Hegel to Heidegger along with the analysis of works of art Bodei addresses issues such as fetishism the memory of things the emergence of department stores consumerism nostalgia for the past the self portraits of Rembrandt and Dutch still lifes of the seventeenth century The more we are able to recover objects in their wealth of meanings and integrate them into our mental and emotional horizons he argues the broader and deeper our world becomes

Tom, Love at the Haven 5 Stella Shaw,2021-06-01 What starts as a bit of fun stirs up a whole new bunch of emotions On a lazy Sunday afternoon in London at the Haven Hotel the outrageous and uninhibited Tom introduces his fellow escorts to the joys of an inflatable hot tub in the garden even if it s more urban casual than Florida chic He gets mixed reactions one of the guys finds it weird another has better things to do and the hotel owners are frantically trying to find time to have a private conversation involving some kind of proposal Tom is left on his own to enjoy the tub but that s okay because he s used to looking after himself He s been on his own for years he s never had someone caring for him alone and he s never done Romance No he s all about fun friends sexy times and protecting his heart because no one else will Until he s joined by a sophisticated businessman just passing through who s not only hot and intriguing but also seems fascinated by Tom The escorts call their punters by nicknames but Mr Flash isn t remotely like Tom s usual clientele He s something much more special And there may even be a future in it for them both A SHORT STORY IN THE LOVE AT THE HAVEN SERIES This can be read as a standalone but follows the timeline of the series Haven Holiday, Love at the Haven 7 Stella Shaw,2021-12-01 Sentimental discoveries and badly kept secrets Is it the perfect Christmas at the Haven Hotel It s the first Christmas at the Haven Hotel since Rick inherited it from his aunt and he s spent all year getting things back on track When he and Eliot find a box of Auntie s mementoes in the basement highlighting a very unconventional theatrical career he decides to hold a party to honour her But there are way too many obstacles preventing him getting his friends together in one place this close to Christmas Or so everyone keeps telling him Rick loves his partner Eliot and is very fond of his friends But a man s patience can only stretch so far The day of Auntie s birthday turns out to be a very confusing and distracting time for him and everyone except him seems to be in on it From covert meetings to secret recipes to mysteriously vanishing decorations and even through a very hot but surprising seduction Rick is led astray until the day is almost over And then his friends show another side of their meddling Auntie Pop had love and respect from many of the escorts at the Haven and it looks like her day will be fondly remembered after all And Rick and Eliot may have the chance at last to make their own special commitment that s if Rick ever forgives all the subterfuge this Christmas special is a self contained story but it features all the characters who live and work at the Haven so it may be more fun if you ve read the previous books Themes of Work and Love in Adulthood Neil J. Trauma, Memory, and Narrative in the Contemporary South African Novel, 2012-01-01 The contributions to this volume probe the complex relationship of trauma memory and narrative By looking at the South African situation through the lens of trauma they make clear how the psychic deformations and injuries left behind by racism and colonialism cannot be mended by material reparation or by simply reversing economic and political power structures Western trauma theories as developed by scholars such as Caruth van der Kolk Herman and others are insufficient for analysing the more complex situation in a postcolony such as South Africa This is because Western trauma concepts focus on the individual traumatized by a single identifiable event that causes PTSD Post Traumatic Stress Disorder What we need is an understanding of trauma that sees it not only as a result of an identifiable event but also as the consequence of an historical condition in the case of South Africa that of colonialism and more specifically of apartheid For most black and coloured South Africans the structural violence of apartheid s laws were the existential condition under which they had to exist The living conditions in the townships pass laws relocation and racial segregation affected great parts of the South African population and were responsible for the collective traumatization of several generations This trauma however is not an unclaimed and unclaimable experience Postcolonial thinkers who have been reflecting on the experience of violence and trauma in a colonial context writing from within a Fanonian tradition have on the contrary believed in the importance of reclaiming the past and of transcending mechanisms of victimization and resentment so typical of traumatized consciousnesses Narration and the novel have a decisive role to play here
