Marriage in Medieval England Conor McCarthy, 2004 A survey of attitudes to marriage as represented in medieval legal and literary texts Love and Marriage in the Age of Chaucer H.A. Kelly, 2004-01-30 Spicing erudition with wit Professor Kelly takes a new look at medieval attitudes toward love sexuality and marriage and he corrects a number of long standing misconceptions embodied in the concept of courtly love Through a close examination of canon law the common practice of clandestine marriage writings on mysticism and medieval poetry particularly Gower s Confessio amantis and Chaucer s romances and their sources he concludes that medieval lovers favored matrimony and did not consider sexual passion incompatible with virtue His evidence contradicts the theory closely associated with C S Lewis that extramarital love was preferred in the Middle Ages and that the sexual pleasures celebrated by poets were necessarily regarded as immoral by society at large By placing religious and cultural conventions in their proper context Professor Kelly shows that the hopes and fears of medieval lovers were much the same as those of lovers of all other ages Love, Marriage, and Family Ties in the Later Middle Ages Isabel Davis, Miriam Müller, Sarah Rees Jones, 2003 This volume addresses the current fashion for research on the family and domesticity in the past It draws together work from various disciplines historical art historical and literary with their very different source materials and from a broad geographical area including some countries such as Croatia and Poland which are not usually considered in standard text books on the medieval family This volume considers the various affective relationships within and around the family and the manner in which those relationships were regulated and ritualized in more public arenas Despite their disparate approaches and geographical spread these essays share many thematic concerns the ideologies which structured gender roles inheritance rights incest law and the ethics of domestic violence for example are all considered here This collection originates from the Leeds International Medieval Congress in 2001 when the special strand was entitled Domus and Familia and attracted huge participation This book aims to reflect that richness and variety whilst contributing to an expanding area of historical enquiry
