Mapping Hidden Dimensions Of The Urban S:

Mapping Daniel Dorling, David Fairbairn, 2013-10-08 Illustrates how maps tell us as much about the people and the powers which create them as about the places they show Presents historical and contemporary evidence of how the human urge to describe understand and control the world is presented through the medium of mapping together with the individual and environmental constraints of the creator of the map Maps and Politics Jeremy Black, 2000-09-01 We all rely on the apparent accuracy and objectivity of maps but often do not see the very process of mapping as political Are the power and purpose of maps inherently political Maps and Politics addresses this important question and seeks to emphasize that the apparent objectivity of the map making and map using process cannot be divorced from aspects of the politics of representation Maps have played and continue to play a major role in both international and domestic politics They show how visual geographical representations can be made to reflect and advance political agendas in powerful ways The major developments in this field over the last century are responses both to cartographic progression and to a greater emphasis on graphic imagery in societies affected by politicization democratization and consumer and cultural shifts Jeremy Black asks whether bias free cartography is possible and demonstrates that maps are not straightforward visual texts but contain political and politicizing subtexts that need to be read with care Identity in Britain Bethan Thomas, Daniel Dorling, 2007-09-10 Danny Dorling and Bethan Thomas have brought together this outstanding atlas to provide us with a unique visual picture of identity and geography combined Identity in Britain explores our changing identities as we progress from infancy to old age and tells the story of the myriad geographies of life in Britain Urban Narratives and the Spaces of Rome Gregory Smith, 2021-07-19 This book foregrounds the works of Pier Paolo Pasolini to study the Roman periphery and examine the relevance of Pasolini's vision in the construction of subaltern identity and experience It analyses the contemporary Italian society to understand the problem of social exclusion of marginal communities Narrative studies are at the core of the contemporary social science research This book uses narrative analysis to unpack the deeper meaning of Rome's stigmatized periphery through an interplay of Italian cinema literature and social and political climates It encourages a positive interpretation of the Roman periphery through its characterization as a homogeneous area of marginality as emphasized in Pasolini's writings and films on Rome This re-evaluation left a lasting impact on the modern periphery and the narratives of ordinary citizens as evident in contemporary street art and popular musical production Pasolini's revolutionary vision allows us to appreciate the human and aesthetic character of urban life in regions beyond the main urban areas The respect for subaltern urban communities encouraged by this book can be extended from Rome to other parts of the world This book presents an interconnection of social theory geography poetry literature film and the visual arts to study the experience of life in underprivileged urban areas Written in an accessible style the book offers a reimagining of the Roman periphery which will appeal to readers in France Spain Italy Australia areas which have significant interest in Italian studies and the works of Pasolini Mapping Wuhan Henco Bekkering, Jiaxiu Cai, Joran Kuijper, Zhang Ke, Chen Wei, 2022-03-15 Chinese cities have been expanding since the early 1980s under trends of rapid modernization urbanization and globalization Since then they have changed dramatically and have in the process lost many of their traditional environments and spatial characteristics Urban planners and designers have been and are facing unprecedented challenges in China They not only have to learn to understand the constantly emerging new urban mechanisms and seek balance among stakeholders but they also need to cope with the political pressures and the changing context under often extreme time pressure In such circumstances future and design oriented analysis based on a designerly way of thinking is useful if not indispensable for understanding the existing city and deciding on its transformations in a responsible and accountable way that is communicable among designers and with the public This is especially so in light of the growing awareness also in China of the value and importance of local urban identity that is always at least partially based on history In this atlas the Delft method of historical morphological analysis is applied to the city of Wuhan valuing the importance of and finding meaning in the local urban identity of a city with a population over 11 million with a floating population of 14 million The series of maps show the urban development covering a century and a half Cultural Mapping as Cultural Inquiry Nancy Duxbury, W.F. Garrett-Petts, David MacLennan, 2015-05-22 This edited collection provides an introduction to the emerging interdisciplinary field of cultural mapping offering a range of perspectives that are international in scope Cultural mapping is a mode of inquiry and a methodological tool in urban planning cultural sustainability and community development that makes visible the ways local stories practices relationships memories and rituals constitute places as meaningful locations The chapters address themes processes approaches and research methodologies drawn from examples in Australia Canada Estonia the United Kingdom Egypt Italy Malaysia Malta Palestine Portugal Singapore Sweden Syria the United Arab Emirates the United States and Ukraine Contributors explore innovative ways to encourage urban and cultural planning community development artistic intervention and public participation in cultural mapping recognizing that public involvement and artistic practices introduce a range of challenges spanning various phases of the research process from the gathering of data to interpreting data to presenting findings to a broad range of audiences The book responds to the need for histories and case studies of cultural mapping that are globally distributed and that situate the practice locally regionally nationally and internationally
