Marcel Et Hugo:

The Taming of Romanticism Virgil Nemoianu, 1984 Looking at a broad spectrum of writers English French German Italian Russian and other East Europeans Virgil Nemoianu offers here a coherent characterization of the period 1815 1848 This he calls the era of the domestication of romanticism The explosive visionary core of romanticism is seen to give way after the defeat of Napoleon to an expanded and softer version reflecting middle class values This later form of romanticism is characterized by moralizing efforts to reform society a sentimental yearning for the tranquility of home and hearth and persistent faith in the individual alongside a new skepticism shattered ideals and consequent irony Expanding the application of the term Biedermeier which has been useful in describing this period in German literature Nemoianu provides a new framework for understanding these years in a wider European context Proust, a Jewish Way Antoine

Compagnon, 2024-11-12 Marcel Proust once wrote There is no longer anybody not even myself since I cannot leave my bed who will go along the Rue du Repos to visit the little Jewish cemetery where my grandfather following a custom that he never understood went for so many years to lay a stone on his parents grave Investigating the origin and significance of this statement Antoine Compagnon offers new insight into the great author's underappreciated Jewish side Compagnon traces Proust's ties to the French Jewish community examining his relations with his mother's successful and assimilated family the Weills He explores how French Jews read and responded to Proust's masterpiece In Search of Lost Time in the 1920s and 1930s Challenging contemporary critics who perceive self hatred or even antisemitism in Proust's work Compagnon shows that many Jewish intellectuals and young Zionists admired and vigorously debated the novel some seeing it as a source for pride in their Jewish identity He also considers Proust's portrayal of homosexuality and how it relates to notions of Jewishness A work of remarkable erudition and deep research Proust a Jewish Way brings to light the vanished world of Proust's first Jewish readers and shows how it can illuminate our reading of the great novelist today Rodin Ruth

Time Regained Delia Ungureanu, 2021-10-07 Awarded the Tudor Vianu Prize for Literary and Cultural Theory by the National Museum of Romanian Literature Over the past 30 years the fields of world literature and world cinema have developed on parallel but largely separate tracks with little recognition of their underlying similarities and the ways that each can learn from the other Time Regained does not move from literature to cinema but exists simultaneously in both fields The 7 filmmakers selected here Andrei Tarkovsky Akira Kurosawa Martin Scorsese Raúl Ruiz Wong Kar Wai Stephen Daldry and Paolo Sorrentino are themselves also writers or people with literary training and they produce a new type of world cinema thanks to their understanding of the world simultaneously through literature and film In the process their films produce new readings of literary texts that world literature studies wouldn't have been able to achieve with its own instruments Time Regained examines how filmmakers build on literature to reconfigure the world as a landscape of dreams and how they use film to reinvent the narrative techniques of the authors on whom they draw The selected filmmakers draw inspiration from French surrealists modernists Marcel Proust Virginia Woolf and Marguerite Yourcenar and predecessors such as Dante and Cao Xueqin In the process these filmmakers cross the borders between film and literature nation and world dream and reality
