March Of Central Asia:

March of Central Asia Ram Rahul, 2000 It is the chronicle of the march of all central Asia through twenty centuries It tells of the condition and circumstances of all central Asia Ethnicity, Authority and Power in Central Asia Robert L. Canfield, Gabriele Rasuly-Paleczek, 2010-10-04 This book examines the perspectives and issues of variously situated peoples in Greater Central Asia in terms of four major issues government repression ethnic group perspectives devices of mutual support and informal grounds of authority and influence Responding to the need for in depth studies concerning the social structures and practices in the region it provides a distinctive timely insight into this increasingly influential part of the world

Central Asia Ajay Patnaik, 2016-03-31 Throughout history Central Asia has formed an important strategic link between the East and the West and been described as the great pivot in the early twentieth century This book looks at the relations between the Central Asian states and major external powers It shows how these nations have kept the fragile geopolitics of the region free of the so called New Great Game The volume evaluates the roles of major powers such as Russia United States China Iran and Turkey as well as India and its Silk Road Strategy It also compares the regional geopolitics of Central Asia with its neighbour Caucasus The study indicates how despite limited inter state cooperation the region has prevented conflicts and wars due to which these states have been able to enjoy greater strategic autonomy in their dealings with other countries The book will benefit scholars and researchers of international relations political and strategic studies area studies and Central Asian studies apart from the interested general reader US Policies in Central Asia Ilya Levine, 2016-06-10 Democracy promotion security and energy are the predominant themes of US policy in Central Asia after the Cold War This book analyses how the Bush administration understood and pursued its interests in the Central Asia states namely Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Kazakhstan Uzbekistan Turkmenistan It discusses the shift in US interests after September 11 and highlights key ideas actors and processes that have been driving US policy in Central Asia The author examines the similarities between the Bush and Obama administrations attitudes towards the region and he points to the inadequacy of the personality focused partisan accounts that have all too often been deployed to describe the two presidential administrations To understand US Central Asian policy it is necessary to appreciate the factors behind its continuities as well as the legacies of the September 11 attacks Using case studies on the war on terror energy and democracy drawing on personal interviews with Americans and Central Asians as well as the fairly recent releases of declassified and leaked US Government documents via sources like the Rumsfeld Papers and Wikileaks the author argues that the US approached Central Asia as a non unitary state with an ambiguous hierarchy of interests Traditionally domestic issues could be internationalised and non state actors were able to play significant roles The actual relationships between its interests were neither as harmonious nor as conflicted as the administration and some of its critics claimed Shedding new light on US relations with Central Asia this book is of interest to scholars of Central Asia US Politics and International Relations Central Asia in the Era of Sovereignty

Daniel L. Burghart, Theresa Sabonis-Helf, 2018-03-16 After twenty five years of independence there is little doubt that the five Central Asian states will persist as sovereign independent states They increasingly differ from each other and are making their way in global politics No longer connected only to Russia they are now connected in important ways to Afghanistan South Asia China Iran and each other This volume covers a wide range of issues and presents the work of emerging scholars authors well known for their expertise in the region The first part addresses social issues Covering a wide range from HIV AIDs to social media the rebirth of Islam outmigration and problematic borders this section follows two main currents political development in the region and states responses to transboundary challenges The second part addressing economics and security provides analyses of new infrastructure informal economies from bazaars to criminal networks energy development the role of enclaves in the Ferghana Valley and the development of the states military structures This section illuminates the interactions between economic developments and security and the forces that could undermine both The final part comprised of five case studies offers a deeper dive into a specific factor that matters in the development of each Central Asian state These cases include Kazakhstan s foreign policy identity Kyrgyzstan s domestic politics Tajikistan s pursuit of hydropower foreign direct investment in Turkmenistan and the perception of everyday corruption in Uzbekistan A

Journey in Khorassan and Central Asia Robert John Kennedy, Bertha Ward Kennedy, 1891 Islam, Society, and Politics in Central Asia

Pauline Jones, 2017-07-20 During the 1990s there was a general consensus that Central Asia was witnessing an Islamic revival after independence and that this occurrence would follow similar events throughout the Islamic world in the prior two decades which had negative effects on both social and political development Twenty years later we are still struggling to fully understand the transformation of Islam in a region that s evolved through a complex and dynamic process involving diversity in belief and practice religious authority and political intervention This volume seeks to shed light on these crucial questions by bringing together an international group of scholars to offer a fresh perspective on Central Asian states and societies The chapters provide analysis through four distinct categories the everyday practice of Islam across local communities state policies toward Islam focusing on attempts to regulate public and private practice through cultural legal and political institutions and how these differ from Soviet policies how religious actors influence communities in the practice of Islam state policies towards the religion and subsequent communal responses to state regulations and how knowledge of and interaction with the larger Islamic world is shaping Central Asia s current Islamic revival and state responses The contributors a multidisciplinary and international group of leading scholars develop fresh insights that both corroborate and contradict findings from previous research while also highlighting the problem of making any generalizations about Islam in individual states or the region As such this volume provides new and impactful analysis for scholars students and policy makers concerned with Central Asia Report to Congress of the U.S.-China Economic and Security Review

Commission U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission, 2015 Sinostan Raffaello Pantucci, Alexandros

Petersen,2022-04-14 Based on more than a decade s writing research and travel this book offers a rare glimpse into China s expanding economic cultural and political power in the Eurasian heartland China s rise is changing the world Much attention has been given to how China s geo economic vision is playing out in the global economy or how its technology is reshaping the planet yet it is over its western borders in Central Asia that China s influence has been quietly expanding in a more pervasive way It is here that you can find the first strand of Xi Jinping s grand Belt and Road Initiative China s new Silk Road to the West It is to the Eurasian heartland that we can look for an understanding of China s new foreign policy vision and its consequences In Sinostan two acclaimed foreign policy experts recount their travels across Central Asia to keep their finger on the pulse and tell the story of China s growing influence They interview Chinese traders in latter day Silk Road bazaars climb remote mountain passes threatened by construction commiserate with Afghan archaeologists charged with saving centuries old Buddhist ruins before they are swept away by mining projects meet with eager young Central Asians learning Mandarin and sit with officials in all five Central Asian capitals bearing witness to a region increasingly transformed by Beijing s presence Their stories and experiences illustrate how China s foreign policy initiative has expressed itself on the ground and what it means for those living both within and beyond the boundaries of its inadvertent empire Globalizing

Central Asia Marlene Laruelle,Sebastien Peyrouse,2015-02-12 In this global era Central Asia must be understood in both geo economic and geopolitical terms The region s natural resources compel the attention of rivalrous great powers and ambitious internal factions The local regimes are caught between the need for international collaborations to valorize these riches and the need to maintain control over them in the interest of state sovereignty Russia and China dominate the horizon with other global players close behind meanwhile neighboring countries are fractious and unstable with real potential for contagion This pathbreaking introduction to Central Asia in contemporary international economic and political context answers the needs of both academic and professional audiences and is suitable for course adoption The Great Power Competition Volume 1

Adib Farhadi,Anthony J. Masys,2021-06-22 Over the past decade the international political system has come to be characterized as a Great Power Competition in which multiple would be hegemon compete for power and influence Instead of a global climate of unchallenged United States dominance revisionist powers notably China and Russia alongside other regional powers are vying for dominance through political military and economic means A critical battleground in the Great Power Competition is the Middle East the Horn of Africa and the Central Asia South Asia CASA also known as the Central Region With the planned withdrawal of U S military forces from Afghanistan the U S has stated its intention of shifting attention away from the CASA Region in favor of a more isolationist foreign policy approach This book provides an in depth understanding of the implications for this shift related to regional diplomacy politics economic opportunities rivalries security considerations interests and the information environment Amplifying the vital importance of success in the Central Region to U S prosperity and security this volume advances dialogue in identifying key issues for stakeholders within and beyond the

EU-Central Asian Interactions Rick Fawn, Karolina Kluczevska, Oleg Korneev, 2024-07-12 From limited interactions in the early 1990s the EU and Central Asia now consider each other to be increasingly important This book includes 12 chapters written by seasoned and policy engaged researchers from across Eurasia and the wider world that analyse multiple levels of mutual interactions understandings and misunderstandings across a range of policy areas It shows why and in what ways exactly the EU and Central Asia matter to each other and why policymakers and researchers should pay more attention to their interactions Central Asia falls under the broader external relations and security agenda of the EU and over years it provided a testing ground for many EU policies including the priority ones of region building and resilience promotion Looking at the EU in turn informs as to how Central Asian actors interact with external partners of the region and how that can influence national policy agendas and consequently everyday life bringing new approaches insights and evidence also to the wide field of EU studies This book is of key interest to scholars practitioners and students of Central Asian history and politics EU foreign policy EU Central Asia relations and more broadly of EU studies International Relations regionalism and interregionalism as well as security studies The chapters in this book were published over three issues of Central Asian Survey

The Region of the Eternal Fire: an Account of a Journey to the Petroleum Region of the Caspian in 1883 Charles Marvin, 1884 Journal of the Royal United Service Institution Royal United Service Institution (Great Britain), 1875 Turning Points and Transitions Daljit Singh, Malcolm Cook, 2018-11-21 Southeast Asian Affairs has for decades been an indispensable reference for those concerned with political and economic developments across this vibrant and highly diverse region Each year leading experts on the region and its constituent states have contributed detailed assessments of individual countries and region wide themes which collectively provide an important and reliable record of Southeast Asia's often dramatic evolution since the early 1970s Some of the most significant and interesting of these chapters have been carefully selected and brought together in this volume which will be a valuable resource for students of the region Dr Tim Huxley Executive Director The International Institute for Strategic Studies Asia Singapore At a time when Southeast Asia is undergoing rapid changes this compilation of essays is a must read for all those who seek to understand ASEAN and its member states Southeast Asia is more than ASEAN and as an inter state organization that works by consensus ASEAN can do no more than what its members allow it to do Bilahari Kausikan Chairman Middle East Institute National University of Singapore and former Permanent Secretary of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs Singapore For the last fifty years ISEAS has been the go to place for students and scholars from all over the world seeking to develop a deeper knowledge of Southeast Asia Since it first appeared in 1974

Southeast Asian Affairs has provided thoughtful and timely analysis of critical developments in the region annually. This carefully chosen collection of some of these essays authored over the years brilliantly maps out the contours of change and transformation that have shaped Southeast Asia's recent history and captures the dynamism of this fascinating region. Joseph Chinyong Liow, Dean College of Humanities Arts and Social Sciences and Dean S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies, Nanyang Technological University. The book Turning Points and Transitions commemorating the 50th anniversary of the founding of ISEAS is like a literary time machine. It takes us back through contemporary expert commentary and analysis to the major forces and events that shaped the political and economic evolution of the Southeast Asia region. A new generation of scholars has replaced typewriters with computers, but many of the roots of the issues and conflicts that ISEAS will be dealing with in the future are to be found in the past that is so ably documented in this volume. Donald E. Weatherbee, Donald S. Russell, Distinguished Professor Emeritus at the University of South Carolina.
