Robinson, 1984 The collection of thirteen codices found in upper Egypt near Nag Hammadi in 1946 is one of the major archaeological discoveries of our time Apparently the library of a Gnostic community in late antiquity the codices are a repository of important spiritual materials from throughout the ancient world Hence a thorough analysis of this new material is indispensable for any proper understanding of the history of religions in this period The rich documentation which the codices add to early Coptic text material promises to raise to a new precision the historical analysis of that language This edition presents collotype reproductions in natural size of all folios of the thirteen codices as well as reproductions of the covers and photographs previously taken of fragments that are now lost The Influence of the Gospel of Saint Matthew on Christian Literature Before Saint Irenaeus: The first ecclesiastical writers Edouard Massaux, 1990 Parabolic Figures or Narrative Fictions? Charles W. Hedrick, 2016-06-10 Hedrick contends that parables do not teach moral and religious lessons they are not in whole or part theological figures for the church Rather parables are realistic narrative fictions that like all effective fiction literature are designed to draw readers into story worlds where they make discoveries about themselves by finding their ideas challenged and subverted or affirmed The parables have endings but not final resolutions because the endings raise new complications for careful readers which require further resolution The narrative contexts and interpretations supplied by the evangelists constitute an attempt by the early church to bring the secular narratives of Jesus under the control of the church's later religious perspectives Each narrative represents a fragment of Jesus's secular vision of reality Finding himself outside the mainstream of parables scholarship both ecclesiastical and critical Hedrick explored a literary approach to the parables in a series of essays that among other things set out the basic rationale for a literary approach to the parables of Jesus These early essays form the central section of the book They are published here in edited form along with unpublished critiques of a thoroughgoing literary approach and his response Gnostic Truth and Christian Heresy A. H. B. Logan, 1996-01-01 New Testament Apocrypha Wilhelm Schneemelcher, Robert McLachlan Wilson, 2005-07-28 Translation of Neutestamentliche Apokryphen Encyclopedia of Early Christianity Everett Ferguson, 2013-10-08 First published in 1997 What's new in the Second Edition Some 250 new

The Use of Scripture in the Apocryphon of John David Creech, 2017-08-01 David Creech explores at length the Apocryphon of John's ambivalent treatment of the Jewish and Christian scriptures Although Moses is explicitly corrected at five points in the text Genesis account of creation is nonetheless the basis for the Apocryphon's cosmogony and anthropogony Its uneven treatment of the biblical text is the result of a dispute between the authors of the Apocryphon and other early Catholics At the earliest stage of the text the Christians who wrote and read the Apocryphon worshiped alongside other early catholic Christians without any sense of contradiction or inconsistency The key shift in the Apocryphon occurred after Irenaeus of Lyons' assault on Knowledge Falsely So Called In response to his concerted effort to bring the church under the authority of early catholic bishops the framers inserted corrections to Moses The corrections are primarily rhetorical and used to refute early catholic identity markers
