Naked Life:

Naked Agency Naminata Diabate, 2020-03-06 Across Africa mature women have for decades mobilized the power of their nakedness in political protest to shame and punish male adversaries This insurrectionary nakedness often called genital cursing owes its cultural potency to the religious belief that spirits residing in women's bodies can be unleashed to cause misfortune in their targets including impotence disease and death In Naked Agency Naminata Diabate analyzes these collective female naked protests in Africa and beyond to broaden understandings of agency and vulnerability Drawing on myriad cultural texts from social media and film to journalism and fiction Diabate uncovers how women create spaces of resistance during socio political duress including such events as the 2011 protests by Ivoirian women in C te d Ivoire and Paris as well as women's disrobing in Soweto to prevent the destruction of their homes Through the concept of naked agency Diabate explores fluctuating narratives of power and victimhood to challenge simplistic accounts of African women's helplessness and to show how they exercise political power in the biopolitical era Naked Shameless Human and FREE Izaera, 2024-01-14 There are eight billion people on this planet and the idea or box of NORMAL that we try to live in is as varied as there are people Who has the authority to tell us how to behave It's not natural it's not right and it causes stress and illness for far too many humans This book is a guide to finding freedom and understanding how to understand ourselves It's a guide to becoming human being and enjoying life The Politics of Bodies at Risk Maria Boikova

Struble, 2019-03-13 An understanding of International Relations exclusively as a sphere plagued by countless known and unknown risks looming disasters and imminent threats leaves an important aspect of the study of politics unengaged that of the human herself The Politics of Bodies at Risk re engages and re conceptualizes politics from the point of view of the everyday experiences of human materiality living with risk across geopolitical worlds and state borders Re imagining human bodies as productive singular and embodied materiality removes them from an understanding of life in an age of terror as pejorative dispensable and burdensome enabling a novel understanding of politics as an embodiment of human bodies with risk and not as a sphere of activity aimed primarily at managing silencing and normalizing the risky other Drawing on case studies from several countries and across several disciplines The Politics of Bodies at Risk investigates the possibility of developing an understanding of the productive possibilities contained in engaging with the human body as a site of a radical interconnectedness between politics singularity risk and security Means Without End Giorgio Agamben, 2000 In this critical rethinking of the categories of politics within a new sociopolitical and historical context the distinguished political philosopher Giorgio Agamben builds on his previous work to address the status and nature of politics itself Bringing politics face to face with its own failures of consciousness and consequence Agamben frames his analysis in terms of clear contemporary relevance He proposes in his characteristically allusive and intriguing way a politics of gesture a politics of means without end International Handbook of Philosophy of Education Paul Smeyers, 2018-06-09 This handbook presents a comprehensive introduction to the core areas of philosophy of education combined with an up to date selection of the central themes It includes 95 newly commissioned articles that focus on and advance key arguments each essay incorporates essential background material serving to clarify the history and logic of the relevant topic examining the status quo of the discipline with respect to the topic and discussing the possible futures of the field The book provides a state of the art overview of philosophy of education covering a range of topics Voices from the present and the past deals with 36 major figures that philosophers of education rely on Schools of thought addresses 14 stances including Eastern Indigenous and African philosophies of education as well as religiously inspired philosophies of education such as Jewish and Islamic Revisiting enduring educational debates scrutinizes 25 issues heavily debated in the past and the present for example care and justice democracy and the curriculum New areas and developments addresses 17 emerging issues that have garnered considerable attention like neuroscience videogames and radicalization The collection is relevant for lecturers teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in philosophy of education as well as for colleagues in teacher training Moreover it helps junior researchers in philosophy of education to situate the problems they are addressing within the wider field of philosophy of education and offers a valuable update for experienced scholars dealing with issues in the sub discipline Combined with different conceptions of the purpose of philosophy it discusses various aspects using diverse perspectives to do so Contributing Editors Section 1 Voices from the Present and the Past Nuraan Davids Section 2 Schools of Thought Christiane Thompson and Joris Vlieghe Section 3 Revisiting Enduring Debates Ann Chinnery Naomi Hodgson and Viktor Johansson Section 4 New Areas and Developments Kai Horsthemke Dirk Willem Postma and Claudia Ruitenberg

Church, Gospel, and Empire Roger Haydon Mitchell, 2011-11-15 This book addresses the apparent dislocation of the church and theology from the socio cultural mainstream and attempts to recover its counterpolitical voice It argues that early in ecclesiastical history the tradition's founding and constituent principles were betrayed by a complicity with the prevailing politics of sovereignty that has continued to this day Following the contours of contemporary theologians who explain the dislocation in terms of a fall in early modernity an initial subsumption of transcendence by sovereignty is proposed The genealogy of this fall is then explored in four historical studies focusing on the theopolitical transformations of law violence and appeasement from their beginnings in the writings of Eusebius of Caesarea to their culmination in the commodification of life itself The trajectory is traced through seminal soteriological developments such as the crusade theology of Pope Innocent III the inversion of the corpus verum and the corpus mysticum and the conjunction of sovereignty and capital in the mysterious currency of the Bank of England The narrative culminates in the seemingly paradoxical concurrence of the politics of biopower and the so called century of the Holy Spirit Drawing on a radical substratum intimated in the case studies the final section develops an innovative christological configuration of kenosis or what is termed kenarchy This provides a re imagining of the divine distinct from its implication with imperial sovereignty which could allow theology to make a more effective contemporary political intervention

The Excessive Subject Molly Anne Rothenberg, 2010 In The Excessive Subject A New Theory of Social Change Molly Anne Rothenberg uncovers an innovative theory of social change implicit in the writings of radical social theorists such as Pierre Bourdieu Michel de Certeau Judith Butler Ernesto Laclau and Slavoj Žižek Through case studies of these writers work Rothenberg illuminates how this new theory calls into question currently accepted views of social practices subject formation democratic interaction hegemony political solidarity revolutionary acts and the ethics of alterity Finding a common dissatisfaction with the dominant paradigms of social structures in the authors she discusses Rothenberg goes on to show that each of these thinkers makes use of Lacan's investigations of the causality of subjectivity in an effort to find an alternative paradigm Labeling this paradigm extimate causality Rothenberg demonstrates how it produces a nondeterminacy so that every subject bears some excess paradoxically this excess is what structures the social field itself Whilst other theories of social change subject formation and political alliance invariably conceive of the elimination of this excess as necessary to their projects the theory of extimate causality makes clear that it is ineradicable To imagine otherwise is to be held hostage to a politics of fantasy As she examines the importance as well as the limitations of theories that put extimate causality to work Rothenberg reveals how the excess of the subject promises a new theory of social change By bringing these prominent thinkers together for the first time in one volume this landmark text will be sure to ignite debate among scholars in the field as well as being an indispensable tool for students

Sovereign Lives Jenny Edkins, Michael J. Shapiro, Veronique Pin-Fat, 2012-10-02 For International Relations scholars discussions of globalization inevitably turn to questions of sovereignty How much control does a country have over its borders people and economy Where does that authority come from Sovereign Lives explores these changes through reading of humanitarian intervention human rights discourses securitization refugees the fragmentation of identities and the practices of development

Agamben and Radical Politics McLoughlin Daniel McLoughlin, 2016-06-01 These 12 essays give you new perspectives on how Agamben's work is increasingly relevant to economy and political action the two ideas that frame the most pressing problems of global politics New analyses of Agamben's recent work on government and his relationship to the revolutionary tradition opening up new ways of thinking about politics and critical theory in the post financial crisis world Contributors Daniel McLoughlin Giorgio Agamben Jason E Smith Jessica Whyte Justin Clemens Mathew Abbott Miguel Vatter Nicholas Heron Sergei Prozorov Simone Bignall Steven DeCaroli

the relations among intellectual history cultural history and critical theory examining the recent rise of Practice Theory and probing the limitations of prevalent forms of humanism LaCapra focuses on the problem of understanding extreme cases specifically events and experiences involving violence and victimization He asks how historians treat and are simultaneously implicated in the traumatic processes they attempt to represent In addressing these questions he also investigates violence s impact on various types of writing and establishes a distinctive role for critical theory in the face of an insufficiently discriminating aesthetic of the sublime often unreflectively amalgamated with the uncanny In History and Its Limits LaCapra inquires into the related phenomenon of a turn to the postsecular even the messianic or the miraculous in recent theoretical discussions of extreme events by such prominent figures as Giorgio Agamben Eric L Santner and Slavoj Zizek In a related vein he discusses Martin Heidegger s evocative if not enchanting understanding of The Origin of the Work of Art LaCapra subjects to critical scrutiny the sometimes internally divided way in which violence has been valorized in sacrificial regenerative or redemptive terms by a series of important modern intellectuals on both the far right and the far left including Georges Sorel the early Walter Benjamin Georges Bataille Frantz Fanon and Ernst J nger Violence and victimization are prominent in the relation between the human and the animal LaCapra questions prevalent anthropocentrism evident even in theorists of the posthuman and the long standing quest for a decisive criterion separating or dividing the human from the animal LaCapra regards this attempt to fix the difference as misguided and potentially dangerous because it renders insufficiently problematic the manner in which humans treat other animals and interact with the environment In raising the issue of desirable transformations in modernity History and Its Limits examines the legitimacy of normative limits necessary for life in common and explores the disconcerting role of transgressive initiatives beyond limits including limits blocking the recognition that humans are themselves animals

Accessibility, Inclusion, and Diversity in Critical Event Studies Rebecca Finkel, Briony Sharp, Majella Sweeney, 2018-09-14 Most early social research into planned events had the effect of broadcasting narratives of dominant cultures and privileged groups More recently however convergences of gender sexualities ethnicities age class religion and intersectional analyses and events studies have started to drive new critical understanding of the impacts of events on non mainstream non majority communities around the globe This timely book addresses current gaps in the literature surrounding issues of accessibility inclusion and diversity in various event landscapes Structured into four parts covering the main types of events the chapters present original topics using innovative methodological approaches Each chapter employs a case study to illustrate the key intertwining issues in these various experiential realms Further the chapters are all cross or interdisciplinary drawing on gender sexualities cultural race ethnicity studies as well as multiple literatures that feed into critical events studies and exploring a variety of global examples This significant book opens the path to further research on the role and importance of accessibility inclusion and diversity in events environments worldwide It will be of interest to academics and researchers of critical event studies as well

Jeal,2010-03-08 This collection of essays was originally presented at the St Margaret's Consultation on Doctrine Liturgy and Preaching held at St Margaret's Anglican Church in Winnipeg Canada in 2008 They consider human sexuality and marriage from a distinctly theological rather than polemical standpoint aiming to avoid frequently polarized debates The interesting commonality indicated in the articles is that sex and marriage are not about self fulfillment but are outwardly directed aimed toward the other person toward growth maturity and deepened spirituality for the benefit of the church for productive good and for children The first section explores theological and ethical issues surrounding human sexuality and aims toward understanding the nature of relationships in these contexts The second section explores the spiritual nature of marriage and the history of thinking on marriage and family within Christian theology For those interested in pursuing truly theological engagement with marriage and sexuality this collection is required reading

Security, Risk and the Biometric State Benjamin Muller, 2010-02-25 This book examines a series of questions associated with the increasing application and implications of biometrics in contemporary everyday life In the wake of the events of 9 11 the reliance on increasingly sophisticated and invasive technologies across a burgeoning field of applications has accelerated giving rise to the term biometric state This book explores how these virtual borders are created and the effect they have upon the politics of citizenship and immigration especially how they contribute to the treatment of citizens as suspects Finally and most importantly this text argues that the rationale of governing through risk facilitates pre emptory logics a negligent attitude towards false positives and an overall proliferation of borders and ubiquitous risk which becomes integral to contemporary everyday life far beyond the confined politics of national borders and frontiers By focusing on specific sites such as virtual borders in airports trusted traveller programs like the NEXUS program and those delivered by airlines and supported by governmental authorities TSA and CATSA respectively this book raises critical questions about the emerging biometric state and its commitment and constitution vis vis technology of governing through risk This book will be of interest to students of biopolitics critical security surveillance studies and International Relations in general Benjamin J Muller is assistant professor in International Relations at Simon Fraser University Burnaby Canada He completed his PhD in the School of Politics and International Studies at Queen s University Belfast Northern Ireland in 2005

20th Century Aesthetics Mario Perniola, 2012-12-06 In our contemporary age aesthetics seems to crumble and no longer be reducible to a coherent image And yet given the vast amount of works in aesthetics produced in the last hundred years this age could be defined the century of aesthetics 20th Century Aesthetics is a new account of international aesthetic thought by Mario Perniola one of Italy s leading contemporary thinkers Starting from four conceptual fields life form knowledge action Perniola identifies the lines of aesthetic reflection that derive from them and elucidates them with reference to major authors from Dilthey to Foucault aesthetics of life from W lfflin to McLuhan and Lyotard aesthetics of form from Croce to Goodman aesthetics and knowledge from Dewey to Bloom aesthetics and action There is also a fifth one that touches on the sphere of affectivity and emotionality and which comes to aesthetics from thinkers like Freud Heidegger Wittgenstein Lacan Derrida and Deleuze The volume concludes with an extensive sixth chapter on Japanese Chinese Indian Islamic Brazilian South Korean and South East Asian aesthetic thought and on the present decline of Western aesthetic sensibility

The Migrant Image T. J. Demos, 2013-03-04 In The Migrant Image T J Demos examines the ways contemporary artists have reinvented documentary practices in their representations of mobile lives refugees migrants the stateless and the politically dispossessed He presents a sophisticated analysis of how artists from the United States Europe North Africa and the Middle East depict the often ignored effects of globalization and the ways their works connect viewers to the lived experiences of political and economic crisis Demos investigates the cinematic approaches Steve McQueen the Otolith Group and Hito Steyerl employ to blur the real and imaginary in their films confronting geopolitical conflicts between North and South He analyzes how Emily Jacir and Ahlam Shibli use blurs lacuna and blind spots in their photographs performances and conceptual strategies to directly address the dire circumstances of dislocated Palestinian people He discusses the disparate interventions of Walid Raad in Lebanon Ursula Biemann in North Africa and Ayreen Anastas and Rene Gabri in the United States and traces how their works offer images of conflict as much as a conflict of images Throughout Demos shows the ways these artists creatively propose new possibilities for a politics of equality social justice and historical consciousness from within the aesthetic domain
