Sex and Difference in Ancient Greece and Rome Mark Golden, 2019-07-30 This volume collects and introduces some of the best writing on sexual behaviour and gender differences in ancient Greece and Rome including four chapters newly translated from German and French For centuries discussions of sexuality and gender in the ancient world if they took place at all focussed on how the roles and spheres of the sexes were divided While men occupied the public sphere of the community ranged through the Greek and Roman worlds and participated in politics courts theatre and sport women kept to the home Sex occupied a separate sphere in scholarly terms restricted to specialists in ancient medicine And then the subjects were transformed first by Sir Kenneth Dover then by Michel Foucault This book charts and illustrates the extraordinary evolution of scholarly investigation of a once hidden aspect of the ancient world In doing so it sheds light on fascinating and curious aspects of ancient lives and thought Gender in Archaeology Sarah M. Burial and Social Change in First Millennium BC Italy Elisa Perego,Rafael Scopacasa,2016-11-30 In the first millennium BC communities in Italy underwent crucial transformations which scholars have often subsumed under the heading of state formation namely increased social stratification the centralization of political power and in some cases urbanization Most research has tended to approach the phenomenon of state formation and social change in relation to specific territorial dynamics of growth and expansion changing modes of exploitation of food and other resources over time and the adoption of selected socio ritual practices by the ruling elites in order to construct and negotiate authority In contrast comparatively little attention has been paid to the question of how these key developments resonated across the broader social transect and how social groups other than ruling elites both promoted these changes and experienced their effects The chief aim of this collection of 14 papers is to harness innovative approaches to the exceptionally rich mortuary evidence of first millennium BC Italy in order to investigate the roles and identities of social actors who either struggled for power and social recognition or were manipulated and exploited by superior authorities in a phase of tumultuous sociopolitical change throughout the entire Mediterranean basin Contributors provide a diverse range of approaches in order to examine how power operated in society how it was exercised and resisted and how this can be studied through mortuary evidence Section 1 addresses the construction of identity by focusing mainly on the manipulation of age ethnic and gender categories in society in regions and sites that reached notable power and splendor in first millennium BC Italy These include Etruria Latium Campania and the rich settlement of Verucchio in Emilia Romagna Each paper in Section 2 offers a counterpoint to a contribution in Section 1 with an overall emphasis on scholarly multivocality and the multiplicity of the theoretical approaches that can be used to read the archaeological evidence

Gender and the Body in Greek and Roman Sculpture Rosemary J. Barrow,Michael Silk,2018-10-11 Offers analysis of selected works of ancient art through a critical use of cutting edge theory from gender studies body studies and art history Public Feminism in Times of Crisis Leila Easa,Jennifer Stager,2022-07-26 Public Feminism in Times of Crisis examines the public practice of feminism in the age of social media While their concept of public feminism emerges from a moment of acute crisis the Trump years and the Covid 19 pandemic Leila Easa and Jennifer Stager locate its foundations in history journeying through broad swatches of time looking for connections between the centuries through art and literature and culture Each chapter focuses on what public feminists do in the world Public feminists gain control over an archive that otherwise contains or excludes them they recover their own stories and subjective experiences sometimes for activist use they examine images and language that construct women in patriarchal texts they situate the individual within a collective and the collective within an individual they confront the limitations of such situating due to the containment of patriarchy and reclaim new systems of power in response and they resurface a deep history for the alternative strategies of memorializing they employ In navigating these practices the authors also attend to the material conditions of writing histories as well as those shaping and enabling public feminist acts and protests more broadly
