F. Delderfield, 2002-03-04 The masterful saga of Bonaparte's twenty six military Marshals by Napoleonic authority Delderfield is set against the dramatic backdrop of the French Revolution Napoleon's rise and his conquests and the restoration of the Bourbon monarchs Napoleon and the Marshals of the Empire, Vol. 1 (Classic Reprint) Rufus Wilmot Griswold, 2017-05-26 Excerpt from Napoleon and the Marshals of the Empire Vol 1 The view which a commercial and industrial age takes of war is perhaps as far removed from permanent truth as that which a military society entertains respecting trade and mechanics To one who gets beyond the feelings and theories of a particular age and country and looks upon the history of the world from an abstract and positive point of view war must present itself as one of the great and regular agents of providential operation and one of the established and permanent conditions of human society Upon this subject we must keep the distinction which the Author of all truth has taught us to make between the qualities of his conduct by whom events come and the character of those events as appointed and indispensable parts of God's benignant providence to men The same act may be a crime in him who does it and a blessing to all who partake of it the same occurrence may be a millstone upon the conscience of its author and a life giving source of goodness and strength and happiness to all who come within its influences The wickedness of him by whom war comes is no stain upon the glory of the war when it has come nor upon the virtues of those who are concerned About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works generations to enjoy Napoleon's Undefeated Marshal Martin Sullivan,2024-12-31 The war of 1809 between France and Habsburg Austria culminating in the titanic battle of Wagram has been described often as Napoleon s last successful campaign Napoleon said later that the manoeuvres and actions of the French army and their German allies in the opening two weeks of this conflict were among the most brilliant and skilful of his entire career But matters might have gone very differently A series of miscalculations mistakes and poor communications both prior to Austria s declaration of war and in the early days of hostilities might have resulted in a major setback if not a disaster for the French Emperor That they did not is due in large part to the decisions and actions of Marshal Louis Davout the so called Iron Marshall This is the first English study of Marshal Davout s command and leadership in over fifty years Little known outside of France Louis Davout was one of the finest generals in Napoleon s army as evidenced by his comprehensive defeat of the main Prussian force at Auerstadt in October 1806 A hard even harsh disciplinarian an utterly ruthless opponent on the field of battle Davout was also a loving family man meticulously concerned for the health and well being of his troops and able to command the loyalty of his divisional commanders for far longer than any of his contemporaries In this new study Martin Sullivan describes in detail the decision making processes and actions of Marshal Davout and from this analysis illustrates leadership concepts and theories which remain relevant to the world of today Focusing upon the opening phase of the Wagram campaign he examines in detail the decisions and actions of the participants Davout his opponent the Archduke Charles and Napoleon himself By this method the art of leadership may be seen exercised in the heat of an intense and deadly conflict Napoleon and the Marshals of the Empire

Napoleon and His Marshals of the Empire ... J. T. Headley,1875 Napoleon's Marshals R. P. Dunn-Pattison,2011-03 The careers of the first men of the First Empire The rank of Marshal of France was the highest military rank within the armies of the Bourbons in the days before the French Revolution tore down the aristocratic establishment and signalled a period of change where citizens could rise on merit rather than as a right of birth Revolution turned to Consulate and under the seemingly invincible and unstoppable influence of Napoleon Bonaparte to Empire In 1804 Napoleon reinstated the rank as the highest attainable by his officers and he knew his ambitious soldiers well for many fought and died driven by the idea that every soldier carried a marshal s baton in his knapsack the opportunity to advance in status and wealth for those who might rise to Napoleon s challenge no matter how lowly their origins Between 1804 and 1815 Napoleon created twenty six Marshals They were the men upon whom he would depend for victory on the battlefield or whilst conducting campaigns on their own All cherished their positions and the power influence and wealth that came with them All sought to maintain what they had won and this resulted in jealousies and actions often contrary to their masters best interests They were men who had come from all levels of society of mixed talents some brave as lions others timid and cautious the clever and the simply methodical the fiercely loyal and those ready for betrayal at a moment of personal advantage Some essentially had a talent for attracting good luck an essential trait in the Napoleonic assessment Here are the origins victories defeats and fates of the men who for more than a decade set Europe ablaze in an orgy of fire and blood at the behest of their master Augereau Grouchy Macdonald Massena Moncey Murat Perignon Poniatowski Soult Victor and sixteen more of Napoleon's men Available in softcover and hardback with dustjacket for collectors The Gentleman's Magazine ,1804 The United Service Magazine ,1856 Europe, 1789-1815 Henry Morse Stephens,1893 Revolutionary Europe, 1789-1815 Henry Morse Stephens,1900
