Napoleon in Egypt Paul Strathern, 2009-09-15 In 1798 Napoleon Bonaparte only twenty eight set sail for Egypt with 335 ships 40 000 soldiers and a collection of scholars artists and scientists to establish an eastern empire He saw himself as a liberator freeing the Egyptians from oppression But Napoleon wasn't the first nor the last who tragically misunderstood Muslim culture Marching across seemingly endless deserts in the shadow of the pyramids pushed to the limits of human endurance his men would be plagued by mirages suicides and the constant threat of ambush A crusade begun in honor would degenerate into chaos And yet his grand failure also yielded a treasure trove of knowledge that paved the way for modern Egyptology and it tempered the complex leader who believed himself destined to conquer the world

The Forgotten War Against Napoleon Gareth Glover, 2017-06-30 A comprehensive look at the Mediterranean and adjacent territories a largely forgotten theatre of the very long Anglo French war New York Military Affairs Symposium The campaigns fought against Napoleon in the Iberian Peninsula in France Germany Italy and Russia and across the rest of Europe have been described and analyzed in exhaustive detail yet the history of the fighting in the Mediterranean has rarely been studied as a separate theater of the conflict Gareth Glover sets this right with a compelling account of the struggle on land and at sea for control of a region that was critical for the outcome of the Napoleonic Wars The story of this twenty year conflict is illustrated with numerous quotes from a large number of primary sources many of which are published here for the first time This is a well researched and well written account of the most complex long term military commitment for Britain during the Napoleonic Wars involving multiple theatres spread out over a large area cooperation between the Navy and the Army an ever changing cast of senior officers opponents and allies often made more complex by the time taken to get messages from London to the officers in the field History of War Coming into View Joseph H.
