Nara Colour Series:

The Girls Next Door Kara Dixon Vuic, 2019-02-04 The story of the intrepid young women who volunteered to help and entertain American servicemen fighting overseas from World War I through the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq The emotional toll of war can be as debilitating to soldiers as hunger disease and injury Beginning in World War I in an effort to boost soldiers morale and remind them of the stakes of victory the American military formalized a recreation program that sent respectable young women and famous entertainers overseas Kara Dixon Vuic builds her narrative around the young women from across the United States many of whom had never traveled far from home who volunteered to serve in one of the nation's most brutal work environments From the Lassies in France and mini skirted coeds in Vietnam to Marlene Dietrich and Marilyn Monroe Vuic provides a fascinating glimpse into wartime gender roles and the tensions that continue to complicate American women's involvement in the military arena The recreation program volunteers heightened the passions of troops but also domesticated everyday life on the bases Their presence mobilized support for the war back home while exporting American culture abroad Carefully recruited and selected as symbols of conventional femininity these adventurous young women saw in the theater of war a bridge between public service and private ambition This story of the women who talked and listened danced and sang adds an intimate chapter to the history of war and its ties to life in peacetime Proceedings of the Asiatic Society (Calcutta, India), 1893

Alliance of the Colored Peoples Joseph Calvitt Clarke, 2011 A detailed examination of Ethiopian Japanese relations from their beginnings in the interwar period through the Italo Ethiopian War of 1935 drawing on Japanese Russian Italian French and English sources With the Japanese posing as the leader of the world's colored peoples before World War II many Ethiopians turned to Japan for inspiration By offering them commercial opportunities by seeking their military support and by reaching out to popular Japanese opinion Ethiopians tried to soften the stark reality of a stronger Italy encroaching on their country Europeans feared Japan's growing economic and political influence in the colonial world Jealously guarding its claimed rights in Ethiopia against all comers among Italy's reasons for going to war was the perceived need to blunt Japan's commercial and military advances into Northeast Africa Meanwhile throughout 1934 and the summer of 1935 Moscow worked hard and in ways contrary to its claimed ideological imperatives to make Collective Security work Ethiopia was a small price to pay Italy for cooperation against Nazi Germany in Austria and Imperial Japan in China Yellow Japanese and black Ethiopian collaboration before the war illuminates the pernicious and flexible use of race in international diplomacy In odious terms Italians used race to justify their actions as defending western and white civilization The Japanese used race to explain their tilt toward Ethiopia The Soviets used race to justify their support for Italy until late 1935 Ethiopia used race to attract help and colored peoples worldwide rallied to Ethiopia's call J Calvitt Clarke III is Professor Emeritus of History at Jacksonville University Florida Proceedings of the Asiatic Society of Bengal ,1893

The 36th Infantry United States Colored Troops in the Civil War James K. Bryant, II, 2014-01-02

During the Civil War African American war correspondent Thomas Morris Chester was so inspired by the men of the 36th United States Colored Troops that he declared the group to be a model regiment. Composed primarily of former slaves recruited from Union occupied areas of eastern North Carolina and southeastern Virginia, the 36th USCT participated in large scale expeditions to liberate slaves, guarded Confederate prisoners at major POW camps, served in the trenches before Petersburg and Richmond, and stood as one of the first units to enter the abandoned Confederate capital on April 3, 1865. This volume, which includes a complete regimental roster, explores the background of these former slaves and their families, examines their initial recruitment, and chronicles their military contributions throughout the war. More than a unit history, the story of the 36th USCT offers a vivid portrait of the challenging transition from slavery to freedom.

Men of Color to Arms! Elizabeth D. Leonard, 2010-08-23. The story of the black soldiers who helped save the Union, conquer the West, and build the nation. In 1863, at the height of the Civil War, Frederick Douglass promised African Americans that serving in the military offered a sure path to freedom. Once a black man became a soldier, Douglass declared, there is no power on earth or under the earth which can deny that he has earned the right to citizenship in the United States. More than 180,000 black men heeded his call to defend the Union, only to find that the path to equality would not be so straightforward. In this sharply drawn history, Professor Elizabeth D. Leonard reveals the aspirations and achievements, as well as the setbacks and disappointments, of African American soldiers. Drawing on eye-opening firsthand accounts, she restores black soldiers to their place in the arc of American history from the Civil War and its promise of freedom until the dawn of the 20th century and the full retrenchment of Jim Crow. Along the way, Leonard offers a nuanced account of black soldiers' involvement in the Indian Wars, their attempts to desegregate West Point, and gain proper recognition for their service, and their experience of Reconstruction nationally as blacks worked to secure their place in an ever-changing nation. With abundant primary research enlivened by memorable characters and vivid descriptions of army life, Men of Color to Arms is an illuminating portrait of a group of men whose contributions to American history need to be further recognized.
