Narrative And Imagination Preaching The Worlds That Shape Us:

Narrative & Imagination Richard L. Eslinger, 1995 Eslinger's book provides a short course on narrative hermeneutics and imagination theory along with a proposal for integrating the two in preaching Kiwimade Narrative Sermons Myk Habets, 2015-01-29 This collection of over forty narrative sermons illustrate the science and art of taking a text of Scripture almost any text and crafting it into a narrative that effectively and affectively communicates the content of Holy Scripture in ways that impact the congregation Spanning the canon of Holy Scripture the present volume represents a snapshot of current preaching by Baptist women and men from Aotearoa New Zealand in an attempt to teach by illustration what narrative sermons may look like and to model the potential they have to communicate God's Word written Originally preached to a diverse range of congregations each sermon has been re-written for publication and illustrates biblical fidelity imaginative creativity and contextual sensitivity Kiwimade Narrative Sermons is a key resource text for classes on homiletics a refresher course for seasoned ministers of the Word and a devotional aid in its own right Transforming Culture Christine Gunn-Danforth, 2009-01-01 This book introduces Jonahre a Biblically based Prophetic Imagination cinematic genre Jonahre can be implemented by following a three phase interdisciplinary process that allows production teams to submit their content intent style and format to reflect a Biblical pattern of storytelling and establish an alternative consciousness with the audience When implemented this process creates a powerful tool for transforming culture by combining communication theory and theology into a mold for communicating Spirit filled messages via moving image media The first in a trilogy of Jonahre films will be released November 2009 Preaching with All You've Got David Day, 2006 Becoming a Living Sermon Beyond spoken words what is it that really helps preachers get their message across Seasoned pastor and preaching professor David Day explores the ways in which preachers may embody their messages in their own person in the words they use through the use of objects pictures literature and drama and in the response of their audience An eloquent and compelling volume suitable for communicators from a broad range of Christian denominations it offers a practical workbook of ideas that preachers can begin using in their very next sermon FEATURES Contains many helpful examples case studies excerpts from real addresses and two or three exercises in each chapter Great as a classroom supplementary textbook Books on preaching are full of good advice writes Day This book is bursting with good ideas and inspiration but I would not call it advice It is far too refreshing and amusing to be called advice With a practical array of shalts and shalt nots both the experienced preacher and the learner will be spurred to hone their art not just that of delivering communication but of enabling transformation When it comes to preaching Day is keen to communicate propositions through pictures and theory through experience Embodying the Word does not simply describe how to do it it embodies the technique itself through countless examples and illustrations The Revd Dr Jo Bailey Wells Associate Professor of the Practice of Ministry and Bible Director of Anglican Studies Duke Divinity School Pitfalls in Preaching Richard Eslinger, 1996 Richard Eslinger discusses with insight humor and concision what he sees as the most critical pitfalls in the various contexts of preaching and offers practical strategies for avoiding them

A Reader on Preaching David Day, 2017-09-08 Every Sunday all over the world people rise up and claim to speak in the name of God It is an astonishing thing to do and an astonishing claim to make It is small wonder that the sermon has been the focus of debate discussion and investigation It has been dismissed as irrelevant in today's culture and has become the butt of numerous jokes and caricatures Yet the claim persists that these human words in some way can become God's message to these hearers This collection of twenty nine articles by international experts in the area of homiletics coincides with the revival of interest in preaching over the last twenty five years It is practical without being merely tips for preachers and it offers the necessary theoretical discussion for anyone who wants to take the art of preaching seriously No important issue has been omitted and taken as a whole the book constitutes a first class introduction to the principles processes context and theology of preaching Contributors include Walter Brueggemann David Buttrick Fred Craddock Edward Farley John Killinger Richard Lischer Thomas Long Elaine Lawless Jolyon Mitchell Cheryl Sanders and Thomas Troeger

Professional Chaplaincy and Clinical Pastoral Education Should Become More Scientific Larry Van De Creek, 2013-04-03 Does the scientific process belong in pastoral counseling Professional Chaplaincy and Clinical Pastoral Education Should Become More Scientific Yes and No examines the widespread ambivalence among pastoral caregivers and educators over the growing inclusion of science in pastoral care and counseling methodologies Twenty three seasoned professionals in the field give candid and sometimes emotional accounts of their interest in and reservations about the role scientific research plays in their profession Some authors look at the issue from a historical perspective others voice additional concerns A few make concrete proposals on how chaplaincy can become more scientific The result is a unique insight into the relationship between the secular and the religious The question of whether science belongs in pastoral care and counseling is moot pastoral care already makes extensive use of psychological testing and psychotherapeutic skills all products of scientific thinking But as technology becomes more dominant and health care delivery reflects a more corporate perspective pastoral caregivers and educators are divided on whether the changes represent the significant opportunity to improve a ministry or the surrender of the ministry's very essence The essays collected in Professional Chaplaincy and Clinical Pastoral Education Should Become More Scientific Yes and No go a step farther breaking down the issue of faith versus science into more specific questions for pastoral caregivers such as Can what you do be measured Do you have an obligation to embrace the challenge of change Is becoming more scientific a necessity for staying in touch with your health care peers How cost effective is the pastoral care you provide if it doesn't include the scientific process Could a reluctance to incorporate science into your counseling cost you your job Professional Chaplaincy and Clinical Pastoral Education Should Become More Scientific Yes and No presents thoughtful and thought provoking debate that is a must read for all pastoral caregivers and educators preachers trying to find ways to effectively communicate with those who increasingly identify as the nones i.e. those who aren't sure what to make of God and/or Christianity including those who believe in God some of the time or none of the time or all of the time which Snider tends to think includes all of us some of the time and some of us all of the time By drawing on the insights of several prominent postmodern theologians and philosophers Snider provides possibilities for preaching that highly resonate with postmodern listeners who are often suspect of religion Six lectionary based sermons are included as examples www.philsnider.net

Metamorphosis Sarah Travis, 2019-07-30 Post Christendom Christian leaders and preachers in North America struggle to respond to anxiety and despair about the future of the church Declining participation fewer resources decreased influence and confusion about pastoral and ecclesial identity lead to fear for the survival of the institutional church Preaching must speak to the despair and confusion faced by congregations today as well as cast a hopeful vision for an uncertain future This book argues that preachers can change the narrative of the church post Christendom by urging an exit from Christendom ecclesiology and promoting the construction of an identity that embraces vulnerability and incarnation instead of power and permanence Counterintuitively failure decrease and marginalization constitute good news for the church Through wide ranging conversation partners including postcolonial theory and theology social science systematic theology and homiletic literature this book engages preachers and scholars who seek to reimagine both gospel and ecclesial identity in order to bring new life to communities in despair Preachers participate in a process of metamorphosis in which the church's self understanding is transformed into a vulnerable incarnate community that leaves behind the character of Christendom

Making a Scene in the Pulpit Alyce M. McKenzie, 2018-10-23 How can preachers ensure that their sermons continue to engage listeners in a world defined by visual media and the short segmented delivery of information Alyce McKenzie harnesses the element of drama and the human fascination with scenes to offer ministers a modern means of sermon development and delivery McKenzie's core strategy is to invite listeners into scenes whether from Scripture or contemporary life and once they are there to point them toward the larger story of God's relationship with humankind Creating such scenes unifies the whole process of preaching she says from the preacher's daily life observations to interpretation of scenes from Scripture to sermon shaping sequencing and delivery The process culminates in a specific understanding of the purpose of the sermon to send listeners out into the scenes they'll play in their lives for the next week equipped to act out their parts in ways that are kinder more just and more courageous than last week
