practice in an engaging and relatable style Counseling and Psychotherapy Theories in Context and Practice is an illuminating text with outstanding practical value New Horizons in Multicultural Counseling Gerald Monk, John Winslade, Stacey Sinclair, 2008 This new book is based upon clinical practice teaching research and scholarly work undertaken over a period of 10 years The leading author wrote a doctoral dissertation on much of the material described in this book but until now it has only been published in scholarly articles within refereed journals Gerald Monk and John Winslade have jointly published three textbooks including Narrative therapy in practice The archaeology of hope Jossey Bass Narrative counseling in the schools Corwin Press and Narrative mediation Jossey Bass and numerous other publications Gerald Monk and Stacey Sinclair have jointly published two book chapters and three articles in widely disseminated referred journals Counseling Youth Tina (A.C.) Besley, 2019-04-09 Using the work of Foucault this study examines changing notions of the self and identity and how psychological and sociological discourses have conceptualized and constituted adolescence youth as the primary client in school counseling Case studies of mental hygiene films in the United States and a moral panic in New Zealand are used to examine how youth were morally constituted in the postwar period a time when guidance counseling emerged in Western countries such as the United States the United Kingdom Australia Canada and New Zealand The author uses Foucault's notion of governmentality to critically examine how counseling professionalized itself as a disciplinary body This book is targeted at practicing counselors counseling students and counselor theoreticians It will also find audiences with graduate students in youth studies and those interested in the work and applications of Michel Foucault One of the best things that I can say about this book is that it had a personal impact It nudged me into re thinking various aspects of my work It is a book that achieves a rare thing It talks about counseling young people without getting so caught up in the detail of practice that it loses sight of the big picture I believe that school counselors who engage with this work will find that their practice is never quite the same again They will be invited to think about things they have previously taken for granted and to listen to young people in new ways John Winslade Coordinator of Counselor Education California State University San Bernardino Co Author of Narrative Counseling in Schools Powerful Brief The Quick Theory Reference Guide Karin Jordan, 2007 Since the beginning of the concepts of family therapy mental health professionals have known that the family the system is a powerful source of support for change or a powerful force for resistance to change Some professionals work with individuals some with families and some with groups However all work with the context of the systems family group community country etc Students especially beginning students are overwhelmed and confused at the variety of approaches to working with clients Many programs introduce students to individual as well as systems concepts in the course of training Students need assistance in learning this variety of theories They need to be able to compare and contrast theories and techniques to determine when and where to utilise the best skills in order to facilitate client change Dr Karin Jordan has compiled a comprehensive text that enables the students to discover each theory as it is presented in its purist form The text is accessible yet the content provides comprehensive knowledge of each theory Dr Jordan has brought together the master educators and clinicians in our fields to write about their particular expertise      Therapeutic Processes for Communication Disorders Robert J. Fourie, 2010-11-25 Why do many people with disorders of communication experience a sense of demoralization Do these subjective experiences have any bearing on how such problems should be treated How can professionals dealing with speech language hearing and other communication disorders analyse and respond to the subjective and relational needs of clients with such problems In this book authors in the fields of communication disorders analyse the psychological social and linguistic processes and interactions that underpin clinical practice from both client and clinician perspectives The chapters demonstrate how it is possible to analyze and understand client clinician discourse using qualitative research and describe various challenges to establishing relationships such as cultural gender and age differences The authors go on to describe self care processes the therapeutic use of the self and various psychological factors that could be important for developing therapeutic relationships Also covered are the rarely considered topics of spirituality and transpersonal issues which may at times be relevant to clinicians working with clients who have debilitating degenerative and terminal illnesses associated with certain communication disorders While this book is geared toward the needs of practicing and training speech language and hearing clinicians other professional such as teachers of the deaf psychotherapists nurses and occupational therapists will find the ideas relevant interesting and easily translatable for use in their own clinical practice      Reader's Guide to the Social Sciences Jonathan Michie, 2014-02-03 This 2 volume work includes approximately 1 200 entries in A Z order critically reviewing the literature on specific topics from abortion to world systems theory In addition nine major entries cover each of the major disciplines political economy management and business human geography politics sociology law psychology organizational behavior and the history and development of the social sciences in a broader sense      Resources in Education , 1999-04      Girls in a Goldfish Bowl Rosalyn

George, 2007-01-01 What are the processes of exclusion and inclusion amongst girls friendship groups Can friendship and bullying coexist Is the leader in the class always the most popular member of the class What is the role of the teacher in consolidating group friendships How are culturally diverse friendships negotiated What impact does the process of transition from primary to secondary school have on existing friendship networks Through an exploration of the emotional and social dynamics of young girls friendship groups this book addresses these and other questions which are important in their lives The girls that feature in this book are inner city preadolescent girls as they transfer from their inner city primary school to their secondary schools The schools are all located within an urban context and represent the state and public sector of education The girls encompass the diversity of ethnicities that are found within large urban communities and how they negotiate and manage their friendships across ethnic divisions is a key aspect of this book By focussing on the constitution of the friendship groups questions of leadership and popularity race and ethnicity and bullying are interrogated and their
