Narrative Fissures Nita Schechet, 2005 Narrative Fissures Reading and Rhetoric is a guide to applied rhetorical criticism of narrative in diverse fields such as cultural studies ethnography psychotherapy historiography critical legal studies education communication and medicine     Reading Joss Whedon Rhonda V. Wilcox, Tanya R. Cochran, Cynthia Masson, David Lavery, 2014-05-16 In an age when geek chic has come to define mainstream pop culture few writers and producers inspire more admiration and response than Joss Whedon From Buffy the Vampire Slayer to Much Ado About Nothing from Dr Horrible's Sing Along Blog to The Avengers the works of Whedon have been the focus of increasing academic attention This collection of articles represents some of the best work covering a wide array of topics that clarify Whedon's importance including considerations of narrative and visual techniques myth construction symbolism gender heroism and the business side of television The editors argue that Whedon's work is of both social and aesthetic significance that he creates canonical television He is a master of his artistic medium and has managed this success on broadcast networks rather than on cable From the focus on a single episode to the exploration of an entire season from the discussion of a particular narrative technique to a recounting of the history of Whedon studies this collection will both entertain and educate those exploring Whedon scholarship for the first time and those planning to teach a course on his works     Gothic Stories Within Stories Clayton Carlyle Tarr, 2017-04-28 Frame narratives stories within stories are featured in nearly every canonical Gothic novel Sometimes dismissed as a shopworn convention of the genre frame narratives in fact function as a dynamic basis for imaginative variation and are vital to evaluating the diverse Gothic tradition The juxtaposition between the everyday frame world of the story and the disturbing embedded narrative allows the monstrous to escape textual confines forcing the reader to experience the reassurance of the ordinary alongside the horror of the uncanny     Disenthralling Ourselves Nita Schechet, 2009 Disenthralling Ourselves portrays contemporary Israel in a process of transition Jewish Israeli and Palestinian Israeli communities share a nation state divided by the separate truths of its conflicting fundamental narratives This book considers ways of converting those separate and antagonistic narratives from fuel for conflict to seeds of change Its purpose is to undo the convenient coherence of collective memory and master narratives through fostering a capacious moral imagination able to apprehend diverse even contentious stories and truths Contemporary Israel functions as a case study in an in depth and interdisciplinary exploration of conflict resolution viewing Jewish Israeli and Palestinian Israeli documentary film poetry fiction essays memoir peace initiatives and other elements of collective narrative building through a prism of three analogously themed Shakespearean plays This comparative methodology is integrated with theoretical perspectives on reconciliation resilience critical reflection and peace education in presenting concrete alternatives to the convenient comforts of the inimical master narratives that perpetuate what can now be seen as a hundred year war Book Jacket     The Many Voices of Europe Gisela Brinker-Gabler, Nicole Shea, 2020-01-20 This volume explores the rich evolving body of contemporary cultural practices that reflect on a European project of diversity new dynamics between and across cultures in Europe and its interactions with the world There have been calls across Europe for both traditional national identities and new forms of identity and community assertions of regionalized identity and declarations of multiculturalism and multilingualism These essays respond to this critical moment by analyzing the literature of migration as a re writing of European subjects They ask fundamental questions from a variety of theoretical and critical standpoints How do migrants write new identities into and against old national meta narratives How do they interrogate constructions of identity What kinds of literary experiments are emerging in this unstable context e g in the graphic novel and avant garde film This collection makes a unique contribution to contemporary European literary studies by taking an interdisciplinary transnational and comparative perspective thereby addressing readers from diverse disciplinary backgrounds and stimulating new research on the ambitious writing and thinking taking place across the borders of Europe today

The Music Libel Against the Jews Ruth HaCohen,2012-01-17 This deeply imaginative and wide ranging book shows how since the first centuries of the Christian era gentiles have associated Jews with noise Ruth HaCohen focuses her study on a musical libel a variation on the Passion story that recurs in various forms and cultures in which an innocent Christian boy is killed by a Jew in order to silence his harmonious musicality In paying close attention to how and where this libel surfaces HaCohen covers a wide swath of western cultural history showing how entrenched aesthetic theological assumptions have persistently defined European culture and its internal moral and political orientations Ruth HaCohen combines in her comprehensive analysis the perspectives of musicology literary criticism philosophy psychology and anthropology tracing the tensions between Jewish noise and idealized Christian harmony and their artistic manifestations from the high Middle Ages through Nazi Germany and beyond She concludes her book with a passionate and moving argument for humanizing contemporary soundspaces

The Men's Section Elana Maryles Sztokman,2011-11-08 A provocative look at the inner world of Orthodox Jewish men who attend partnership synagogues

Powerful Prose R. L. Victoria Pöhls,Mariane Utudji,2021-10-01 What makes a reading experience powerful This volume brings together literary scholars linguists and empirical researchers who tackle the question by investigating the effects and reader responses generated by selected extracts of literary prose The twelve contributions theorize this widely used but to date insufficiently studied notion and provide insights into the therefore still mysterious seeming power of literary fiction The collection explores a variety of stylistic as well as readerly and psychological features responsible for short and long term effects topics of great interest to those interested or specialized in literary studies and narratology cognitive stylistics empirical literary studies and reader response theory

Vitanza,2013-11-01 This collection of essays edited by Victor J Vitanza is a historiography of rhetoric summarizing what has recently been accomplished in the revision of traditional histories of rhetoric and discussing what might be accomplished in the future Featuring a variety of approaches classical revisionary and avant garde it includes articles by Janet M Atwill James A Berlin William A Covino Sharon Crowley Hans Kellner John Poulakos Takis Poulakos John Schilb Jane Sutton Kathleen Ethel Welch Lynn Worsham and Victor J Vitanza In the first essay Sharon Crowley identifies the major players and primary issues in a chronological narrative of the debate about the writing of the history of rhetoric that has arisen between traditionalists essentialists and revisionists constructionists In recent years traditionalists have demanded a more complete and accurate history while revisionists have sought a critical understanding of the various epistemological ideological grounds upon which a history of rhetoric had been and could be constructed Revisionists in their search for multiple contestatory histories have begun to critique one another breaking into two general groups one favoring a political social program the other resisting and disrupting such an approach Vitanza echoes Crowley s review of this ongoing debate by asking a crucial question What exactly does it mean to be a revisionist historian By combining the disintegration of various revisionist and subversive positions into a communal we he asks an additional question Who is the we writing histories of rhetoric The essays that follow give a rich answer to Vitanza s questions They bring the writing of histories of rhetoric into the larger area of postmodern theory raising neglected issues of race gender and class Written with a variety of intentions some of the essays are expository and highly argumentative while others are manifestos innovative and far reaching in tone Still others are summaries and background studies providing useful information to both the novice student and the experienced scholar This book situated at a juncture between two disciplines composition studies and speech will be a landmark collection for many years      Annual Bibliography of English Language and Literature Modern Humanities Research Association,2005 Includes both books and articles      Stories of the Law Moshe Simon-Shoshan,2012-03-30 Simon Shoshan examines the neglected genre of rabbinic legal stories arguing that this genre is crucial to understanding both rabbinic jurisprudence and rabbinic story telling and challenging traditional distinctions between law and literature      Thecla's Devotion J.D. within the Thekla episode of the Acts of Paul reading the text against contemporary pagan romance in order to explore Christian identity formation

Playing the Canterbury Tales Andrew Higl, 2016-04-22 Playing the Canterbury Tales addresses the additions continuations and reordering of the Canterbury Tales found in the manuscripts and early printed editions of the Tales Many modern editions present a specific set of tales in a specific order and often leave out an entire corpus of continuations and additions Andrew Higl makes a case for understanding the additions and changes to Chaucer's original open and fragmented work by thinking of them as distinct interactive moves in a game similar to the storytelling game the pilgrims play Using examples and theories from new media studies Higl demonstrates that the Tales are best viewed as an interactive fiction reshaped by active readers Readers participated in the ongoing creation and production of the tales by adding new text and rearranging existing text and through this textual transmission they introduced new social and literary meaning to the work This theoretical model and the boundaries between the canonical and apocryphal texts are explored in six case studies the spurious prologues of the Wife of Bath's Tale John Lydgate's influence on the Tales the Northumberland manuscript the ploughman character and the Cook's Tale The Canterbury Tales are a more dynamic and unstable literary work than usually encountered in a modern critical edition

Making of the Victorian Novelist Bradley Deane, 2013-10-15 This book examines a sequence of crises in nineteenth century print culture and offers an original narrative of what it meant to be a Victorian novelist Easily dismissed at the beginning of the century as hacks who pandered to the ignorant or indolent novelists by the end of Victoria's reign could be esteemed among the greatest of artists Between these extremes stretches a century of ideological contention between alternative representations of authorship Deane brings new attention in his account to the trends in publishing and the expanding market surrounding Victorian literature such as the new modes of production arguments over copyright legislation and revisions of the criteria of periodical criticism Combining literary sociology and close readings The Making of the Victorian Novelist offers an innovative history of the material pressures and rhetorical struggles that produced and ultimately shattered the Victorians' understanding of their great novelists

The Wound and the Stitch Loretta Victoria Ramirez, 2024-05-23 The Wound and the Stitch traces a history of imagery and language centered on the concept of woundedness and the stitching together of fragmented selves Focusing particularly on California and its historical violences against Chicana bodies Loretta Victoria Ramirez argues that woundedness has become a ubiquitous and significant form of Chicana self representation especially in late twentieth century print media and art Ramirez maps a genealogy of the female body from late medieval Iberian devotional sculptures to contemporary strategies of self representation By doing so she shows how wounds metaphorical physical historical and linguistic are inherited and manifested as ongoing violations of the body and othered forms of identity Beyond simply exposing these wounds however Ramirez also shows us how they can be healed or rather stitched Drawing on Mesoamerican concepts of securing stability during lived turmoil or nepantla Ramirez investigates how creators such as Cherríe Moraga

Renee Tajima Pe a Guillermo G mez Pe a and Amalia Mesa Bains repurpose the concept of woundedness to advocate for redress and offer delicate ephemeral moments of healing Positioning woundedness as a potent method to express Chicana realities and transform the self from one that is wounded to one that is stitched this book emphasizes the necessity of acknowledgment and ethical restitution for colonial legacies It will be valued by scholars and students interested in the history of rhetorics twentieth century Chicana art and Latina studies
