Narratives For A New Belonging Diasporic Cultural Fictions:

Narratives for a New Belonging Roger Bromley, 2000 Cultural fictions texts written from the perspective of the edge are the focus of this exciting and enlightening book. The author examines the formations of narratives of identity in contemporary borderline fictions and films. Narratives of Place, Culture and Identity Anastasia Christou, 2025-10-01 Christou explores the phenomenon of return migration in Greece through the settlement and identification processes of second generation Greek American returning migrants. She examines the meanings attached to the experience of return migration. The concepts of home and belonging figure prominently in the return migratory project which entails relocation and displacement as well as adjustment and alienation of bodies and selves. Furthermore, Christou considers the multiple interactions social cultural political between the place of origin and the place of destination network ties historical and global forces in the shaping of return migrant behaviour and expressions of identity. The human geography of return migration extends beyond geographic movement into a diasporic journey involving re constructions of homeness and belongingness in the ancestral homeland. Contemporary Diasporic South Asian Women's Fiction Ruvani Ranasinha, 2016-05-28 This book is the first comparative analysis of a new generation of diasporic Anglophone South Asian women novelists including Kiran Desai Tahmima Anam Monica Ali Kamila Shamsie and Jhumpa Lahiri from a feminist perspective. It charts the significant changes these writers have produced in postcolonial and contemporary women's fiction since the late 1990s. Paying careful attention to the authors' distinct subcontinental backgrounds of Pakistan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka as well as India, this study destabilises the central place given to fiction focused on India. It broadens the customary focus on diasporic writers metropolitan contexts illuminates how these transnational female authored literary texts challenge national assumptions and considers the ways in which this new configuration of transnational feminist writers produces a postcolonial feminist discourse which differs from Anglo American feminism. Diasporic Marvellous Realism María Alonso, 2015-07-14 Diasporic Marvellous Realism highlights the interesting switch in perspective found in contemporary literary production where the supernatural is regarded from a diasporic perspective as marvellous rather than magical. The titular term is applied to the influence of transterritorialization on the works of first and second generation immigrant writers when approaching and exploring the myths and legends of their culture of origin. The texts included in this analysis show that the employment of this literary philosophy and narrative technique in contemporary literature involves a fruitful refocusing of the rhetorical gaze regarding the importance of cultural heritage as vindictory resistance to the lacunae of history and as celebratory re enfranchisement of diasporic communities in host countries such as Canada and the UK. The Sociolinguistics of Narrative Joanna Thornborrow, Jennifer Coates, 2005-06-30 This book aims to appraise sociolinguistic work devoted to the form and function of storytelling and to examine in detail the ways in which narrative constitutes a fundamental discursive resource across a range of contexts. The chapters presented here bring together some of the most recent work in the theory and practice of narrative analysis from a broad sociolinguistic perspective They address some of the questions left implicit whenever stories are brought within the analytic frame of sociolinguistics What exactly do we mean by story what kind of social and contextual variations can determine the production and shape of situated stories and what are the core elements of narrative as a discursive unit and interactional resource how is the relationship between narrative discourse and social context articulated in the construction of cultural identities The data come both from institutional settings such as workplaces courtrooms schools and the media as well as from informal everyday settings

Diasporic Inquiries into South Asian Women's Narratives Shilpa Daithota Bhat,2020-02-28 The South Asian women s diaspora engages in spatio temporal interactions and power differentials in a variety of narratives articulating agency multiplicities of belonging and culturally integrative practices highlighting homing paradigms The sense of alienness in a new homeland rather in worldwide home places triggers rethinking of diasporic conceptions and epistemes of individual and group histories personal and collective experiences Some of the questions that this anthology seeks to consider are How do women from the South Asian diaspora represent cultural negotiations and alienness of the adopted homeland in various narratives What are the themes issues they select to portray their perceptions of foreignness How do culture history and politics intervene in their portrayal of lived experiences How do they locate themselves in the matrix of foreignness and diaspora The contributors to this anthology examine narratives depicting South Asian women their complexly positioned voices gesturing at the proliferating challenges and reflecting the grim realities of a globalized world

Rethinking Identities in Contemporary Pakistani Fiction A. Kanwal,2015-03-09 This book focuses on the way that notions of home and identity have changed for Muslims as a result of international war on terror rhetoric It uniquely links the post 9 11 stereotyping of Muslims and Islam in the West to the roots of current jihadism and the resurgence of ethnocentrism within the subcontinent and beyond

Displaced Women Lucia Aiello,Joy Charnley,Mariangela Palladino,2014-03-17 The essays included in this volume mostly originate from the conference organised by the editors at Glasgow Women s Library in March 2012 Language multilingual narratives and interaction between cultures and languages were key themes of the conference Interdisciplinary and international the conference like this edited volume brought together specialists working in a range of fields and provided an opportunity for exchanges between historians sociologists scientists and literary scholars as well as between theoreticians and practitioners academics and non academics In spite of these many different approaches all the papers presented here transcend the idea of national identity as an epic heritage or destiny both linguistic and literary and suggest a much more fluid definition of citizenship Working from this perspective and within this general framework both the editors and the contributors of this volume encourage a broader discussion on women s narratives of displacement that compels us to rethink the notions of mother tongue and native speaker and raises philosophical questions about linguistic ownership in other words whether a language is owned appropriated imposed or rejected and how women experience and express their sense of
