Cognitive Spaces and Perspective in Literature Liz Finnigan, 2024-12-04 This book brings an original perspective to literary theory and criticism by using insights drawn from visual cognition and neuroscience Employing recent findings in neuroscience to explain consistent patterns in the representation of space in literature Finnigan explores how these patterns exploit readers power to imagine themselves in different times and places and identifies the literary power of deviating from these patterns While focusing on Victorian Modernist and Postmodernist texts Finnigan brings a new critical framework that can applied in other literary contexts through neuroscience and psychological theory The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1974 The English Leaflet, 1911 International Handbook of Research in Arts Education Liora Bresler, 2007-03-05 Providing a distillation of knowledge in the various disciplines of arts education dance drama music literature and poetry and visual arts this essential handbook synthesizes existing research literature reflects on the past and contributes to shaping the future of the respective and integrated disciplines of arts education While research can at times seem distant from practice the Handbook aims to maintain connection with the live practice of art and of education capturing the vibrancy and best thinking in the field of theory and practice The Handbook is organized into 13 sections each focusing on a major area or issue in arts education research Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1976

Interactive Books Jacqueline Reid-Walsh, 2017-09-27 Movable books are an innovative area of children s publishing Commonly equated with spectacular pop ups movable books have a little known history as interactive narrative media Since they are hybrid artifacts consisting of words images and movable components they cross the borders between story toy and game Interactive Books is a historical and comparative study of early movable books in relation to the children who engage with them Jacqueline Reid Walsh focuses on the period movable books became connected with children from the mid 17th to the early 19th centuries In particular she examines turn up books paper doll books and related hybrid experiments like toy theaters and paignion or domestic play set produced between 1650 and 1830 Despite being popular in their own time these artifacts are little known today This study draws attention to a gap in our knowledge of children s print culture by showing how these artifacts are important in their own right Reid Walsh combines archival research with children s literature studies book history and juvenilia studies By examining commercially produced and homemade examples she explores the interrelations among children interactive media and historical participatory culture By drawing on both Enlightenment thinkers and contemporary digital media theorists Interactive Books enables us to think critically about children's media texts paper and digital past and present Seeing, Doing, and Knowing Mohan Matthen, 2005-02-10 Seeing Doing and Knowing is an original and comprehensive philosophical treatment of sense perception as it is currently investigated by cognitive neuroscientists Its central theme is the task oriented specialization of sensory systems across the biological domain Sensory systems are automatic sorting machines they engage in a process of classification Human vision sorts and orders external objects in terms of a specialized proprietary scheme of categories colours shapes speeds and directions of movement etc This Sensory Classification Thesis implies that sensation is not a naturally caused image from which an organism must infer the state of the world beyond it is more like an internal communication a signal concerning the state of the world issued by a sensory system in accordance with internal conventions for the use of an organism's other systems This is why sensory states are both easily understood and persuasive Sensory classification schemes are purpose built to serve the knowledge gathering and pragmatic needs of particular types of organisms They are specialized a bee or a bird does not see exactly what a human does The Sensory Classification Thesis helps clarify this specialization in perceptual content and supports a new form of realism about the deliverances of sensation Pluralistic Realism is based on the idea that sensory systems coevolve with an organism's other systems they are not simply moulded to the external world The last part of the book deals with reference in vision Cognitive scientists now believe that vision guides the limbs by means of a subsystem that links up with the objects of physical manipulation in ways that bypass sensory categories In a novel extension of this theory Matthen argues that motion guiding vision is integrated with sensory classification in conscious vision This accounts for the quasi demonstrative form of visual states This particular object is red and so on He uses this idea to cast new light on the nature of perceptual objects pictorial representation and the visual representation of space Critic and Good Literature ,1885

Tales of Berlin in American Literature up to the 21st Century Joshua Parker, 2016-03-17 Of all European cities Americans today are perhaps most curious about Berlin whose position in the American imagination is an essential component of nineteenth century postwar and contemporary transatlantic imagology Over various periods Berlin has been a tenuous space for American claims to cultural heritage and to real geographic space in Europe symbolizing the ultimate evil and the power of redemption This volume offers a comprehensive examination of the city's image in American literature from 1840 to the present Tracing both a history of Berlin and of American culture through the ways the city has been narrated across three centuries by some 100 authors through 145 novels short stories plays and poems Tales of Berlin presents a composite landscape not only of the German capital but of shifting subtexts in American society which have contextualized its meaning for Americans in the past and continue to do so today World Of Negotiation, The: Theories, Perceptions And Practice Amira Galin, 2015-10-16 The book will take its readers on a short tour of the world of negotiation and provide them with a systematic understanding of a wide array of negotiation topics The book includes the most essential points of importance and interest related to negotiation such as theories and conceptions basic negotiation processes and situations including negotiating a hostage crisis the impact of culture negotiation values and the uses of third party intervention in negotiation Each chapter concludes with a Practical Application section giving readers an opportunity to implement the insights and make better decisions in future negotiation situations

The American School Board Journal William George Bruce, William Conrad Bruce, 1896 Perception-Cognition Interface & Cross-Modal Experiences: Insights into Unified Consciousness Aleksandra Mroczko-Wąsowicz, 2017-01-26 The present Research Topic explores closely related aspects of mental functioning namely an interplay between perception and cognition interactions among various sensory modalities and finally more or less unified conscious experiences arising in the context of these relations Contributions emphasize a high flexibility observed in perception and may be seen as potential challenges to the traditional modular architecture of perceptual systems Although the articles describe different phenomena they follow one common theme to investigate broadly understood unified experience by studying either perception cognition integration or the integration between sensory modalities These integrative processes may well apply to subpersonal unconscious representations However the aim here is to approach phenomenal experience and thus a straightforward way of thinking about it is in terms of conscious perception Putting together scientific and philosophical concerns this special issue encourages extending the study of perceptual experience beyond the single sense perception to advance our understanding of the complex interdependencies between different sensory modalities other mental domains and various kinds of unifying relations within conscious experience It exhibits a remarkable need to study these phenomena in tangent and so the authors examine a variety of ways in which our perceptual experiences may be cross modal or multisensory integrated embodied synesthetic cognitively penetrated or otherwise affected by top down influences The Research Topic comprises theoretical and empirical contributions of such fields as philosophy of mind cognitive science psychology and neuroscience in the form of hypothesis and theory articles original research articles opinion papers reviews and commentaries
