Morality and the Literary Imagination Gabriel R. Ricci, In a letter to Boccaccio Petrarch extolled the virtue of poetry and letters for promoting an understanding of both human nature and morals The letter was designed to console him after hearing a prediction that he was soon to die and that he ought to renounce poetry The prophecy came from an elder renowned for his piety but Petrarch admonished that too often dishonesty and fraud are couched in religious sentiments Nothing not even death according to Petrarch ought to divert us from literature For Petrarch Virgil was the source for understanding how literary studies not only promote eloquence but enhance morals If anything literature dispels the fear of death The claims of this volume is that it may be the case that the virtuous life can be achieved by those ignorant of letters but a more direct and certain route is guaranteed by a devotion to literature The collected works in this new volume of the Transaction series Religion and Public Life heeds Petrarch's advice that literature not only orients us to life's developmental stages it can provide us with a more complete understanding of the human character while artfully advancing morals To this end Michelle Darnell's opening chapter entitled A New Age of Reason explains how existentialism is an argument for how literature can take on philosophical form not as formal argument but as persuasive narrative Over the objections of even those who study Sartre Darnell uses Sartre's The Age of Reason as a model and shows how his literary output was a legitimate philosophical inquiry In addition to the Darnell piece the volume boasts a series of outstanding and innovative works by scholars in the field Taken together as a whole these authors not only illustrate the moral consequences of an original choice but oblige the reader to explore the ramifications of such a choice in one's own life Gabriel R Ricci is professor of humanities and the chair of the Department of History at Elizabethtown College He is the author of Time Consciousness The Philosophical Uses of History and the editor of Transaction's much admired Religion and Public Life series

The Holistic Curriculum John P. Miller, 2007-01-01 Holistic education is concerned with connections in human experience connections between mind and body between linear thinking and intuitive ways of knowing between academic disciplines between individual and community and between the personal self and the transpersonal Self that all spiritual traditions believe exist beyond the ego First published in 1988 The Holistic Curriculum examines the philosophical psychological and social foundations of holistic education provides an outline of its history and discusses practical applications for this type of learning in the classroom This revised and expanded second edition concisely describes how holistic thinking integrates spiritual and scientific perspectives drawing on romantic humanistic and other radical alternatives to the atomistic worldview of the modern age The role of the teacher the issue of accountability and strategies for implementing the Holistic Curriculum are also discussed Shamanism ,1987-05-01 A powerful collection of essays from authors such as Mircea Eliade Joan Halifax Stanley Krippner Brooke Medicine Eagle Serge King and Michael Harner on the mystifying phenomenon of shamanism around the world what it is how it works and why Traditionalism Kenneth Oldmeadow,Harry Oldmeadow,2000 This book explains why no one engaged in religious and cultural studies can afford to disregard the urgent message of the traditionalists who have reminded a forgetful world in a manner which can be ignored but not refuted of those principles which everywhere and always remain true It also demonstrates why any reassessment of contemporary values now increasingly called into question must take into account the profound traditionalist critique of the modern Western worldview BOOK JACKET Aldous Huxley Between East and West ,2021-11-01 Although the title of this volume is Aldous Huxley between East and West the order of the articles found within goes from West to East which naturally imitates Huxley s own progress especially since he went to the trouble of stepping out as far West as possible before starting for the East Indeed one could argue that he was already on his way there before he left for California a continuous journey perhaps since from the Californian shores of the Pacific the East is the further West After the Introduction which places Huxley between East and West the book starts with a consideration of Huxley s family connections then goes onto his earliest fictions his interest in science and the issue of modernity and his experiments with drama and their inherent philosophical concerns The poetry with which he began his writing career is then viewed as a link between his earlier Western self and his later Oriental interests suggesting that the latter was always inherent in the former A number of considerations of the Utopian themes in Huxley s middle and later fiction leads the volume to a climax with four articles surveying the foibles and the wisdom of Huxley s encounter with Eastern religious thought and philosophy his misunderstandings as well as ours of what actually he had learned and wished to pass on to the Western world The Holistic Curriculum, Third Edition John P. Miller,2019-04-08 Originally published in 1988 The Holistic Curriculum addresses the problem of fragmentation in education through a connected curriculum of integrative approaches to teaching and learning John P Miller author of more than seventeen books on holistic education discusses the theoretical foundations of the holistic curriculum and particularly its philosophical psychological and social connections Tracing the history of holistic education from its beginnings this revised and expanded third edition features insights into Indigenous approaches to education while also expanding upon the six curriculum connections subject community thinking earth body mind and soul This edition also includes an introduction by leading Indigenous educator Greg Cajete as well as a dialogue between the author and Four Arrows author of Teaching Truly about the relationship between holistic education and Indigenous education Knowledge and the Sacred Seyyed Hossein Nasr,1989-01-01 Nasr Islamic studies George Washington U in a series of ten lectures argues that unlike in the West where scientific thought has been secularized in the East knowledge and religious experience have remained unified Drawing from Buddhist Hindu Judaic Christian and Islamic traditions he finds in each the idea of perennial wisdom as a philosophical basis for such unity Paperback edition 10 95 not seen Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
