Time and Ways of Knowing Under Louis XIV Roland

Racevskis,2003 This book is a study of the measurement and understanding of time in seventeenth century Europe particularly in France Close readings of literary representations of time in Moliere Mme de Sevigne and Mmd de Lafayette are contextualized with historical studies of court life under Louis XIV the restructuring of the early modern French postal system and the emergence of new practices of periodical publication respectively An epistemological backdrop for these historical and literary studies is provided by an introductory analysis of developments in the science of time measurement under Louis XIV A concluding section places questions of human temporality in the contemporary context of global environmental concerns

A History of Women's Writing in France Sonya Stephens,2000-05-22 This volume was the first historical introduction to women s writing in France from the sixth century to the present day Specially commissioned essays by leading scholars provide an introduction in English to the wealth and diversity of French women writers offering fascinating readings and perspectives The volume as a whole offers a cohesive history of women s writing which has sometimes been obscured by the canonisation of a small feminine elite Each chapter focuses on a given period and a range of writers taking account of prevailing sexual ideologies and women s activities in or their relation to the social political economic and cultural surroundings Complemented by an extensive bibliography of primary and secondary works and a biographical guide to more than one hundred and fifty women writers it represents an invaluable resource for those wishing to discover or extend their knowledge of French literature written by women

The Invisible Code William M.

Reddy,2023-04-28 This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California

Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1997

Experimental Selves Christopher Braider,2018-09-10 Drawing on the generous semantic range the term enjoyed in early modern usage Experimental Selves argues that person as early moderns understood this concept was an experimental phenomenon at once a given of experience and the self conscious arena of that experience Person so conceived was discovered to be a four dimensional creature a composite of mind or inner personality of the body and outward appearance of social relationship and of time Through a series of case studies keyed to a wide variety of social and cultural contexts including theatre the early novel the art of portraiture pictorial experiments in vision and perception theory of knowledge and the new experimental science of the late seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the book examines the manifold shapes person assumed as an expression of the social natural and aesthetic experiments or experiences to which it found itself subjected as a function of the mere contingent fact of just having them

Orientalism in French Classical Drama Michèle Longino, 2006-03-16 Michèle Longino examines the ways in which Mediterranean exoticism inflects the themes represented in French classical drama Longino explores plays by Corneille Molière and Racine Le Cid Médée and Le bourgeois gentilhomme among others She offers a consideration of the role the staging of the near Orient played in shaping a sense of French colonial identity Drawing on histories travel journals memoirs and correspondence and bringing together literary and historical concerns Longino considers these dramatisations in the context of French Ottoman relations at the time of their production

The Logic of Idolatry in Seventeenth-century French Literature Ellen McClure, 2020 Idolatry was one of the dominant and most contentious themes of early modern religious polemics This book argues that many of the best known literary and philosophical works of the French seventeenth century were deeply engaged and concerned with the theme In a series of case studies and close readings it shows that authors used the logic of idolatry to interrogate the fractured and fragile relationship between the divine and the human with particular attention to the increasingly fraught question of the legitimacy of human agency Reading Descartes La Fontaine Molière and Racine through the lens of idolatry reveals heretofore hidden aspects of their work all while demonstrating the link between the emergent autonomy of literature and philosophy and the confessional conflicts that dominated the period In so doing Professor McClure illustrates how religion can become a source of interpretive complexity and how this dynamism can and should be taken into account in early modern French studies and beyond ELLEN MCCLURE is Associate Professor of History and French University of Illinois at Chicago

Philosophy and the Maternal Body Michelle Boulous Walker, 2002-01-22 Philosophy and the Maternal Body gives a new voice to the mother and the maternal body which have often been viewed as silent within philosophy Michelle Boulous Walker clearly shows how some male theorists have appropriated maternity and suggests new ways of articulating the maternal body and women's experience of pregnancy and motherhood

The Woman Question in France, 1400-1870 Karen Offen, 2017-10-05 This is a revolutionary reinterpretation of the French past from the early fifteenth century to the establishment of the Third Republic focused on public challenges and defenses of masculine hierarchy in relations between women and men Karen Offen surveys heated exchanges around women's influence their exclusion from authority the increasing prominence of biomedical thinking and population issues concerns about education intellect and the sexual politics of knowledge and the politics of women's work Initially the majority of commentators were literate and influential men However as more and more women attained literacy they too began to analyze their situation in print and to contest men's claims about who women were and should be and what they should be restrained from doing and why As urban print culture exploded and revolutionary ideas of equality fuelled women's claims for emancipation this question resonated throughout francophone Europe and ultimately across the seas

Writing Love Katharine Ann Jensen, 1995 In this compelling new addition to Sandra M Gilbert's Ad Feminam Women and Literature series Katharine Ann Jensen examines the cultural form of the love letter and its intersection with the novel in the works of seventeenth and eighteenth century French women writers Traditionally French literary history has focused on eighteenth century male writers Rousseau and Laclos as the master artists of the epistolary novel That emphasis on one century one gender and one epistolary form the novel obscures the history of women s writing in France In the seventeenth century the love letter was viewed as a feminine literary form in which a woman s passionate and emotional nature found its logical expression Such emotional writing was criticized for its structural and grammatical imperfections rendering it in the eyes of men invalid as true literary material However men often wrote under female pseudonyms composing letters of seduction and betrayal that were published as true accounts Jensen contends that men disguised their words as women s words because writing as women allowed them to experiment with narrative fiction at a time when men s writing was rigidly defined by classical rhetoric She further argues that men were able to moderate women s linguistic strengths by limiting their epistolary expertise to a social rather than literary practice thereby maintaining literature as an almost exclusively male province Jensen argues for a tradition of women s writing by examining both the love letters and novels of such writers as Desjardins Ferrand Graffigny Riccoboni and Lespinasse In her novel Les D sordres de l amour Desjardins Madame de Villedieu creates an ambitious letter writing heroine Through an analysis of the textual similarities between the heroine s letters and Desjardins s personal love letters to her unfaithful lover Jensen concludes that Desjardins rewrites her own unfortunate epistolary relationship Jensen draws similar conclusions from an examination of the personal letters of Ferrand in relation to her novel Histoire des amours de Cl ante et de B lise In order to chart the legacy of seventeenth century feminine epistolarity Jensen goes on to consider the works of eighteenth century French women writers Like Desjardins s novel Graffigny s Lettres d une P ruviennne and Riccoboni s Lettres de Mistress Fanni Butlerd present letter writing heroines who overturn the conventions of seduction and betrayal in order to claim their independence and desire to write This desire correlates to Graffigny s and Riccoboni s own writing ambitions thereby asserting the ability of women to write self consciously rather than emotionally and to create narrative fiction rather than cyclical letters of love and suffering Jensen demonstrates that these assertions constitute a significant break with seventeenth century ideas about feminine letter writing that inextricably bind women to a supposedly natural language of sexual and literary disempowerment This important and insightful book will prove a valuable addition to the libraries of scholars in French seventeenth and eighteenth century studies feminist studies epistolary fiction and novel and narrative studies

Strange Revelations Lynn Wood Mollenauer, 2007-01-03 The Affair of the Poisons was the greatest court scandal of the seventeenth century From 1679 to 1682 the French crown investigated more than 400 people including Louis XIV s official mistress and members of the highest ranking circles at court for sensational crimes In Strange Revelations Lynn Mollenauer brings this bizarre story to life exposing a criminal magical underworld thriving in the heart of the Sun King s capital The macabre details of the Affair of the Poisons read like a gothic novel In the fall of 1678 Nicolas de la Reynie head of the Paris police uncovered a plot to poison Louis XIV La Reynie s subsequent investigation unveiled a loosely knit community of sorceresses magicians and renegade priests who offered for sale an array of services and products ranging from abortions to love magic to poisons known as inheritance powders It was the inheritance powders usually made from powdered toads steeped in arsenic that lent the Affair of the Poisons its name The purchasers of the powders gave the affair its notoriety for the scandal extended into the most exalted ranks of the French court Mollenauer adroitly uses the Affair of the Poisons to uncover the hidden forms of power that men and women of all social classes invoked to achieve their goals While the exercise of state power during the ancien r gime was quintessentially visible ritually displayed through public ceremonies the affair exposes the simultaneous presence of other imagined and real sources of power available to the Sun King s subjects magic poison and the manipulation of sexual passions Highly entertaining yet deeply researched Strange Revelations will appeal to anyone interested in the history of court society gender magic or crime in early modern Europe Spaces of Creation Allison Connolly,2016-11-09 Drawing links between the Francophone literatures of Canada the French Caribbean and North Africa Spaces of Creation demonstrates that problematic issues of dynamic postcolonial societies can and do fuel creative acts on the part of women The trying experiences of displaced mothers and their daughters including isolation domestic violence and single parenthood often serve to inspire introspection and creative action In effect their painful frustrating existence provides the opportunity the space of creation necessary to weave and transmit stories Organized around different manifestations of culturally diverse or transcultural spaces depicted in postcolonial literature rural villages domestic spaces city centers and spaces of otherness the monograph uncovers the complexities of mothering and daughtering in contemporary Francophone contexts Through discussion of these spaces the book attests to a specifically feminine transculturality This vision of diversity acknowledges both the heartening and tragic aspects of life in dynamic multicultural communities revealing creative synergies between the literatures of different Francophone diasporas and inviting the reader to reconsider the mother daughter relationship

Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly,2013-12-04 First published in 2001 This is the first substantial reference work in English on the various forms that constitute life writing As this term suggests the Encyclopedia explores not only autobiography and biography proper but also letters diaries memoirs family histories case histories and other ways in which individual lives have been recorded and structured It includes entries on genres and subgenres national and regional traditions from around the world and important auto biographical writers as well as articles on related areas such as oral history anthropology testimonies and the representation of life stories in non verbal art forms The Prospect Before Her Olwen Hufton,2011-06-15 Already hailed by English critics as one of the most important works of history to be published since the Second World War Olwen Hufton s fascinating and brilliantly learned study begins in this first of two volumes with a wide ranging exploration of women s fate in Western Europe from medieval times to the early modern age of illustrations

Writings by Pre-Revolutionary French Women Colette H. Winn,Anne R. Larsen,2017-09-29 The present volume covers 30

Pre Revolutionary French women providing a representative sampling of their manifold and varied contributions to intellectual and cultural history This volume is unique in its grouping of essentially French writers from the Pre Revolutionary period The authors included here range from those prominent because of their social position or literary fame to those slowly becoming part of a new canon of Old Regime women writers authors whose works were known to their contemporaries but who have slipped into near invisibility in the following centuries until their recent rediscovery and reassessment

The Aesthetic Life of Cyril Scott Sarah Collins,2013      Debate of the Romance of the Rose David F. Hult,2010-04-15 In 1401 Christine de Pizan 1365a 1430 wrote a letter to the provost of Lille criticizing the highly popular Romance of the Rose for its unwarranted misogynistic depictions of women Here Hult collects debate documents letters and excerpts from other works of Pizan including one from City of Ladiesa her major defense of women      Exemplary Tales of Love and Tales of Disillusion María de Zayas y Sotomayor,2010-07-15 At the height of Mar a de Zayas s popularity in the mid eighteenth century the number of editions in print of her work was exceeded only by the novels of Cervantes But by the end of the nineteenth century Zayas had been excluded from the Spanish literary canon because of her gender and the sociopolitical changes that swept Spain and Europe Exemplary Tales of Love and Tales of Disillusion gathers a representative sample of seven stories which features Zayas s signature topics gender equality and domestic violence written in an impassioned tone overlaid with conservative Counter Reformation ideology This edition updates the scholarship since the most recent English translations with a new introduction to Zayas s entire body of stories and restores Zayas s author s note and prologue omitted from previous English language editions Tracing her slow but steady progress from notions of ideal love to love s treachery Exemplary Tales of Love and Tales of Disillusion will restore Zayas to her rightful place in modern letters
