Music, Performance, and the Realities of Film Ben Winters, 2014-02-05 This book examines the relationship between narrative film and reality as seen through the lens of on screen classical concert performance By investigating these scenes wherein the performance of music is foregrounded in the narrative Winters uncovers how concert performance reflexively articulates music's importance to the ontology of film The book asserts that narrative film of a variety of aesthetic approaches and traditions is no mere copy of everyday reality but constitutes its own filmic reality and that the music heard in a film's underscore plays an important role in distinguishing film reality from the everyday As a result concert scenes are examined as sites for provocative interactions between these two realities in which real world musicians appear in fictional narratives and an audience's suspension of disbelief is problematised In blurring the musical experiences of onscreen observers and participants these concert scenes also allegorize music's role in creating a shared subjectivity between film audience and character and prompt Winters to propose a radically new vision of music's role in narrative cinema wherein musical underscore becomes part of a shared audio visual space that may be just as accessible to the characters as the music they encounter in scenes of concert performance

Teaching Music Performance in Higher Education Helen Julia Minors, Stefan Östersjö, Gilvano Dalagna, Jorge Salgado Correia, 2024-05-27 Higher Music Performance Education as taught and learned in universities and conservatoires in Europe is undergoing transformation Since the nineteenth century the master apprentice pedagogical model has dominated creating a learning environment that emphasises the development of technical skills rather than critical and creative faculties This book contributes to the renewal of this field by being the first to address the potential of artistic research in developing student centred approaches and greater student autonomy This potential is demonstrated in chapters illustrating artistic research projects that are embedded within higher music education courses across Europe with examples ranging from instrumental tuition and ensemble work to the development of professional employability skills and inclusive practices Bringing together diverse and experienced voices working within Higher Music Education but often also as professional performers this edited collection pairs critical reflection with artistic insight to present new approaches to curricula for teaching interpretation and performance It calls for greater collaboration between Higher Education and professional music institutions to create closer bonds with music industries and thereby improve students career opportunities Teaching Music Performance in Higher Education will appeal to scholars performers teachers but also students whose interests centre on innovative practices in conservatoires and music departments

Theology as Performance Philip Stoltzfus, 2006-06-05 Theology as Performance breaks new ground in the growing conversation between modern theology and philosophical aesthetics Stoltzfus proposes that significant moments in the Western development of the concept of God in particular as represented in the figures of Friedrich Schleiermacher Karl Barth and Ludwig Wittgenstein have been deeply influenced by concepts and approaches borrowed from the discipline of musical aesthetics Each thinker develops fundamentally different ways of writing about God that have in significant respects been derived from each one's reading and writing about music The aesthetic implications of Schleiermacher's so called subjectivist turn Barth's objectivist reaction and Wittgenstein's language game pragmatism can thus be fully understood only by attending to the musical culture and distinctly musicological discourses that gave rise to them Stoltzfus constructs two trajectories of thought with which to trace theological reflection upon music throughout the pre modern period the traditions of Orpheus and Pythagoras Schleiermacher's aesthetic approach then becomes a modern representative of the Orpheus trajectory and Barth's approach a representative of the Pythagoras trajectory Stoltzfus interprets Wittgenstein as putting forward a radical critique of these trajectories and pointing toward a third performative theological aesthetic method Theology as Performance offers a provocative rethinking of the aesthetic roots of modern theology
