   Developing Performance Support for Computer Systems James R. Williams,2004-05-24 Developing Performance Support for Computer Systems A Strategy for Maximizing Usability and Learnability provides detailed planning design and development guidance for generating performance support for new or upgraded computer systems Performance support includes documentation online help coaches and wizards training and other materials necessary to enable users to perform their jobs more efficiently and effectively This volume offers a strategy for maximizing ease of use and ease of learning through an integrated performance support systems approach The text provides how to guidance throughout that developers can apply directly to the design of their performance support tools and products Rather than cover a few specific topic areas it examines the entire spectrum of performance support The book explains how to match performance support methods to task requirements gives an overview of important user characteristics and provides general guidance for presentation layout formatting media selection the use of color and icons and accessibility Evaluation checklists are included in the appendices and are also available online Although this book primarily addresses the development of performance support for large software systems the principles and approaches are valuable for any systems development environment New Perspectives on Microsoft Access 2002 Joseph J. Adamski,Kathleen T. Finnegan,2002 The National Guide to Educational Credit for Training Programs 2002 (Ace) American Council on Education,American Council on Education,2005 For over 25 years this guide has been the trusted source of information on over 6 000 educational programs offered by business labor unions schools training suppliers professional and voluntary associations and government agencies These programs provide educational credit to students for learning acquired in noncollegiate settings Each entry in the comprehensive National Guide provides BL Course title as assigned by the participating organization BL Location of all sites where the course is offered BLDuration in contact hours and days or weeks BL The period during which the credit recommendation applies BL The purpose for which the course was designed BL The abilities or competencies acquired by the student upon successful completion of the course BL The teaching methods materials equipment and major subject areas covered BL College credit recommendations offered in four categories by level of degrees and expressed in semester hours and subject area s in which credit is applicable The introductory section includes the Registry of Credit Recommendations an ACE College Credit Recommendation Service transcript system Electronic Performance Support Professor Paul van Schaik,Professor Philip Barker,2012-10-01 Despite ubiquitous powerful technologies such as networked computers global positioning systems and cell phones human failures in decision making and performance continue to have disastrous consequences Electronic Performance Support Using Digital Technology to Enhance Human Ability reminds everyone involved in education training human performance engineering and related fields of the enormous importance of this area Ironically the more complex technology becomes the more performance support may be needed and that s why the extraordinary expertise shared in this book is especially valuable The authors emphasize the psychological aspects of performance support the fundamental limitations of human memory perception cognition conation and psychomotor skills and how they can be reduced through electronic performance support as one of the most important pursuits of this century Readers will find the material presented extremely useful because of its generic basis which underlines much of the contemporary use of electronic technology for supporting people who are engaged in problem solving activities At the same time the book gives examples of the application of electronic performance support in a number of specific domains Possible future developments for electronic performance support are also discussed The technological challenges we face today both globally and locally are more urgent than most people seem willing to acknowledge and there is no time to waste putting the ideas expressed in this book into action PC Mag ,2001-10-16 PCMag com is a leading authority on technology delivering
