Persistence Transformation Text As Image In The Art Of Xu Bing:

Persistence-transformation Jerome Silbergeld, Dora C. Y. Ching, 2006 The calligrapher and book artist Xu Bing has been called the most innovative Chinese artist of our time As a citizen of both China and the United States and the first Asian American artist to win the prestigious MacArthur Foundation genius award Xu Bing has fascinated and challenged audiences around the world with his imaginative textual art From his 4 000 unreadable Chinese looking characters which unite Asian and Western audiences alike in an egalitarianism of induced illiteracy to his invention of a square words language that makes Chinese readable by anyone at all Xu Bing s use of language is at once artistically brilliant highly entertaining and profoundly subversive a sharp witted masterly word play that in his own words strikes at the very essence of culture In exhibitions on four continents Xu Bing s printed art mixed media installations and performance pieces from books and calligraphic sculptures to inscribed pigs have fascinated specialists and general audiences alike and generated a growing body of literature This volume presents the first multidisciplinary study of Xu Bing s art and its intellectual implications Included is an illuminating account by Xu Bing of his own work as well as essays by leading scholars in a number of different fields The essays address the place of this work within the long history of Chinese calligraphic practice examine it in the context of Chinese intellectual dissidence discuss Japanese avant garde parallels and judge it from a Western art historical viewpoint

China—Art—Modernity David Clarke, 2019-01-22 China Art Modernity provides a critical introduction to modern and contemporary Chinese art as a whole It illuminates what is distinctive and significant about the rich range of art created during the tumultuous period of Chinese history from the end of Imperial rule to the present day The story of Chinese art in the twentieth and twenty first centuries is shown to be deeply intertwined with that of the country s broader socio political development with art serving both as a tool for the creation of a new national culture and as a means for critiquing the forms that culture has taken The book s approach is inclusive In addition to treating art within the Chinese Mainland itself during the Republican and Communist eras for instance it also looks at the art of colonial Hong Kong Taiwan and the Chinese diaspora Similarly it gives equal prominence to artists employing tools and idioms of indigenous Chinese origin and those who engage with international styles and contemporary media In this way it writes China into the global story of modern art as a whole at a moment in intellectual history when Western centred stories of modern and contemporary culture are finally being recognized as parochial and inadequate Assuming no previous background knowledge of Chinese history and culture this concise yet comprehensive and richly illustrated book will appeal to those who already have an established interest in modern Chinese art and those for whom this is a novel topic It will be of particular value to students of Chinese art or modern art in general but it is also for those in the wider reading public with a curiosity about modern China At a time when that country has become a major actor on the world stage in all sorts of ways accessible sources of information concerning its modern visual culture are nevertheless surprisingly scarce As a consequence a fully nuanced picture of China s place in the modern world remains elusive China Art Modernity is a timely remedy for that situation Here is a book that offers a comprehensive account of the dizzying transformations of Chinese art and society in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Breaking free of conventional dichotomies between traditional and modern Chinese and Western that have hobbled earlier studies Clarke s highly original book is exactly what I would assign my own students Anyone eager to understand developments in China within the global history of modern art should read this book Robert E Harrist Jr Columbia University

Clarke s book presents a critically astute mapping of the arts of modern and contemporary China It highlights the significance of urban and industrial contexts migration diasporas and the margins of the mainland while imaginatively seeking to inscribe its subject into the broader story of modern art A timely and reliable intervention and indispensable for the student and non specialist reader Shane McCausland SOAS University of London Language in the Visual Arts Leslie Ross,2014-07-02 This book discusses text and image relationships in the history of art from ancient times to the contemporary period across a diversity of cultures and geographic areas Focusing on the use of words in art and words as art forms thematic chapters include Pictures in Words Words in Pictures Word Picture Puzzles Picture Word Puzzles Words as Images The Power of the Word and Monumental and Moving Words Chapter subsections further explore cross cultural themes Examining text and image relationships from the obvious to the elusive the puzzling to the profound the minor to the major the book demonstrates the diverse ways in which images and writing have been combined through the ages and explores the interplay between visual and written communication in a wide range of thought provoking examples A color insert is included Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Xu Bing and Contemporary Chinese Art Hsingyuan Tsao,Roger T. Ames,2011-09-01 How Chinese is contemporary Chinese art Treasured by collectors critics and art world cognoscenti this art developed within an avant garde that looked West to find a language to strike out against government control Traditionally Chinese artistic expression has been related to the structure and function of the Chinese language and the assumptions of Chinese natural cosmology Is contemporary Chinese art rooted in these traditions or is it an example of cultural self colonization Contributors to this volume address this question going beyond the more obvious political and social commentaries on contemporary Chinese art to find resonances between contemporary artistic ideas and the indigenous sources of Chinese cultural self understanding Focusing in particular on the acclaimed artist Xu Bing this book looks at how he and his peers have navigated between two different cultural sites to establish a third place a place from which to appropriate Western ideas and use them to address centuries old Chinese cultural issues within a Chinese cultural discourse Ink Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.),2013 Featuring 70 works in various media paintings calligraphy photographs woodblock prints video and sculpture that were created during the past three decades Ink Art Past as Present in Contemporary China will demonstrate how China s ancient pattern of seeking cultural renewal through the reinterpretation of past models remains a viable creative path Although all of the artists have transformed their sources through new modes of expression visitors will recognize thematic aesthetic or technical attributes in their creations that have meaningful links to China's artistic past The exhibition will be organized thematically into four parts and will include such highlights as Xu Bing's dramatic Book from the Sky ca 1988 an installation that will fill an entire gallery Family Tree 2000 a set of vivid photographs documenting a performance by Zhang Huan in which his facial features and his identity are obscured gradually by physiognomic texts that are inscribed directly onto his face and Map of China 2006 by Ai Weiwei which is constructed entirely of wood salvaged from demolished Qing dynasty temples

Artefacts of Writing Peter D. McDonald, 2017-09-29 Some forms of literature interfere with the workings of the literate brain posing a challenge to readers of all kinds including professional literary critics In Artefacts of Writing Peter D McDonald argues they pose as much of a challenge to the way states conceptualise language culture and community Drawing on a wealth of evidence from Victorian scholarly disputes over the identity of the English language to the constitutional debates about its future in Ireland India and South Africa and from the quarrels over the idea of culture within the League of Nations in the interwar years to UNESCO's ongoing struggle to articulate a viable concept of diversity McDonald brings together a large ensemble of legacy writers including T S Eliot James Joyce and Rabindranath Tagore putting them in dialogue with each other and with the policy makers who shaped the formation of modern states and the history of internationalist thought from the 1860s to the 1940s In the second part of the book he reflects on the continuing evolution of these dialogues showing how a varied array of more contemporary writers from Amit Chaudhuri J M Coetzee and Salman Rushdie to Antjie Krog Arvind Krishna Mehrotra and Es'kia Mphahlele cast new light on a range of questions concerning education literacy human rights translation indigenous knowledge and cultural diversity that have preoccupied UNESCO since 1945 At once a novel contribution to institutional and intellectual history and an innovative exercise in literary and philosophical analysis Artefacts of Writing affords a unique perspective on literature's place at the centre of some of the most fraught often lethal public controversies that defined the long twentieth century and that continue to haunt us today

Xu Bing Sarah E. Fraser, Yu-Chieh Li, 2020-07-20 This volume offers a path breaking reassessment of Xu Bing's oeuvre by analyzing the diverse cultural environments in which his work has developed since the Book from the Sky It contains three lecture transcripts and eight art historical essays these explore themes such as Xu's animal works audience participation new ink prints realism socialist spectacle and word play A critical question addressed in this volume is what carries art to a global level beyond regional histories and cultural symbols Absorbing critical essays on contemporary Chinese aesthetics addressing the social context and philosophical concerns that underlie Xu Bing's key works The authors analyze Xu's art shedding light on the tangled history of socialism and neoliberalism in the Post Mao period Prof Dr Lothar Ledderose Senior Professor Institute of East Asian Art University of Heidelberg

Experimental Chinese Literature Tong King Lee, 2015-04-14 Experimental Chinese Literature is the first theoretical account of material poetics from the dual perspectives of translation and technology

Focusing on a range of works by contemporary Chinese authors including Hsia Y Chen Li and Xu Bing Tong King Lee explores how experimental writers engage their readers in multimodal reading experiences by turning translation into a method and by exploiting various technologies The key innovation of this book rests with its conceptualisation of translation and technology as spectrums that interact in different ways to create sensuous embodied texts Drawing on a broad range of fields such as literary criticism multimodal studies and translation Tong King Lee advances the notion of the translational text which features transculturality and intersemioticity in its production and reception Art and Language:

Explorations in (Post) Modern Thought and Visual Culture Christiane Treichl, 2017-12-19 Art and Language Explorations in Post Modern Thought and Visual Culture sheds new light on the symbiotic relationship between art and language by exploring how these cultured sets consociate on philosophical and art historical levels Against the backdrop of visual semiotics the first section of the book considers the differences between art and language from various vantage points meaning making asking if art is a language Ernst Cassirer's symbolic forms Jan Mukařovský's signs and Gilles Deleuze's philosophy The second section of the book deals with the works of post modern artists from diverse cultural backgrounds who unfasten traditional linguistic and artistic systems by destabilising the viewer and blurring the boundaries between art and language The author argues that this is the most productive cutting edge aspect of the word image relationship of that period Language provides post modern art with its thrust and focus and offers a site for critical intervention The artistic forays the author embarks on cover a wide range touching on Surrealism Dada Arabic Calligraphy and Chinese Conceptualist Art Understanding the Chinese City Li Shiqiao, 2014-04-29 This book teaches us to read the contemporary Chinese city Li Shiqiao deftly crafts a new theory of the Chinese city and the dynamics of urbanization by exploring the rise of stories of labour finance and their hierarchies examining how the Chinese city has been shaped by the figuration of the writing system analyzing the continuing importance of the family and its barriers of protection against real and imagined dangers demonstrating how actual structures bring into visual being the networks of safety in personal and family networks Understanding the Chinese City elegantly traces a thread between ancient Chinese city formations and current urban organizations revealing hidden continuities that show how instrumental the past has been in forming the present Rather than becoming obstacles to change ancient practices have become effective strategies of adaptation under radically new terms

The Oxford Handbook of Language Policy and Planning James W. Tollefson, Miguel Pérez-Milans, 2018-05-07 This Handbook provides a state of the art account of research in language policy and planning LPP Through a critical examination of LPP the Handbook offers new direction for a field in theoretical and methodological turmoil as a result of the socio economic institutional and discursive processes of change taking place under the conditions of Late Modernity Late Modernity refers to the widespread processes of late capitalism leading to the selective privatization of services including education the information revolution associated with rapidly changing statuses and functions of languages the weakening of the institutions of nation states along with the strengthening of non state actors and the fragmentation of overlapping and competing identities associated with new complexities of language identity relations and new forms of multilingual language use As an academic discipline in the social sciences LPP is fraught with tensions between these processes of change and the still powerful ideological framework of modern nationalism It is an exciting and energizing time for LPP research This Handbook propels the field forward offering a dialogue between the two major historical trends in LPP associated with the processes of Modernity and Late Modernity the focus on continuity behind the institutional policies of the modern nation state and the attention to local processes of uncertainty and instability across different settings resulting from processes of change The Handbook takes great strides toward overcoming the long standing division between top down and bottom up analysis in LPP research setting the stage for theoretical and methodological innovation Part I defines alternative theoretical and conceptual frameworks in LPP emphasizing developments since the ethnographic turn including ethnography in LPP historical discursive approaches ethics normative theorizing and transdisciplinary methods and the renewed focus on socio economic class Part II examines LPP against the background of influential ideas about language shaped by the institutions of the nation state with close attention to the social position of minority languages and specific communities facing profound language policy challenges Part III investigates the turmoil and tensions that currently characterize LPP research under conditions of Late Modernity Finally Part IV presents an integrative summary and directions for future LPP research

Realms of Literacy David B. Lurie, 2020-03-17 In the world history of writing Japan presents an unusually detailed record of transition to literacy Extant materials attest to the social cultural and political contexts and consequences of the advent of writing and reading from the earliest appearance of imported artifacts with Chinese inscriptions in the first century BCE through the production of texts within the Japanese archipelago in the fifth century to the widespread literacies and the simultaneous rise of a full fledged state in the late seventh and eighth centuries David B Lurie explores the complex processes of adaptation and invention that defined the early Japanese transition from orality to textuality Drawing on archaeological and archival sources varying in content style and medium this book highlights the diverse modes and uses of writing that coexisted in a variety of configurations among different social groups It offers new perspectives on the pragmatic contexts and varied natures of multiple simultaneous literacies the relations between languages and systems of inscription and the aesthetic dimensions of writing Lurie s investigation into the textual practices of early Japan illuminates not only the cultural history of East Asia but also the broader comparative history of writing and literacy in the ancient world
