Coaching Relationships Erik de Haan, Charlotte Sills, 2012-04-01 Rather than focus on the actions of the coach, this handbook places relationships to one's self and to others at the heart of the coaching activity. Beginning with an explanation of relational coaching including its principles and practices, this account goes on to describe the evolution of the relational turn in executive coaching. Based on the descriptions of robust pieces of research into what works in coaching which were carried out in three different countries: the United States, Canada, and the UK, this book brings sophisticated psychological thinking to the business context of executive coaching, thus deepening the experiences of being an executive coach in the modern marketplace.

Coaching and Supervising Through Bereavement Julia Menaul, Maggie João, 2022-10-17 This book presents a pragmatic guide for coaches and supervisors working with grief and bereavement, providing both useful case studies and practical techniques to aid professionals in embracing the complexity of working with these topics in a coaching context. Coaching and Supervising Through Bereavement clearly delineates the boundary between bereavement issues requiring specialist counselling and normal bereavement topics within coaching. It addresses how to coach clients through all different forms of bereavement, not just through death but also other losses such as job loss and relationship loss, and enables coaches to shine a light on their own bereavement journeys for the benefits of themselves and their clients. The authors also offer a guide for coaching supervisors to aid the ethical and emotional support required for their own supervisees and themselves. This book debunks the myth that bereavement should not be discussed in coaching and so will be a valuable resource for any practicing coach or supervisor of all levels of experience or expertise.
