All Politics Is Global Daniel W. Drezner, 2008-08-18 Has globalization diluted the power of national governments to regulate their own economies Are international governmental and nongovernmental organizations weakening the hold of nation states on global regulatory agendas Many observers think so But in All Politics Is Global Daniel Drezner argues that this view is wrong Despite globalization states especially the great powers still dominate international regulatory regimes and the regulatory goals of states are driven by their domestic interests As Drezner shows state size still matters The great powers the United States and the European Union remain the key players in writing global regulations and their power is due to the size of their internal economic markets If they agree there will be effective global governance If they don't agree governance will be fragmented or ineffective And paradoxically the most powerful sources of great power preferences are the least globalized elements of their economies Testing this revisionist model of global regulatory governance on an unusually wide variety of cases including the Internet finance genetically modified organisms and intellectual property rights Drezner shows why there is such disparity in the strength of international regulations

Geographic Hypermedia

Emmanuel Stefanakis, Michael P Peterson, Costas Armenakis, Vasilis Delis, 2007-01-04 This book introduces a new paradigm Geographic Hypermedia which emerges from the convergence of Geographic Information Science and permedia technology Both GI Science and hypermedia have been rapidly evolving fields The initial idea of Geographic Hypermedia was born in 2004 when the editors had been invited to organize a workshop in conjunction with the Hypertext conference organized annually by the Special Interest Group of the Association for Computing Machinery The purpose of the workshop was to examine how hypermedia concepts and tools may be applied in geographical domains The workshop was eventually held in conjunction with the Maps and the Internet Commission of the International Cartographic Association at the annual meeting of the Association of American Geographers in Denver Colorado in April 2005 The Denver workshop was a successful event bringing together multidisciplinary researchers and professionals in the area of Geographic permedia Researchers from four continents and well recognized institutions presented their work and exchanged opinions about the new paradigm its content and distinct characteristics from other paradigms Extended versions of the papers presented at the workshop along with some invited chapters from experts in the field led to the compendium of the twenty five chapters in this book volume Geographic Hypermedia is not yet a mature paradigm but we aspire to provide the scientific community with a contemporary view of Geographic Hypermedia present an overview of its progress and current status while also promoting further discussion and research
