Conditions Val Hopwood, Clare Donnellan, 2010-07-23 Written by two leading experts in the field Acupuncture in Neurological Conditions aims to improve patient care by combining Western and Traditional Chinese Medicine TCM concepts of treatment The language of TCM is uniquely combined with that of evidence based clinical reasoning to provide an approach relevant to both acupuncture and physiotherapy clinical practice All major types of neurological conditions encountered in clinical practice are examined Chinese medical patterns relevant to the application of acupuncture are described as well as key patterns of dysfunction based on a Western medical perspective The place of acupuncture within the overall management of different neurological conditions is also discussed Clinical reasoning options from both TCM and Western medical perspectives are provided and illustrated by real cases from clinical practice forming a sound platform for true integrated medicine Fully evidence based Provides clinical reasoning options from TCM and Western medical perspectives Illustrates clinical reasoning with real cases from clinical practice Provides detailed examination of all major types of neurological conditions encountered in clinical practice Hand Book for Acupuncture and Acupressure Prof. Dr. T. Selvaraj, 2025-05-06 Today Alternative medicines are getting popular all over the world In fact it has proved to be a new hope for many disappointed patients This research work gives detailed information differences and awareness about various diseases which can be treated with Allopathy and Alternative medicines Acupuncture is the art of healing based on the natural law of healing and a god given gift discovered by Huang Di Father of Chinese Acupuncture The beginnings of traditional Chinese medicine are obscure It is believed however to have developed like the Indian Ayurveda system from folk medicine and as in Ayurveda there is no lack of mythical explanations The three Legendary Emperors Shen Nung Huang Di and Fu Hsi are traditionally believed to have been the originators of Chinese medicine A very large part of the world s population lives in fact in rural and sometimes in accessible areas where western medicine due to the constraints of its sophistication cannot easily be made available The most potent therapeutic weapon of the barefoot doctor is the acupuncture needle at CHINA It is safe simple effective and economical and can be used by personnel after a short period of training Acupuncture therefore is the short term as well as the long term answer to the health needs of the greater part of the third world in many everyday illnesses This is not to say that acupuncture should be used only in the absence of western medicine Many people even in the west are becoming more aware of the manifold and horrendous complications of drug therapy and drug induced diseases and are seeking alternative forms of therapy But a large quantity of drugs is still consumed as home remedies in minor self limiting illnesses Like the common cold tonsillitis insomnia constipation headache and gastro enteritis It is incumbent for the cultured mind of today to have an elementary understanding of Acupuncture and to employ it in such common disorders before reaching for the bottle of pills Acupuncture is eminently applicable also in some modern situations
