Anderson, Douglas J. Reiss, Gerard E. Development and Schizophrenia Sarnoff A. Mednick, J. Meggin Hollister, 2012-12-06 This is the third meeting we have organized which has explored the meaning of fetal neural developmental disruption in the etiology of schizophrenia. The first was sponsored by the Schizophrenia Research Branch with the scientific cooperation of Dr David Shore. We met in Washington; the output of the meeting was published in a book entitled Fetal Neural Development and Adult Schizophrenia Cambridge University Press 1991. The next meeting was an Advanced Research Workshop sponsored by NATO and was held at n Ciocco Castelveccchio Pascoli. This meeting was reported in a NATO volume Developmental Neuropathology of Schizophrenia and was edited by Mednick, Cannon, Barr, and La Fosse. The current meeting has noted several advances in the field. There are additional psychiatric illnesses which have been found to be related to maternal viral infection in the second trimester. There have been studies reported which have definitely observed a viral infection in the mothers of fetuses who later evidenced schizophrenia. More evidence has been published which has replicated the second trimester effect. In the future, studies will be wise to provide serological evidence of a viral infection and information on the precise viruses involved. Another important step will be to determine whether second trimester maternal viral infection is related to a behavioral deficit in the infant. If neural development has been compromised, it might be possible to detect deficits in the infant with the proper measures. We look forward to future meetings at which these new areas might be explored.

Search for the Causes of Schizophrenia Heinz Häfner, Wagner F. Gattaz, 2012-12-06 H. HAFNER and W. F. GATTAZ. Between 1891 and 1955 three founders of modern psychiatry: Emil Kraepelin (1856-1926), Karl Jaspers (1883-1969), and Kurt Schneider (1887-1967) lectured at the University of Heidelberg. Kraepelin for 12 years, Jaspers for over 25 years, and Schneider for approximately 10 years. During this period they laid the foundations of descriptive psychopathology and modern classification and contributed essentially to the development of our current thinking on schizophrenia. In 1986, on the occasion of the 600th anniversary of the University of Heidelberg, we held a symposium in memory of these three giants of psychiatry for which we chose the title Search for the Causes of Schizophrenia. It was jointly organized by the Central Institute of Mental Health in Mannheim and the Department of Psychiatry of the University of Heidelberg. The intention was to meet one of the major challenges of current psychiatric research: namely, the fact that since Kraepelin's masterly description of Dementia praecox (1894) and E. Bleuler's slightly different definition of schizophrenia (1911), we have made only insufficient advances in clarifying the aetiology of this frequent and still often disabling mental disease.
