Scholars Who Teach The Art Of College Teaching:

Scholars who Teach Steven M. Cahn,1978 Bronx Socrates Steven M. Cahn,2024-08-08 Academic life regularly honors leading scholars but rarely recognizes those who have excelled in undergraduate teaching This volume salutes Professor of Philosophy Robert H Gurland a paragon in the classroom who recently retired after having taught over 25 000 students primarily at New York University but also for a couple of years at the United States Military Academy at West Point His impact on generations was immeasurable Even in classes of over 200 he knew the names of all his students and something about each over many decades he taught virtually the entire philosophy curriculum and every semester he personally graded with numerous detailed comments the hundreds of papers submitted In one student s words echoed by numerous others Over the course of my education I have had many professors but only one teacher Teaching

Zealand New Zealand. Parliament. House of Representatives, 1892 Handbook of Research on Teaching Drew Gitomer, Courtney Bell, 2016-05-19 The Fifth Edition of the Handbook of Research on Teaching is an essential resource for students and scholars dedicated to the study of teaching and learning. This volume offers a vast array of topics ranging from the history of teaching to technological and literacy issues. In each authoritative chapter, the authors summarize the state of the field while providing conceptual overviews of critical topics related to research on teaching. Each of the volume's 23 chapters is a canonical piece that will serve as a reference tool for the field. The Handbook provides readers with an unparalleled view of the current state of research on teaching across its multiple facets and related fields. The Teachers Journal and Abstract, 1929 Assessing the Teaching of Writing Amy E. Dayton, 2015-03-15 Although fraught with politics and other perils, teacher evaluation can contribute in important positive ways to faculty development at both the individual and the departmental levels. Yet the logistics of creating a valid assessment are complicated. Inconsistent methods, rater bias, and overreliance on student evaluation forms have proven problematic. The essays in Assessing the Teaching of Writing demonstrate constructive ways of evaluating teacher performance, taking into consideration the immense number of variables involved. Contributors to the volume examine a range of fundamental issues, including the political context of declining state funds in education, growing public critique of the professoriate, and demands for accountability resulting from federal policy initiatives like No Child Left Behind, the increasing sophistication of assessment methods and technologies, and the continuing interest in the scholarship of teaching. The first section addresses concerns and advances in assessment methodologies, and the second takes a closer look at unique individual sites and models of assessment. Chapters collectively argue for viewing teacher assessment as a rhetorical practice. Fostering new ways of thinking about teacher evaluation, Assessing the Teaching of Writing will be of great interest not only to writing program administrators but also to those concerned with faculty development and teacher assessment outside the writing program. Cultivating Critical Conversations in Art Education Connie Stewart, Eli Burke, Lisa Hochtritt, Toya Northington, 2023 These stories from art educators highlight how art and visual culture can bridge learning with lived experience. Written by and for art educators from all backgrounds and contexts, this volume offers guidance for expanding students' opportunities to critically examine current events, histories, and cultural assumptions in ways that are relevant and inclusive of all identities. Readers will learn how to use contemporary art and dialogue as tools to acknowledge and value the unique perspectives of each person. Authors from diverse settings offer topics, insights, resources, and research for centering voices and critical conversations in K-12, higher education, museums, and nontraditional classrooms. The book addresses such questions as: How can a teacher reflect on their own assumptions and biases before crafting lessons and discussion prompts? In what ways can contemporary art encourage dialogue in art learning spaces? What happens when current national issues intersect with the personal lives of students? How can teachers democratize the classroom so all students are represented? How can teachers demonstrate ways to critically examine
