The Schooldays of Jesus J. M. Coetzee,2017-02-21 LONGLISTED FOR THE MAN BOOKER PRIZE A NEW YORK MAGAZINE BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR From the Nobel Prize winning author J M Coetzee the haunting sequel to The Childhood of Jesus continuing the journey of Dav d Sim n and In s The Death of Jesus is forthcoming from Viking When you travel across the ocean on a boat all your memories are washed away and you start a completely new life That is how it is There is no before There is no history The boat docks at the harbour and we climb down the gangplank and we are plunged into the here and now Time begins Dav d is the small boy who is always asking questions Sim n and In s take care of him in their new town Estrella He is learning the language he has begun to make friends He has the big dog Bol var to watch over him But he ll be seven soon and he should be at school And so with the guidance of the three sisters who own the farm where Sim n and In s work Dav d is enrolled in the Academy of Dance It s here in his new golden dancing slippers that he learns how to call down the numbers from the sky But it s here too that he will make troubling discoveries about what grown ups are capable of In this mesmerizing allegorical tale Coetzee deftly grapples with the big questions of growing up of what it means to be a parent the constant battle between intellect and emotion and how we choose to live our lives Memory as

Colonial Capital Erica L. Johnson,Éloïse Brezault,2017-08-17 This volume examines the ways that writers from the Caribbean Africa and the U S theorize and employ postcolonial memory in ways that expose or challenge colonial narratives of the past and shows how memory assumes particular forms and values in post colonial contexts in twenty and twenty first century works The problem of contested memory and colonial history continues to be an urgent and timely issue as colonial history has served to crush erase and manipulate collective and individual memories Indeed the most powerful mechanism of colonial discourse is that which alters and silences local histories and even individuals memories in service to colonial authority Johnson and Brezault work to contextualize the politics of writing memory in the shadow of colonial history creating a collection that pioneers a postcolonial turn in cultural memory studies suitable for scholars interested in cultural memory postcolonial Francophone and ethnic studies Includes a foreword by Marianne Hirsch The organization and structure of autobiographical memory John Mace,2019-10-15 The topic of autobiographical memory has held a prominent role in memory research for the past 30 years as it has proven indispensable to the understanding of human memory and cognition An important focus of autobiographical memory research is uncovering the basic structure nature and organization of the autobiographical memory system This book explores the organization and structure of autobiographical memory Based on over thirty years of research and the latest empirical findings it presents the major theories and problems in the science of autobiographical memory organization At its core are two influential global views on the organization structure and function of autobiographical memory chapters 2 and 3 In addition the volume examines the organization of autobiographical memory from a developmental perspective chapter 4 It includes a chapter examining the neuroscience of autobiographical memory organization chapter 7 and a chapter examining organization from a functional perspective chapter 6 Also covered is the role of culture in forming autobiographical memory chapter 5 the role of the self in organizing autobiographical memory chapter 8 insights from the reminiscence bump on organization chapter 9 and a chapter on the organization of episodic autobiographical memories chapter 10 For students and researcher with an interest in memory the volume is a timely and important addition to their literature The Seven-Branched Candlestick: The Schooldays of Young American Jew Gilbert W. Gabriel,2022-07-20 This autobiography introduces the readers to the life of the author as a child who also happens to be Jewish He specifically highlights the seven important years he spent as a student two of them occurred while he was at high school one at a military school on the Hudson and four while studying at city s university In his own words he describes his experiences as follows Because they were not altogether happy I have no right to think of them as lean years For each one of them meant much to me means as much now as I look back and am chastened and strengthened by their memory Each is as a lighted candle in the dark of the past that I look back upon And I like to imagine that since there are seven of them they are in the seven branched candlestick which is so stately and so reverent a symbol of my Faith
