School For Politics:

Black Mayors and School Politics Wilbur C Rich, 2021-12-12 First Published in 1996 Some people believe that if inner city black children had excellent schools they would perform better in them Granted schools are a part of the problem but they are not all of the solution Schools are only buildings where teachers administrators and students interact Learning is a more much complex process There are many forces arrayed against an inner city child that preclude him her from mastering the education process Among these forces are poverty family instability disruptive classroom environments and incompetent teachers There seems to be no end to research and speculation about how to overcome these forces However the author asserts that the gap between black and white children continues to widen With research beginning in 1989 exploring three school systems for this study Detroit Michigan Gary Indiana and Newark New Jersey The book presents a systematic survey of school politics in these three cities giving particular emphasis to local reform efforts The Politics of School Government G. Baron, 2014-06-28 Leading international scholars consider changes and developments in school government practice in the United States Canada England and Wales Scotland Australia New Zealand France West Germany Italy Denmark Norway and Sweden Each chapter looks at the introduction or reform of councils at school level designed to secure the involvement in decision making of parents teachers students and the local community Essential reading for everyone involved in educational administration this informative book will also be of interest to researchers of comparative education the politics of education and participatory developments in the field Political Science and School Politics Samuel Kimball Gove, Frederick M. Wirt, 1976-01-01 School Leadership, Citizenship Education and Politics in China Shuqin Xu, 2016-08-23 This book examines and theorizes the dynamics and complexities of leadership in citizenship education in junior secondary schools in Shanghai China Specifically it examines from a macro and micro political theoretical perspective the interactions between principals and school party secretaries SPSs and how they respond to the demands of macro and micro political actors This qualitative empirical research found four major school leadership citizenship education scenarios in which principals and SPSs addressed the interests of different macro and micro political actors Moreover principals and SPSs enjoyed a complicated working relationship at the micro political school level in which they collaborated to fulfill their responsibilities and respond to school macro and micro political actors while competing for power over leadership in citizenship education Principals and SPSs leadership in citizenship education was shaped by inter related factors including diverse influences in a multi leveled world the integration of politics and education the demands of macro and micro political actors and personal factors To interpret these findings this study proposes a theoretical framework for understanding leadership in citizenship education in China as a political exercise This theoretical framework is useful for understanding the complexity of school and citizenship education leadership the micro political relationship between Chinese principals and SPSs and their dynamic and complex interactions with macro and micro political actors Surviving Internal School Politics Beverley H. Johns, Mary

Z. McGrath, Sarup R. Mathur, 2013 This book provides readers with the basic coping strategies of surviving within the political arena of their schools. If educators want to survive they should read this book and find practical strategies from those who have collectively worked within the school setting for over 75 years. Voices of experience to share helpful coping skills. When educators are bogged down with gossip, ostracism, and upsetting events, they will not be able to work effectively with their students and coworkers. These dynamics are illustrated throughout the book through the use of fictitious educators who portray staff dealing with situations to which readers can relate. In each chapter, readers will find an action plan designed to provide tools that educators should utilize in surviving internal politics. The Political Dynamics of School

Choice L. Fusarelli, 2003-05-15 Lance D. Fusarelli examines the relationship between the charter school and voucher issues. To what degree does political support for charter schools from a coalition of teacher associations, school board groups, superintendents, and voucher advocates slow or even stop the forces for vouchers? Or do these coalitions, which successfully pushed charter school legislation through the legislature, actually fuel the fires of privatization? Charter schools legislation has enjoyed bipartisan support precisely because the threat of vouchers is so great. And contrary to the strategy of voucher opponents, the spread of charter schools increases rather than alleviates the push for vouchers. Political Feasibility of

Reform in School Financing Arnold J. Meltsner, 1973 Handbook of Research on Urban Politics and Policy in the United States Ronald K. Vogel, 1997-01-21 A comprehensive reference work which provides a way to access research on urban politics and policy in the United States. Experts in the field guide readers through major controversies while evaluating and assessing the subfields of urban politics and policy. Each chapter follows the same basic organization with topics such as methodological and theoretical issues, current states of the field, and directions for future research. For students, this work provides a starting place to guide them to the most important works in a particular subfield and a context to place their work in a larger body of knowledge. For scholars, it serves as a reference work for immediate familiarity with subfields of the discipline, including classic studies and major research questions. For urban policymakers or analysts, the handbook provides a wealth of information and allows quick identification of existing academic knowledge and research relevant to the problem at hand. The New Politics Of Race And Gender Catherine Marshall, 2002-11 Provides an overview of the political historical context of race and gender politics in schools, followed by an in-depth analysis. The chapters include work of scholars and policy analysts on policy and policy implementation at all levels of school politics in the USA, Australia, and Israel.

The Politics of School Reform, 1870 - 1940 Paul E. Peterson, 1985-07 Was school reform in the decades following the Civil War an upper middle class effort to maintain control of the schools? Was public education simply a vehicle used by Protestant elites to impose their cultural ideas upon recalcitrant immigrants? In The Politics of School Reform 1870-1940, Paul E. Peterson challenges such standard revisionist interpretations of American educational history. Urban public schools, he argues, were part of a politically pluralistic society. Their growth, both in political power and in sheer numbers, had as much to do with the demands and influence of trade unions immigrant groups and the public more generally as it did with the actions of social and economic elites Drawing upon rarely examined archival data Peterson demonstrates that widespread public backing for the common school existed in Atlanta Chicago and San Francisco He finds little evidence of systematic discrimination against white immigrants at least with respect to classroom crowding and teaching assignments Instead his research uncovers solid trade union and other working class support for compulsory education adequate school financing and curricular modernization Urban reformers campaigned assiduously for fiscally sound politically strong public schools Often they had at least as much support from trade unionists as from business elites In fact it was the business backed machine politicians from San Francisco's William Buckley to Chicago's Edward Kelly who deprived the schools of funds At a time when public schools are being subjected to searching criticism and when new educational ideas are gaining political support The Politics of School Reform 1870-1940 is a timely reminder of the strength and breadth of those groups that have always supported free public schools

Education Politics for the New Century Douglas E. Mitchell, Margaret E. Goertz, 1990 The 1989 Yearbook commemorates the PEA's first twenty years by concentrating on the changing social economic technological and political forces that will shape education politics and policy into the twenty first century The Yearbook focuses on the roles to be played by education professionals local citizen groups government agencies and business leaders in shaping education policy responses to racial and ethnic segregation school restructuring technology utilisation and the development of education politics and policy

Cities, Politics, and Policy John P. Pelissero, 2002-10-01 Just because Milwaukee isn't Manhattan doesn't mean that those urban centers face completely unique challenges Through effective comparative analysis of key issues in urban studies how city managers share power with mayors how spending policies affect economic development and how school politics impact education policy students can clearly see how scholars discern patterns and formulate conclusions to offer theoretical and practical insights from which all cities can benefit Pelissero brings together an impressive team of contributors to explore variation among cities through case studies and cross sectional analyses Each author synthesizes the field's seminal literature while explaining how urban leaders and their constituents grapple with everything from city council politics to conflict and cooperation among minority groups Authors identify both key trends and gaps in the scholarship and help set the research agenda for the years to come Lively case material will hook your students while the accessible presentation of empirical evidence make this reader the comprehensive and sophisticated text you demand

Politics, Markets, and America's Schools John E. Chubb, Terry M. Moe, 2011-09-01 During the 1980s widespread dissatisfaction with America's schools gave rise to a powerful movement for educational change and the nation's political institutions responded with aggressive reforms Chubb and Moe argue that these reforms are destined to fail because they do not get to the root of the problem The fundamental causes of poor academic performance they claim are not to be found in the schools but rather in the institutions of direct democratic control by which the schools have traditionally been governed Reformers fail to solve the problem when the institutions ARE the problem The authors recommend a new system of public education built around parent student choice and school competition that would promote school autonomy thus providing a firm foundation for genuine school improvement and superior student achievement People & Politics in Urban America Robert W. Kweit, 2013-10-31 This revised textbook for courses on urban politics challenges the notion that the field is dominated by political economy showing that despite the undeniable importance of economic issues citizens do play a significant part in urban politics The Journal of Education Thomas Williams Bicknell, Albert Edward Winship, Anson Wood Belding, 1929 Interest Groups in U.S. Local Politics Sarah Anzia, 2023-09-15 Interest group scholarship has so far focused mainly on national politics and has had very little to say about interest groups in American cities counties school districts and special districts This special issue is a step toward remedying that it is a collection of articles and essays that examine some of the interest groups that are commonly active in US local politics The contributions herein discuss real estate developers tenant organizations teachers unions police unions and local PACs covering topics such as how they are organized how they engage in local politics some of the constraints on their influence and the nuanced ways in which ideology and identities can sometimes shape what coalitions are possible in the local context By bringing this work together in one place in a journal devoted to research on interest groups the hope is that this special issue will help to cement interest groups in local politics as the recognizable research focus it deserves to be Comparative Political Thought Michael Freeden, Andrew Vincent, 2013 This book examines some of the following issues Is political theory Western centric What can we learn from non Western traditions of political thought How do we compare different strands of national and regional political thought Political thought in China India the Middle East and Latin America Islamic political thought and more Political thought in the wake of post colonialism This is a much needed overview of this key emerging area and will be of interest to all students of political theory thought and philosophy Handbook of Education Policy Research Gary Sykes, Barbara Schneider, David N. to higher education teacher accountability and testing and measurement cut across the 63 chapters in the volume The politics surrounding these and other issues are objectively analyzed by authors and commentators Each of the seven sections concludes with two commentaries by leading scholars in the field The first considers the current state of policy design and the second addresses the current state of policy research This book is appropriate for scholars and graduate students working in the field of education policy and for the growing number of academic government and think tank researchers engaged in policy research For more information on the American Educational Research Association please visit <http://www.aera.net> Legislature William Ker Muir, 1982 The School Bulletin and New York State Educational Journal , 1907
