Natural History Of The Senses:

A Natural History of the Senses Diane Ackerman, 2011-12-07 Diane Ackerman's lusciously written grand tour of the realm of the senses includes conversations with an iceberg in Antarctica and a professional nose in New York along with dissertations on kisses and tattoos sadistic cuisine and the music played by the planet Earth Delightful gives the reader the richest possible feeling of the worlds the senses take in The New York Times A Natural History of the Senses Diane Ackerman, 1993-06-01 A Natural History of the Senses Diane Ackerman, 1990 Divided into five parts this book takes each of the senses in turn and explores all facets and associations Strange truths are juxtaposed with plain facts The reader learns of the invention of the croissant why the Empress Josephine wore violet scented perfume that premature babies develop quicker if they are massaged what makes up the perfect Omnivore's picnic and what the special appeal of chocolate vanilla and ginger is A Natural History of the Senses Diane Ackerman, 1991-12-01 A naturalist guides readers through the human senses discussing the evolution of the kiss the sadistic cuisine of eighteenth century England the chemistry of pain and the melodies of Earth A Natural History of Love Diane Ackerman, 2011-06-01 The bestselling author of A Natural History of the Senses now explores the allure of adultery the appeal of aphrodisiacs and the cult of the kiss Enchantingly written and stunningly informed this audaciously brilliant romp through the world of romantic love Washington Post Book World is the next best thing to love itself Cultivating Delight Diane Ackerman, 2002-10-01 In the mode of her bestseller A Natural History of the Senses Diane Ackerman celebrates the sensory pleasures of her garden through the seasons Whether she is deadheading flowers or glorying in the profusion of roses offering sugar water to a hummingbird or studying the slug she welcomes the unexpected drama and extravagance as well as the sanctuary her garden offers Written in sensuous lyrical prose Cultivating Delight is a hymn to nature and to the pleasure we take in it Shakespeare / Sense Simon Smith, 2020-05-14 Shakespeare Sense explores the intersection of Shakespeare and sensory studies asking what sensation can tell us about early modern drama and poetry and conversely how Shakespeare explores the senses in his literary craft his fictional worlds and his stagecraft 15 substantial new essays by leading Shakespeareans working in sensory studies and related disciplines interrogate every aspect of Shakespeare and sense from the place of hearing smell sight touch and taste in early modern life literature and performance culture through to the significance of sensation in 21st century engagements with Shakespeare on stage screen and page The volume explores and develops current methods for studying Shakespeare and sensation reflecting upon the opportunities and challenges created by this emergent and influential area of scholarly enquiry Many chapters develop fresh readings of particular plays and poems from Hamlet A Midsummer Night's Dream King Lear and The Tempest to less studied works such as The Comedy of Errors Venus and Adonis Troilus and Cressida and Cymbeline 360 Degrees of Reading W. E. Poplaski, 2007 What do Richard Dawkins Jackie Robinson and St Teresa have in common They all can be found in this book 360 of Reading is a literature reference guide for high school students It makes a great stocking stuffer at Christmas or end of school year gift for that special student Any student who wants to read great literature will benefit from this book It has reference pages for 360 books that cover novels drama poetry and a broad range of non fiction Each reference page includes bibliographic information a descriptive note keywords and more Furthermore the books are indexed by author country of origin date of first publication and keywords It also has an appendix listing an additional forty titles Twenty four books by Pulitzer Prize winners and twenty six books by Nobel Prize in Literature winners are among the works listed in this reference guide

Sins of the Spirit, Blessings of the Flesh, Revised Edition Matthew Fox, 2016-03-15 Visionary theologian and award winning author Matthew Fox challenges traditional perceptions of good and evil by offering a new theology that lays the groundwork for a more enlightened treatment of ourselves one another and all of nature In this revised edition with a luminous foreword by Deepak Chopra and a new preface that brings the book up to date with the cataclysmic events of the new millennium Fox illustrates how contrary to mainstream church doctrine flesh is the grounding of spirit Fox argues that our culture has concentrated far too much on transgressions of the flesh while failing to take into account its sacredness Artfully weaving together the wisdom of East and West he considers Thomas Aquinas's definition of sin as misdirected love and applies parallels between the Eastern teachings of the seven chakras and the Western teachings of the seven capital sins Fox explains how the chakras teach us to direct the love energies we all possess and proposes seven positive precepts for living a full and spirited life He invites us to change the way we think about sin and asserts that we can combat and transform evil through love generosity letting go and creativity Crafting a blueprint for social change Sins of the Spirit Blessings of the Flesh points the way toward a deeper and more compassionate way to live while eloquently revealing the means to confront evil both within and without

Back to Earth Anthony Weston, 1994 In the face of our receding connection to nature and the loss of our direct experience of the world this book proposes a different kind of environmentalism It argues that we must restore our link with the more than human world bringing wilderness animals and the Earth closer to individuals and into daily life

The Senses and the Intellect Alexander Bain, 1864

Making Sense Ralf Hertel, 2021-07-26 Fiction is fascinating All it provides us with is black letters on white pages yet while we read we do not have the impression that we are merely perceiving abstract characters Instead we see the protagonists before our inner eye and hear their voices Descriptions of sumptuous meals make our mouths water we feel physically repelled by depictions of violence or are aroused by the erotic details of sexual conquests We submerge ourselves in the fictional world that no longer stays on the paper but comes to life in our imagination Reading turns into an out of the body experience or rather an in another body experience for we perceive the portrayed world not only through the protagonist's eyes but also through his ears nose tongue and skin In other words we move through the literary text as if through a virtual reality How does literature achieve this trick How does it turn mere letters into vividly experienced worlds This study argues that techniques of sensuous writing contribute decisively to bringing the text to life in the reader's imagination In detailed interpretations of British novels of the 1980s and 1990s by writers such as John Berger John Banville Salman Rushdie Jeanette Winterson or J M Coetzee it uncovers literary strategies for turning the sensuous experience into words and for conveying it to the reader demonstrating how we make sense in and of literature Both readers interested in the contemporary novel and in the sensuousness of the reading experience will profit from this innovative study that not only analyses the interest of contemporary authors in the senses but also pin points literary entry points for the sensuous force of reading The Senses and the Intellect Mex Bain,1855 Senses of the Empire Eleanor Betts,2017-02-24 The Roman empire afforded a kaleidoscope of sensations Through a series of multisensory case studies centred on people places buildings and artefacts and on specific aspects of human behaviour this volume develops ground breaking methods and approaches for sensory studies in Roman archaeology and ancient history Authors explore questions such as what it felt like and symbolised to be showered with saffron at the amphitheatre why the shape of a dancer s body made him immediately recognisable as a social outcast how the dramatic gestures loud noises and unforgettable smells of a funeral would have different meanings for members of the family and for bystanders and why feeling the weight of a signet ring on his finger contributed to a man s sense of identity A multisensory approach is taken throughout with each chapter exploring at least two of the senses of sight hearing smell taste and touch The contributors individual approaches vary reflecting the possibilities and the wide application of sensory studies to the ancient world Underlying all chapters is a conviction that taking a multisensory approach enriches our understanding of the Roman empire but also an awareness of the methodological problems encountered when reconstructing past experiences SENSE THINK ACT Stefan Szczelkun,2018-03-03 Animal Perception and Literary Language Donald Wesling,2018-12-26 Animal Perception and Literary Language shows that the perceptual content of reading and writing derives from our embodied minds Donald Wesling considers how humans evolved from animals have learned to code perception of movement into sentences and scenes The book first specifies terms and questions in animal philosophy and surveys recent work on perception then describes attributes of multispecies thinking and defines a tradition of writers in this lineage Finally the text concludes with literature coming into full focus in twelve case studies of varied readings Overall Wesling s book offers not a new method of literary criticism but a reveal of what we all do with perceptual content when we read The Princeton Review ,1880 The Smells and Senses of Antiquity in the Modern Imagination Adeline Grand-Clément,Charlotte Ribeyrol,2021-12-16 This volume tackles the role of smell under explored in relation to the other senses in the modern rejection reappraisal and idealisation of antiquity Among the senses olfaction in particular has often been overlooked in classical reception studies due to its evanescent nature which makes this sense difficult to apprehend in its past instantiations And yet the smells associated with a given figure or social group convey a rich imagery which in turn connotes specific values perfumes scents and foul odours both reflect and mould the ways in which a society thinks or acts Smells also help to distinguish between male and female citizens and strangers and play an important role during rituals The Smells and Senses of Antiquity in the Modern Imagination focuses on the representation of ancient smells both enticing and repugnant in the visual and performative arts from the late 18th century up to the 21st century The individual contributions explore painting sculpture literature and film but also theatrical performance museum exhibitions advertising television series historical reenactment and graphic novels which have all played a part in reshaping modern audiences perceptions and experiences of the antique Making Sense of Taste Carolyn Korsmeyer,1999

Korsmeyer explains how taste came to occupy so low a place in the hierarchy of senses and why it is deserving of greater philosophical respect and attention The Senses and the Intellect Alexander BAIN (Professor of Logic in the University of Aberdeen.),1855
