Natural Resource Management For Sustainable Development In The Caribbean:

Natural Resource Management for Sustainable Development in the Caribbean Ivan Goodbody, Elizabeth M.

Thomas-Hope, 2002 At the International Earth Summit convened in Rio de Janeiro in 1994 all nations of the world were mandated to protect the environment for the benefit of present and future generations This collection introduces the reader to the major issues involved in the management of a number of resources critical to Caribbean development The chapters discuss the sustainability of water fisheries and agriculture in the region from a variety of perspectives Particular emphasis is also given to the use of energy recreation and coastal resource management and their impact on the fragile ecosystem The book makes a contribution to the ongoing debate of sustainable environmental management within the region and the world

Sustainable Development in the Caribbean John Cox, C. Embree, Institute for Research on Public Policy, 1990 This document contains the conference papers which aimed to design appropriate incentives or disincentives to encourage sustainable development for three key areas policy enabling measures price change policies and policies directed at the needs of the resource user in Caribbean countries Papers also cover ideas which would enable these countries to cope with and respond to international pressures which are limiting their capacity to design implement and regulate sustainable development These pressures affect policies which concern international agencies and institutions regarding such issues as terms of trade debt financing and policing the unsustainable practices of multinational corporations and other countries
