Nature Conservation 2 The Role Of Corridors:

Nature Conservation 2, the Role of Corridors Denis Allan Saunders, Richard J. Hobbs, 1991      Conservation Biology Principles for Forested Landscapes Joan Voller, Scott Harrison, 2011-11-01 This book is intended to provide information to those who wish to interact with the landbase in an ecologically sustainable manner Practitioners charged with the administration of land based programs in industry and government will find the information presented useful It should also be a resource for many community groups involved in land use decision making Humans continue to use forests and make decisions about land use without perfect information Conservation Biology Principles for Forested Landscapes is intended to enable the improvement of planning and decision making processes by providing ecological information on issues of forest use Current approaches are not working Where information exists on new ecologically sustainable approaches practitioners should switch Where the information on a better approach is not yet available practitioners should replace the current inappropriate approach with a variety of flexible ones that offer the opportunity to change with new knowledge      Wildlife Review, 1992      The Ecology of Transportation: Managing Mobility for the Environment John Davenport, Julia L. Davenport, 2006-06-30 Human transport by land sea and air has increased exponentially through time in intensity paralleling rises in population prosperity and rates of technological change Transport has considerable ecological effects many of them detrimental to environmental sustainability This volume brings together international experts from a variety of disciplines to review the ecological effects and their causes in terms of road rail ship and aircraft transport The contributors have different attitudes and agendas Some are ecologists some planners others social scientists Focus ranges from identification of threats and amelioration of damaging effects through to future design of transport systems to minimize environmental degradation Some chapters consider restricted areas of the globe others the globe itself Views encompass deep pessimism and cautious optimism      How Landscapes Change Gay A. Bradshaw, Pablo A. Marquet, 2013-03-09 North and South America share similar human and ecological histories and increasingly economic and social linkages As such issues of ecosystem functions and disruptions form a common thread among these cultures This volume synthesizes the perspectives of several disciplines such as ecology anthropology economy and conservation biology The chief goal is to gain an understanding of how human and ecological processes interact to affect ecosystem functions and species in the Americas Throughout the text the emphasis is placed on habitat fragmentation At the same time the book provides an overview of current theory methods and approaches used in the analysis of ecosystem disruptions and fragmentation      Integrated Protected Area Management Mike Walkey, Ian R. Swingland, Shaun Russell, 1999-05-31 Protected areas have become an increasingly important tool both in the conservation of biodiversity and in revenue generation through sustainable use This is the only sure way to guarantee the protection necessary for many species habitats and ecosystems in the future Integrated Protected Area Management features contributions that consider the design management and sustainable use of these regions Three principal aspects are considered the theory and practice of designation community based conservation and the concept of sustainability identifying priorities for management The emphasis throughout is on the importance of an interdisciplinary approach to planning and the active involvement of all stakeholders in decision making processes as a means of ensuring long term sustainability

Wildlife And Roads: The Ecological Impact John Burton,David Cutler,J Marsden,Bryan Sherwood,2002-06-12 Wildlife and Roads The Ecological Impact is a timely publication as there are growing concerns about the impact made by roads on the environment Many of the aspects of the complex problem of siting new roads and lessening their negative environmental effects are addressed by contributors who are specialists in their respective subject areas Among the topics discussed are legal aspects transport interests planners and contractors viewpoints plant and animal ecology and innovative solutions to some of the problems that roads inevitably impose on the natural environment The articles are based on papers presented at a meeting held by the Linnean Society of London Each author has made revisions for this book where necessary to reflect current circumstances

Reducing the Impacts of Development on Wildlife James Gleeson,Deborah Gleeson,2012-04-12 The rapidly increasing number of threatened flora and fauna species worldwide is one of the chief problems confronting environmental professionals today This problem is largely due to the impact humans have had on land use through development e g agricultural residential industrial infrastructure and mining developments The requirement for developers to implement measures to reduce the impacts of development on wildlife is underpinned by government legislation A variety of measures or strategies are available to reduce such impacts including those to reduce impacts on flora and fauna during land clearance to deter fauna from potential hazards to facilitate the movement of fauna around and through a development site as well as those to provide additional habitat In recent years considerable advances have been made in the techniques used to reduce the impacts of development on wildlife in Australia and overseas Reducing the Impacts of Development on Wildlife contains a comprehensive range of practical measures to assist others to reduce the impacts resulting from development on terrestrial flora and fauna and promotes ecologically sustainable development It will be very useful to environmental consultants and managers developers strategists policy makers and regulators as well as community environmental groups and students 2012 Whitley Award Commendation for Zoological Text

Ecosystem Management and Sustainability Robin Kundis Craig,John Copeland Nagle,Bruce Pardy,Oswald J. Schmitz,William K. Smith,Norman L. Christensen Jr.,Janet Neuman,2012-02-27 Ecosystem Management and Sustainability analyzes myriad human initiated processes and tools developed to foster sustainable natural resource use preservation and restoration It also examines how humans interact with plant marine and animal life in both natural and human altered environments Experts explain the complex ecosystem relationships that result from invasive species roads fencing and even our homes by addressing topics such as fire and groundwater management disturbance and ecosystem resilience Because most people in the 21st century live in urban environments the volume pays special attention to the ecology of cities with detailed coverage

on topics ranging from urban agriculture to landscape architecture The volume focuses on how ecosystems across the world can be restored maintained and used productively and sustainably Land Mosaics Richard T. T. Forman,1995-11-09 An analysis and synthesis of the ecology of heterogeneous land areas Ecology, Planning, and Management of Urban Forests Margaret M. Carreiro,Yong-Chang Song,Jianguo Wu,2007-10-31 It has been increasingly recognized that trees and vegetation in urban areas provide a number of ecological services beyond beautifying cities The purpose of urban forestry is to use trees and natural habitat patches to ameliorate negative environmental impacts of cities and to contribute to the creation of more livable ecological sustainable co cities Ecology Planning and Management of Urban Forests takes an international approach to sharing knowledge about the management of urban forests that has been learned through studies in many different regions This allows the reader to evaluate methods and management that are appropriate for particular geographic environmental and socio political contexts Urban forests are also approached on regional and landscape scales to encompass more natural environments in and around cities rather than within arbitrary municipal boundaries Spatial Modelling and Failure Analysis of Natural and Engineering Disasters through Data-based Methods - Volume II Faming Huang,Zizheng Guo,Huokun Li,Hai Lin,2023-08-01 Towns, Ecology, and the Land Richard T. T. Forman,2019-02-07 A pioneering book highlighting the dynamic environmental dimensions of towns and villages and spatial connections with surrounding land Species Survival in Fragmented Landscapes J. Settele,Chris Margules,Peter Poschlod,Klaus Henle,2012-12-06 The effects of isolation area size and habitat quality on the survival of animal and plant populations in the cultural landscape are central aspects of a research project started in Germany in 1993 Forschungsverbund Isolation FHichengroBe und BiotopqualiHit abbreviated to FIFB After a long period of preparation scientists from seven univer sities and one research institution started to work within the frame of this project Fund ing for four years was provided by the former German Federal Ministry of Research and Technology BMFT now the Ministry of Education and Research BMBF A strong focus of the project has been the improvement of the methodology for environmental impact assessments and the implementation of results into environmental planning As there is a certain risk that national projects develop some kind of mental in breeding it was decided to discuss concepts methods and first results with scientists of international reputation at a rather early stage of the project For this purpose an inter national workshop was held in the small village of Lubast north of Leipzig state of Saxony in March 1995 130 scientists from 10 nations met to discuss and debate issues surrounding habitat fragmentation for three days Papers presented there formed the basis for this book As discussions included general reviews as well as particular case studies we decided to structure this book in a similar way Consequently a combination of broad and more general review like papers as well as original papers are presented Protected Areas, Sustainable Land? Estienne Rodary,2016-04-15 Protected areas such as nature reserves national parks and marine conservation areas are the main tool of nature conservation policies and are increasing on a worldwide scale They are one of the main forms of environmental planning and conservation institutions have increasing means at their disposal At the same time the goals of protected areas have become more diverse with the involvement of more stakeholders and complex institutional frameworks Giving an account of the extension and diversification of protected areas this book determines whether these two processes constitute a breakdown in conservation policies Economists ecologists lawyers anthropologists and geographers analyse the various trends which are fundamental to the future of protected areas to reveal a conflicting scene where narrative around cooperation and integration hides competition between different interests This book shows how protected areas are emerging as zones of divergent experimentations of sustainable development rather than lasting forms of integrative environmental management

Farming Action: Catchment Reaction J Williams, RA Hook, HL Gascoigne, 1998-01-01 Dryland farming is a major export earner for many temperate zone countries yet it continues to degrade a country's natural resources Effects are not restricted to the land changes in water quality can reduce the potential uses of water and bring about catastrophic changes in both freshwater and coastal ecosystems Farming Action Catchment Reaction provides a comprehensive technical overview of the relationships between dryland farming systems and catchment land and water quality in Australia and integrates it in a whole system framework It deals with the issues in terms of people pointers processes and prediction as it discusses social aspects of developing and implementing research to improve dryland farming systems in catchment management programs indicators of catchment health and the processes which determine the impact of the farming action on the catchment response It concludes by considering the adequacy of our ability to use this process knowledge in models to predict the effect of dryland farming on catchment condition
