The Politics of Love Maxime Foerster, 2018-04-03 What would love be if heterosexual couples were no longer assigned gender and sexual norms Maxime Foerster examines the heterosexual trouble between men and women in nineteenth century French Romantic and Decadent literature Key works by authors ranging from George Sand to Charles Baudelaire persistently demonstrate that heterosexuality did not work these authors and many others investigated the struggle that men and women alike waged against patriarchal norms Whereas Romantic fiction dedicated itself to the reinvention of love Decadence promoted sexual and gender deviance In expertly evaluating the discord afflicting fictional heterosexual couples male and female dandies and doctors and their female patients Foerster shows the crucial role that literature played in the fashioning of alternative identities A concluding look at Proust's la recherche du temps perdu traces the legacy of heterosexual trouble in the twentieth century

Surfacing the Politics of Desire Rajeshwari S. Vallury, 2008-08-09 A particular model of masculine desire has traditionally been evoked in an effort to understand the subordinate role of women in male authored fiction Because of this the belief that male authored texts are unfailingly built upon the denial of feminine difference has come to dominate many aspects of literary studies Surfacing the Politics of Desire re examines the myths of masculine desire in order to challenge this premise placing literature at the centre of recent feminist debates over the ontology and politics of sexual difference Citing examples of textual resistance to analytical feminist thought Rajeshwari S Vallury argues that literature is expressive of desires that are not always configured in terms of oppression or the denial of difference In other words a particular politics of reading obscures the multiplicity of desire that literature is capable of affirming and risks sacrificing the possibilities of both literature and desire Through a re evaluation of the sexual politics practiced by nineteenth century male writers such as Balzac Gautier and Maupassant Vallury moves towards a reconfiguration of the relationship between aesthetics and politics Surfacing the Politics of Desire calls into question dominant feminist approaches to the literary representation of gender Enlisting the philosophy of Deleuze and Guattari Vallury calls for a different method of reading one based on a deeper understanding of the politics of literature The Teachings of Modern Christianity on Law, Politics, and Human Nature John Witte (Jr.), John Witte, Frank S. Alexander, 2006 This is a major project to be undertaken as part of a broad initiative of the Pew Charitable Trusts and the University of Notre Dame on the role of Christianity in modern society John Witte is one of the editors of the forthcoming Sex Marriage and the Family A Reader in World Religions The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science, Art, and Finance, 1868

The Canadian Magazine of Politics, Science, Art & Literature, 1916 "Landscape Imagery, Politics, and Identity in a Divided Germany, 1968-1989" Catherine Wilkins, 2017-07-05 Landscape Imagery Politics and Identity in a Divided Germany 1968-1989 explores the communicative relationship between German landscape painting and the viewing public that developed in the wake of the student revolutions of the late 1960s The book demonstrates that contrary to some historical thinking more similarities than differences characterized the sociopolitical concerns of East and West Germans during the late Cold War Era and that it was these shared issues that were reflected in the revival of the Romantic painting genre Catherine Wilkins focuses on recovering the agency of the individual artist and in revising historiography with sensitivity to narration from below Interdisciplinary in nature art historians can benefit from the study's analysis of images and artists not widely known outside of Germany Additionally the consolidation of statistics and data regarding German postwar cultural policy are relevant for political and cultural historians The author contributes to the ongoing multidisciplinary debates regarding Histoire Crois in arguing that a clear dichotomy between East Germany and West Germany did not exist but rather that the residents of both nations shared a concern over some of the same issues of the period and memory studies by using images as primary historical sources able to be employed in the recovery of potentially subversive memory and identity Issues related to gender relations environmentalism and spiritual belief are addressed by Wilkins with appeal for scholars working with those particular themes Poststructuralist and literary theorists as well can find arguments supporting an alternative means of writing history through artworks and private memories The Politics of Grace in Early Modern Literature Deni Kasa, 2024-03-12 This book tells the story of how early modern poets used the theological concept of grace to reimagine their political communities The Protestant belief that salvation was due to sola gratia or grace alone was originally meant to inspire religious reform But as Deni Kasa shows poets of the period used grace to interrogate the most important political problems of their time from empire and gender to civil war and poetic authority Kasa examines how four writers John Milton Edmund Spenser Aemilia Lanyer and Abraham Cowley used the promise of grace to develop idealized imagined communities and not always egalitarian ones Kasa analyzes the uses of grace to make new space for individual and collective agency in the period but also to validate domination and inequality with poets and the educated elite inserted as mediators between the gift of grace and the rest of the people Offering a literary history of politics in a pre secular age Kasa shows that early modern poets mapped salvation onto the most important conflicts of their time in ways missed by literary critics and historians of political thought Grace Kasa demonstrates was an important means of expression and a way to imagine impossible political ideals
