Weisser, 2012-02-01 The first full length book to address the relationships between environment and discourse Natural Discourse explains why and how ecocomposition has become such a critical part of composition studies Beginning by exploring the roots of ecocomposition including a history of the use of the term ecocomposition the book then examines ecological aspects of composition studies and looks at how ecocomposition is informed by ecocriticism cultural studies ecofeminism environmental rhetoric and composition studies The authors draw on their own experiences as teachers of writing and outdoor enthusiasts to describe how ecocomposition can address issues of language and nature public intellectualism and pedagogy      The American Catalogue ,1905      New York School Journal ,1898      Bulletin ,1900

Gold, 2021-04-10 Energy Ecocriticism and Nineteenth Century Fiction Novel Ecologies draws on energy concepts to revisit some of our favorite books Mansfield Park Jane Eyre Great Expectations and The War of the Worlds and the ways these shape our sense of ourselves as ecological beings Barri J Gold regards the laws of thermodynamics not solely as a set of physical principles but also as a cultural and conceptual form that we can use to reimagine our historically vexed relationship to the natural world Beginning with an examination of the parallel inceptions of energy and ecology in the mid nineteenth century this book considers the question of how we may better read and interpret our world developing a recipe for experimental reading and insisting upon the importance of literary studies in a world driving to ecological catastrophe      Lessons of Romanticism Thomas Pfau, Robert F. Gleckner, 1998 Explores how the Romantic period gave birth to a seductive cognitive cultural program that retains far reaching implications for contemporary views on individuality and relationships between the individual and larger groups of identification Established      Victorian Writers and the Environment Laurence W. Mazzeno, Ronald D. Morrison, 2016-12-08 Applying ecocritical theory to the work of Victorian writers this collection explores what a diversity of ecocritical approaches can offer students and scholars of Victorian literature at the same time that it critiques the general effectiveness of ecocritical theory Interdisciplinary in their approach the essays take up questions related to the nonhuman botany landscape evolutionary science and religion The contributors cast a wide net in terms of genre analyzing novels poetry periodical works botanical literature life writing and essays Focusing on a wide range of canonical and noncanonical writers including Charles Dickens the Brontes John Ruskin Christina Rossetti Jane Webb Loudon Anna Sewell and Richard Jefferies Victorian Writers and the Environment demonstrates the ways in which nineteenth century authors engaged not only with humans interaction with the environment during the

Victorian period but also how some authors anticipated more recent attitudes toward the environment

School and Home Education ,1907 Lincoln and Darwin James Lander,2010-09-20 Born on the same day in 1809 Abraham Lincoln and Charles Darwin were true contemporaries Though shaped by vastly different environments they had remarkably similar values purposes and approaches In this exciting new study James Lander places these two iconic men side by side and reveals the parallel views they shared of man and God While Lincoln is renowned for his oratorical prowess and for the Emancipation Proclamation as well as many other accomplishments his scientific and technological interests are not widely recognized for example many Americans do not know that Lincoln is the only U S president to obtain a patent Darwin on the other hand is celebrated for his scientific achievements but not for his passionate commitment to the abolition of slavery which in part drove his research in evolution Both men took great pains to avoid causing unnecessary offense despite having abandoned traditional Christianity Each had one main adversary who endorsed scientific racism Lincoln had Stephen A Douglas and Darwin had Louis Agassiz With graceful and sophisticated writing Lander expands on these commonalities and uncovers more shared connections to people politics and events He traces how these two intellectual giants came to hold remarkably similar perspectives on the evils of racism the value of science and the uncertainties of conventional religion Separated by an ocean but joined in their ideas Lincoln and Darwin acted as trailblazers leading their societies toward greater freedom of thought and a greater acceptance of human equality This fascinating biographical examination brings the mid nineteenth century discourse about race science and humanitarian sensibility to the forefront using the mutual interests and pursuits of these two historic figures
