Shanghaiing Sailors Mark Strecker,2014-05-19 Shanghaiing or forcing a man to join the crew of a merchant ship against his will plagued seafarers the world over between 1849 and 1915 Perpetrators were known as crimps and they had no respect for a man s education social status race religion or seafaring experience The merchant ships were involved in the opium tea and gold trades and the practice was spurred by the opening of the Suez Canal A major reason for it was a shortage of sailors and the unwillingness of seamen to sail on certain types of ships They suffered from great deprivations all for a paltry sum usually squandered during shore leave Navies and pirates had their own form of shanghaiing called impressment This work explores the rich history of shanghaiing and impressment with a focus on victims and also considers the 19th century seafarer and the circumstances that made shanghaiing so lucrative      Nautical Research Journal ,2003

The North Dakota Quarterly ,1995      Parameters ,2000      The USS Carondelet Myron J. Smith, Jr.,2010-04-13 The

USS Carondelet had a revolutionary ship design and was the most active of all the Union's Civil War river ironclads. From Fort Henry through the siege of Vicksburg and from the Red River campaign through the Battle of Nashville the gunboat was prominent in war legend and literature. This history draws on the letters of Ensign Scott Dyer Jordan and Rear Adm Henry Walke's memoirs. James D. Bulloch Walter E. Wilson, Gary L. McKay, 2012-01-27 American naval hero and Confederate secret agent James Dunwoody Bulloch was widely considered the Confederacy's most dangerous man in Europe. As head of the South's covert shipbuilding and logistics program overseas during the American Civil War Bulloch acquired a staggering 49 warships, blockade runners and tenders built invulnerable ocean-going ironclads, sustained Confederate logistics, financed covert operations and acted as the mastermind behind the destruction of 130 Union ships. Ironically this man who conspired to destroy the Union and kidnap its president later stood as the favorite uncle and mentor to Theodore Roosevelt. Bulloch's astonishing life unfolds in this first ever biography. Canadian Defence Quarterly, 1990 Naval History, 1988

Letters and Papers of Professor Sir John Knox Laughton, 1830-1915 Andrew Lambert, 2019-08-15 Traces the academic career of one of the most important figures instrumental in the foundation of the Navy Records Society. Detailing the academic career of Sir John Knox Laughton, this book shows how Laughton operated in his profession, the stages of his career, his patrons, friends and colleagues, how he exerted influence and recruited followers, and how far he succeeded in the tasks he set himself. Born in 1830, he entered the Royal Navy as an Instructor in 1853, then having served afloat in the Baltic Campaigns of 1854 and 1855 and in the Second China War of 1856-58, he came ashore to teach at the Royal Naval College at Portsmouth in 1866. There he wrote important textbooks on oceanography and hydrographic surveying, but his most significant contribution was to demonstrate the vital role of the past as the basis for the development of contemporary naval thought, culminating in the publication of his seminal Essay on Naval Tactics in 1873. The material in this volume all dates from after 1875, following the College's move to the old Hospital complex at Greenwich in 1873, which gave Laughton access to a wider audience in London, notably as the College's official academic spokesman at the United Services Institution. It was his 1874 Royal United Services Institution Lecture, The Scientific Study of Naval History, which established history as the basis for doctrine development and secured a place for the subject in the Naval College curriculum. Laughton left the College in 1885 to become Professor of Modern History at King's College London, where he made a significant contribution to the professionalisation of English history, as well as writing more than 900 lives, virtually the entire naval component for the Dictionary of National Biography. The audience for his lectures, articles and books included the entire officer corps of the Royal Navy of his day, together with army officers, defence analysts and major American thinkers such as Admiral Stephen Luce and Captain Alfred T. Mahan, the last two being two of the most frequently represented correspondents in this volume. Laughton and Mahan worked together for two decades to advance the cause of naval education, strategic thought and history. Edited by his biographer, the first Laughton Professor of Naval History at King's College London, the papers are grouped chronologically into six chapters The Scientific Study of Naval History 1875 85 Professor of Modern History 1885 90 The Navy Records Society 1891 95 Fighting for Nelson 1896 1900 Working to the End 1901 15 and Laughton s Unfinished Naval History of England They show how Laughton in a career extending from the Crimean War to the First World War advanced naval history as a fundamental intellectual resource for two great navies and laid the foundations for its present place at the heart of the historical profession     The Critic Jeannette Leonard Gilder, Joseph Benson Gilder, 1892     The Athenaeum ,1875     Athenaeum ,1875     English Mechanic and Mirror of Science and Art ,1901     British Books ,1900
