A New Deal for Navajo Weaving Jennifer McLerran, 2022-05-10 A New Deal for Navajo Weaving provides a detailed history of early to mid twentieth century Din weaving projects by non Natives who sought to improve the quality and marketability of Navajo weaving but in so doing failed to understand the cultural significance of weaving and its role in the lives of Din women By the 1920s the durability and market value of Din weavings had declined dramatically Indian welfare advocates established projects aimed at improving the materials and techniques Private efforts served as models for federal programs instituted by New Deal administrators Historian Jennifer McLerran details how federal officials developed programs such as the Southwest Range and Sheep Breeding Laboratory at Fort Wingate in New Mexico and the Navajo Arts and Crafts Guild Other federal efforts included the publication of Native natural dye recipes the publication of portfolios of weaving designs to guide artisans and the education of consumers through the exhibition of weavings aiding them in their purchases and cultivating an upscale market McLerran details how government officials sought to use these programs to bring the Din into the national economy instead these federal tactics were ineffective because they marginalized Navajo women and ignored the important role weaving plays in the resilience and endurance of wider Din culture Where the Land Meets the Sea Tom D. Dillehay, 2017-08 This landmark interdisciplinary volume on the excavation of one of the longest occupied yet most enigmatic sites in human history sheds new light on how civilization began among farmers and fishermen some fourteen thousand years ago Suggested Books for Indian Schools United States. Los Alamos National Laboratory Continued Operation Site-Wide , 1999 Blanket Weaving in the Southwest Joe Ben Wheat, 2022-06-21 Exquisite blankets sarapes and ponchos handwoven by southwestern peoples are admired throughout the world Despite many popularized accounts serious gaps have existed in our understanding of these textiles gaps that one man devoted years of scholarly attention to address During much of his career anthropologist Joe Ben Wheat 1916 1997 earned a reputation as a preeminent authority on southwestern and plains prehistory Beginning in 1972 he turned his scientific methods and considerable talents to historical questions as well He visited dozens of museums to study thousands of nineteenth century textiles oversaw chemical tests of dyes from hundreds of yarns and sought out obscure archives to research the material and documentary basis for textile development His goal was to establish a key for southwestern textile identification based on the traits that distinguish the Pueblo Navajo and Spanish American blanket weaving traditions and thereby provide a better way of identifying and dating pieces of unknown origin Wheat s years of research resulted in a masterful classification scheme for southwestern textiles and a book that establishes an essential baseline for understanding craft production Nearly completed before Wheat s death Blanket Weaving in the Southwest describes the evolution of southwestern textiles from the early historic period to the late nineteenth century establishes a revised chronology for its development and traces significant changes in materials techniques and designs Wheat first relates what Spanish observers learned about the state of native weaving in the region a historical review that reveals the impact of new technologies and economies on a traditional craft Subsequent chapters deal with fibers yarns dyes and fabric structures including an unprecedented examination of the nature variety and origins of bayeta yarns and with tools weaves and finishing techniques A final chapter constructed by editor Ann Hedlund from Wheat s notes provides clues to his evolving ideas about the development of textile design Hedlund herself a respected textile scholar and a protégé of Wheat s is uniquely qualified to interpret the many notes he left behind and brings her own understanding of weaving to every facet of the text She has ensured that Wheat s research is applicable to the needs of scholars collectors and general readers alike Throughout the text Wheat discusses and evaluates the distinct traits of the three textile traditions More than 200 photos demonstrate these features including 191 color plates depicting a vast array of chief blankets shoulder blankets ponchos sarapes diyugi mantas and dresses from museum collections nationwide In addition dozens of line drawings demonstrate the fine points of technique concerning weaves edge finishes and corner tassels Through his groundbreaking and painstaking research Wheat created a new view of southwestern textile history that goes beyond any other book on the subject Blanket Weaving in the Southwest addresses a host of unresolved issues in textile research and provides critical tools for resolving them It is an essential resource for anyone who appreciates the intricacy of these outstanding creations

The Art and Craft of Natural Dyeing J.N. Liles, 2024-08-09 This is the most comprehensive manual written on natural dyes since the early 1800s Jim Liles has rescued ancient skills from near extinction and shared them in a book that will inspire challenge and guide the modern dyer Rita Buchanan author of A Weaver s Garden and editor of the new Brooklyn Botanic Gardens Handbook on Natural Dyes A must for every dyer The recipes are explicit and detailed as to success and failure Mary Frances Davidson For several thousand years all dyes were of animal vegetable or mineral origin and many ancient civilizations possessed excellent dye technologies The first synthetic dye was produced in 1856 and the use of traditional dyes declined rapidly thereafter By 1915 few nonsynthetics were used by industry or craftspeople The craft revivals of the 1920s explored traditional methods of natural dyeing to some extent particularly with wool although the great eighteenth and nineteenth century dye manuals which recorded the older processes remained largely forgotten In The Art and Craft of Natural Dyeing J N Liles consolidates the lore of the older dyers with his own firsthand experience to produce both a history of natural dyes and a practical manual for using presynthetic era processes on all the natural fibers cotton linen silk and wool A general section on dyeing and mordanting and a glossary introduce the beginner to dye technology In subsequent chapters Liles summarizes the traditional dye methods available for each major color group Scores of recipes provide detailed instructions on how to collect ingredients flowers weeds insects wood minerals prepare the dyevat troubleshoot and achieve specific shades The book will appeal not only to beginning and veteran dyers but also to students of restorations and reconstruction as well as to craftspeople spinners quilters weavers knitters and other textile artists interested in natural dyes for their beauty and historical authenticity Cibola National Forest (N.F.), Bluewater Ecosystem Management Project, 2003 Boundless Lisa

Chaco and After in the Northern San Juan Catherine M. Cameron, 2018-06-27 Chaco Canyon the great Ancestral Pueblo site of the eleventh and twelfth centuries remains a central problem of Southwestern archaeology Chaco with its monumental great houses was the center of a vast region marked by outlier great houses The canyon itself has been investigated for over a century but only a few of the more than 200 outlier great houses key to understanding Chaco and its times have been excavated This volume explores the Chaco and post Chaco eras in the northern San Juan area through extensive excavations at the Bluff Great House a major Chaco outlier in Utah Bluff s massive great house great kiva and earthen berms are described and compared to other great houses in the northern Chaco region Those assessments support intriguing new ideas about the Chaco region and the effect of the collapse of Chaco Canyon on outlying great houses New insights from the Bluff Great House clarify the construction and use of great houses during the Chaco era and trace the history of great houses in the generations after Chaco s decline An innovative comparative study of the northern and southern portions of the Chaco world the northern San Juan area around Bluff and the Cibola area around Zuni leads to new ideas about population aggregation and regional abandonment in the Southwest Appendixes present details and descriptions of artifacts recovered from Bluff ceramics projectile points pollen analyses faunal remains bone tools ornaments and more This book is one of only a handful of reports on Chacoan great houses in the northern San Juan region It provides an in depth study of the Chaco era and clarifies the relationship of outlying great houses to Chaco Canyon Research at the Bluff Great House begins to answer key questions about the nature of Chaco and its region and the history of the northern San Juan in the Chaco and post Chaco worlds
