early retirement the liberalization of public services and international tax competition Job Creation and Labour Law:Vol. 6:From Protection Towards Pro-Action Marco Biagi,2000-11-08 Papers presented at the annual conference of the International Club Meeting of Labour Law Periodicals held at the University of Modena April 28 29 2000 Reshaping Communications Paschal Preston,2001-02-05 It is a cliché but this book is timely welcome and indeed a breath of fresh air. It is of particular value for people concerned with public communications political economy economics and the relationship between society and technology. Moreover this book powerfully dispels the tacit assumption prevalent in business politics media and academia that a combination of technical fixes and the free market can right all social problems. Irish Journal of Sociology Thirty years ago one writer complained that to admire technology is all out of fashion. Today excited claims are made for the impact that these technologies are having on social political and economic life. But how are we to assess these claims? This book critically interrogates many of the prevailing ideas, offers a fresh perspective on this new digital age. Reshaping Communications Provides an alternative and more grounded account of the complex interplay between new technology and information structures and changes in society. Illuminates the fundamental continuities as well as changes in socioeconomic and political processes. Draws on an interdisciplinary perspective and original empirical research. The book will be essential reading for all those concerned with the new communication technologies including students of media and communications as well as policy makers.

team of authors drawn from a variety of disciplines seeks to build on the insights of this economic analysis and broaden understanding by examining the company in a wider historical legal political and sociological context Issues discussed include the attitudes of political parties in the UK to the company the rise of the non executive director institutional activism and stakeholder protection and the evolution of the nexus of contracts theory of the company There is also a strong comparative theme with discussions of the political and sociological context of corporate governance in France Germany and Japan together with developments at the European level
