Smithe, 2002 African literature like the continent itself is enormous and diverse East Africa's literature is different from West Africa's which is quite different from South Africa's which has different influences on it than North Africa's. Africa's literature is based on a widespread heritage of oral literature some of which has now been recorded. Arabic influence can be detected as well as European especially French and English. Legends, myths, proverbs, riddles, and folktales form the mother load of the oral literature. This book presents an overview of African literature as well as a comprehensive bibliography primarily of English language sources. Accessed by subject, author, and title indexes. Literary Anthropology Fernando Poyatos, 1988. The traditional gulf between the theory and practice of literature and the various areas subjoined under anthropology has hindered the development of some very fruitful perspectives in the realm of poetics and the general theory of literature particularly in its narrative forms. Poyatos' initial idea of literary anthropology as the study of people and their cultural manifestations through their national literatures without doubt the richest source of documentation of human life styles and the most advanced form of our projection in time and space and of communicating with contemporary and future generations has been enriched by the thoughts of a multi-cultural group of scholars from both anthropology and literature who at a first symposium on the subject attempted to define this area leaving the way open to many more research possibilities. Worlds Apart Elizabeth R. Esotericism and Deviance, 2024-02-06. The concept of deviance has been central to the academic study of Western esotericism since its inception. This book being the proceedings of the 6th Biennial Conference of the European Society for the Study of Western Esotericism (ESSWE) explores the relationship between esotericism and various forms of deviance as concept, category and practice from antiquity until late modernity. The volume is the first to combine incisive conceptual explorations of the concept of deviance and how it informs and challenges the study of esotericism alongside a wide range of empirically grounded case discussions. Twenty Years of French Literary Criticism Freeman G. Henry, 1994. The Poet as Believer Fr Aidan Nichols O.P., 2013-06-28. This is the first comprehensive study of the theological significance of Paul Claudel, a poet frequently cited by literary-minded theologians in Europe and theologically-minded poets such as von Balthasar, de Lubac, and Eliot. His writing combines cosmology and history, Bible and metaphysics, liturgy and the drama of human personality. His work which continues to arouse discussion in France was acclaimed in his lifetime as the summa poetica of a new Dante. Aidan Nichols' study demonstrates how Claudel's oeuvre which is not only poetry but theatre and prose including biblical commentaries constitutes a rich resource for constructive doctrine, liturgical preaching and theological reflection. As the comparable example of Geoffrey Hill, Professor of Poetry at Oxford suggests, Aidan Nichols illuminates how Claudel's synthesis of many dimensions remains an important way of practising poetry in the Christian tradition today. Diary of a Philosophy Student Simone Beauvoir, 2019-06-16.
