The Documentary Imagination in Twentieth-Century French Literature

Alison James, 2020-09-03 The Documentary Imagination in Twentieth Century French Literature identifies a documentary impulse in French literature that emerges at the end of the nineteenth century and culminates in a proliferation of factual writings in the twenty-first. Focusing on the period bookended by these two moments it highlights the enduring concern with factual reference in texts that engage either with current events or the historical archive. Specifically it considers a set of ideas and practices centered on the conceptualization and use of documents. In doing so it contests the widespread narrative that twentieth-century French literature abandons the realist enterprise and argues that writers instead renegotiate the realist legacy outside or at the margins of the fictional space of the novel. Analyzing works by authors including Gide, Breton, Aragon, Yourcenar, Duras, and Modiano, the book defines a specific documentary mode of literary representation that records, assembles, and investigates material traces of reality. The document is a textual, visual, or material piece of evidence repurposed through its visual insertion, textual transcription, or description within a literary work. It is a fact, but it also becomes a figure standing for literature's confrontation with the real. The documentary imagination involves a fantasy of direct access to a reality that speaks for itself. At the same time it gives rise to concrete textual practices that open up new directions for literature by interrogating the construction and interpretation of facts.

The Demon of Noontide Reinhard Clifford Kuhn, 2017-03-14 Kierkegaard claimed that the gods created man because they were bored and Baudelaire predicted that the delicate monster of boredom would one day swallow up the whole world in an immense yawn. Between these two statements lies the undefined expanse of ennui whose manifestations in European literature form the fascinating subject of this book. Reinhard Kuhn's aim is to define the demon of noontide to learn how writers through the ages have treated it and to discover what it indicates about the nature of the creative act. Originally published in 1976, The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print-on-demand technology to again make available previously out-of-print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press. Love, Desire and Transcendence in French Literature Paul Gifford, 2016-12-05 European literature and theory of the twentieth century have been intensely preoccupied with questions of Desire whereas love has increasingly represented a fractured and strange if not actually suspect proposal this is a prime symptom of an age of deep cultural mutation and uncertainty Paul Gifford's book allows this considerable contemporary phenomenon to be observed steadily and whole with strategic understanding of its origins nature and meaning Gifford paints a clear and coherent picture of the evolution of erotic ideas and their imaginary and formal expressions in modern French writing He first retraces the formative matrix of French tradition by engaging with five classic sources Plato's Symposium the Song of Songs the myth of Genesis the tension between Greek Eros and Christian Agape and the repercussions of Nietzsche's declaration of the death of God Modern variations on these perennial problematics are then pursued in ten chapters devoted to Proust Valéry Claudel Breton Bataille Duras Barthes Irigaray Emmanuel Kristeva Literary and theoretical perspectives are perfectly blended in his study of these attempts at deciphering Eros The book will appeal not only to students of French literature but to all those interested in the cultural upheavals of the twentieth century *Bibliothèque de la pléiade / 300-349. 1. Genealogies of Genius Joyce E. Chaplin, Darrin M. McMahon, 2015-12-08 The essays in this volume seek to examine the uses to which concepts of genius have been put in different cultures and times Collectively they are designed to make two new statements First seen in historical and comparative perspective genius is not a natural fact and universal human constant that has been only recently identified by modern science but instead a categorical mode of assessing human ability and merit Second as a concept with specific definitions and resonances genius has performed specific cultural work within each of the societies in which it had a historical presence Looking for The Stranger Alice Kaplan, 2016-09-09 A New York Times Notable Book A literary exploration that is surely destined to become the quintessential companion to Camus's most enduring novel PopMatters The Stranger is a rite of passage for readers around the world Since its publication in France in 1942 Camus's novel has been translated into sixty languages and sold more than six million copies It's the rare novel that's as likely to be found in a teen's backpack as in a graduate philosophy seminar If the twentieth century produced a novel that could be called ubiquitous The Stranger is it How did a young man in his twenties who had never written a novel turn out a masterpiece that still grips readers more than seventy years later With Looking for The Stranger Alice Kaplan tells that story In the process she reveals Camus' achievement to have been even more impressive and more unlikely than even his most devoted readers knew To this new project Kaplan brings equally honed skills as a historian literary critic and biographer Reading The Stranger is a bracing but somewhat bloodless experience Ms Kaplan has hung warm flesh on its steely bones The New York Times For American readers few French novels are better known and few scholars are better qualified than Kaplan to reintroduce us to it Kaplan tells this story with great verve and insight all the while preserving the mystery of its creation and elusiveness of its meaning Los Angeles Review of Books The fascinating story behind Albert Camus' coldblooded masterpiece A compelling companion to a novel that has stayed strange Kirkus Reviews Vladimir Nabokov Yannicke
