Of Love Death And The Seasquirt:

Of Love, Death, and the Sea-squirt Chris Greenhalgh, 2000 In Chris Greenhalgh's delightful yet disturbing second book we encounter a cannibalistic wife a man trapped in a valley of women a conjuror who spirits himself away and a kinky mortician There are poems on themes of love and death while Coco and Igor celebrates the love affair between Chanel and Stravinsky The emblem of the sea squirt haunts the collection a creature which having fulfilled its life's task of finding a rock to cling onto and make its home proceeds in an act of appalling self slaughter to eat its own brain The vivid imagery and narrative excitement which characterised his first book Stealing the Mona Lisa feature strongly again in poems which sparkle with irreverent comedy and fierce satire Alongside the playfulness and linguistic glitter however this second collection is distinguished by a genuine emotional delicacy Artfully combining passion and scepticism the poems explore the darkening spaces of public and private worlds in a language at once sophisticated sensual and alive New Blood Neil Astley, 1999 Kafka said we should read books which bite and sting If the book we are reading does not wake us up with a blow to the head what's the point in reading A book must be the axe which smashes the frozen sea within us Brian Hinton applied this to Neil Astley's anthology Poetry with an Edge which crystallises what he has already achieved with Bloodaxe well designed and committed books though never comfortable to read They answer Kafka's definition of what real literature should be New Blood is the sequel to Poetry with an Edge which marked Bloodaxe's first decade of poetry publishing This completely new anthology brings together poets who have published their first collections during the past ten years New Blood shows that Bloodaxe isn't going rusty with age for here are some of the sharpest new talents in poetry with poems which bite and sting as well as disturb and delight the reader This book of new poetry from Bloodaxe must be the axe which smashes the frozen sea within us Staying Alive Neil Astley, 2002 Staying Alive includes many of the great modern love poems and elegies but it also shows the power of poetry in celebrating the ordinary miracle taking you on a journey around many of the different aspects of everyday life explored in poems The Invention of Zero Chris Greenhalgh, 2007 Chris Greenhalgh's distinctive third collection is a book of sensuous meditations on time and mortality love and art At its heart is a suite of prose poems Intimate in tone formally experimental and lyrically charged they pick up and develop threads from his title The Invention of Zero Like his first two books Greenhalgh's new collection is alive with vivid imagery and narrative excitement At once passionate and ironic dark and witty the poems are acutely observed and enjoy a new depth of feeling His language is sensitive exact and alert to the layered and luminous surfaces as well as the discontinuities of modern life There is an urgency and immediacy to Greenhalgh's latest work that makes it contemporary and playful but also emotionally compelling tender and true Current Contents Institute for Scientific Information (Philadelphia), 2001 In Person Neil Astley, 2008 Thirty poets from around the world read to you in person This is a new concept in publishing your own personal poetry festival brought into your home Each poet reads to you for about ten minutes up to half a dozen poems chosen from across the range of their work In Person is a collaboration between Bloodaxe Books and award winning film maker Pamela Robertson Pearce Her style of filming combines directness and simplicity sensitivity and warmth the perfect combination for these intimate readings It is as if the poet were sitting in the room with you reading just to you and sometimes saying a few things about the poems Apart from one recording taken from a live public performance all the films present informal one to one readings They enhance your appreciation of the poetry You hear how the poems sound you see how the poets read and present their work T S Eliot once described poetry as one person talking to another while W H Auden believed it was essential to hear poetry read aloud for no poem which when mastered is not better heard than read is good poetry In Person presents the oral art of poetry in that spirit There are four hours of readings on two DVDs pouched inside the back cover and all the poems are printed in this book In Person celebrates 30 years of poetry from a pioneering press Founded in 1978 Bloodaxe has published nearly a thousand titles by three hundred writers Until now you wouldn't be able to see or hear readings by many of Bloodaxe's international range of poets In Person makes that possible for the first time presenting readings by 30 essential voices from Britain Ireland America Spain Hungary Palestine Pakistan China New Zealand and the Caribbean Four out of the 30 short films present the poets work bilingually Menna Elfyn's reading alternates between her Welsh poems and their English translations Joan Margarit reads in Catalan in tandem with his translator Anna Crowe reading her English translations Palestinian poet Taha Muhammad Ali reads in Arabic and then re-inhabits each poem as it is read in English by his translator Peter Cole Yang Lian introduces his work in English and reads the poems in Chinese This anthology presents all their poems in both languages in a parallel text format enabling you to follow either language as the poems are read on the film All the other readings are in English only and in many varieties of English which will add greatly to your enjoyment and appreciation of the poetry not just poems read in Scottish Welsh and Irish English by Jackie Kay W N Herbert Gwyneth Lewis Brendan Kennelly and Micheal O Siadhail but also George Szirtes Hungarian inflected English Benjamin Zephaniah's melding of Jamaican and Birmingham and the Caribbean lilt of John Agard and James Berry The musical range of American voices is just as diverse ranging from urban Detroit Philip Levine to the Ozark Mountains C D Wright There's also a bonus track a short film of Bloodaxe's first poet Ken Smith made by Ivor Bowen just before Ken's untimely death
