Charles Caleb Colton

Of Many Things:

Makers of Many Things Eva March Tappan, 2015-04-24 This early work by Eva March Tappan was originally published in 1916 and we are now republishing it with a brand new introductory biography Makers of Many Things is an educational book for children that details the interesting production methods of everyday products such as matches and shoes Eva March Tappan was born on 26th December 1854 in Blackstone Massachusetts United States Tappan began her literary career writing about famous characters from history in works such as In the Days of William the Conqueror 1901 and In the Days of Queen Elizabeth 1902 She then developed an interest in children's books writing her own and publishing collections of classic tales

Talk of Many Things Margaret Wharton, 2005-09 In her fourth book of memoirs Margaret Wharton continues her G I bride reminiscences as she paints a picture of life in England before during and after World War II Emphasizing the years from her arrival in the United States until her retirement in Chapel Hill North Carolina she tells of her initial homesickness as she is assimilated into a new way of life and describes her years as a housewife in a small suburban town as she raises two sons and resumes her teaching career She relates the many travels that she and her husband made together the accounts taken from the detailed journals she assiduously kept of the trips She also tells something of the Southern family she married into and goes on to talk of the retirement life she and her husband lead in Chapel Hill Her book is a highly polished piece of work comprising an ingenious blend of people places history geography and literature Mrs Wharton has a vast knowledge of history and excellent control of language along with a vivid descriptive flair She reproduces her experiences with clarity and conviction Talk of Many Things offers a colorful informative and individual account of a unique experience shared by a number of young women not only from England but from many other countries in the immediate post war years
