Have you ever felt as though you didn't recognize yourself in the mirror and yet you're frantically trying to keep that image together? Felt bound by the dreams you had for life that you now realize have forced other expectations on you? Or maybe you've laughed at one of those insanely ridiculous moments in the day when absolutely everything goes wrong and no matter what you do the grand purpose seems elusive? Let's be honest. We all have a standard in our head that we believe is the perfect Christian woman, wife and/or mother. Yet have you ever really examined what that standard is? Yes, God absolutely has standards for what those roles are to be, but is He our source or is it the peer pressure, don't be the odd one out on Sunday morning drive to fit in that is driving us away from authenticity and raw faith to outward performance? Amy Spiegel knows this struggle well and notes so many of the women I know seem to feel the same tension in their own lives, teetering on the edge, praying someone will be there to catch them if they fall. There is a grand purpose to where you are today, join Amy in Letting Go of Perfect to look at what it means to truly know the woman in the mirror as well as the God who created, redeems and equips her. The Ears That Have Eyes C.L. Charlesworth, 2015-04-30. Fake love with the right man is better. Jewels, homes and money won't break your heart. Those were Stephanie's mom's words of wisdom. Stephanie was a princess even without a father right until she was ten years old when her mother left her. Life began to take a drastic turn for Stephanie. Will she be able to survive on her own? Moreover, could the apple have fallen not far from the tree or will she be another version, a better version of her mother and find love in the process? It's Beating Chains Rusty Labuschagne, 2020-02-18. About 70% of this book was written in my prison cell on a smuggled cell phone and emailed to myself. All sketches I did personally after prison. In 2003, without a body and against police evidence, I was wrongly convicted of drowning a fish poacher and spent 10 harrowing years under horrendous conditions in Zimbabwe's prisons during Mugabe's rule. I write about being subjected to conditions most people would find unbearable, having to draw on my inner resources and strengths to endure the unimaginable. In the process, I developed not only a life-saving resilience but also empathy and a keen desire to help my fellow inmates. My faith in God, positive mental attitude, leadership qualities and lessons in forgiveness, gratitude and humility bring a personal transformative and authentic message of hope and freedom. 1950s Southampton Childhood Penny Legg, James Marsh, 2013-05-01. The 1950s was a time of regeneration and change for Southampton For children growing up during this decade life was changing fast They still made their own toys and earned their own pocket money but on new television sets Andy Pandy 1950 and Bill and Ben 1952 delighted them With rationing discontinued confectionary was on the menu again and for children Southampton life in the 1950s was sweet If you saw a Laurel and Hardy performance at The Gaumont Theatre or made dens out of bombed out buildings then you ll thoroughly enjoy this charming and nostalgic account of the era
