Office Without Power Diaries:

The Official History of the UK Strategic Nuclear Deterrent Matthew Jones, 2017-05-12 Volume II of The Official History of the UK Strategic Nuclear Deterrent provides an authoritative and in depth examination of the British government's strategic nuclear policy from 1964 to 1970. Written with full access to the UK documentary record, Volume II examines the controversies that developed over nuclear policy following the arrival in office of a Labour government led by Harold Wilson in October 1964 that openly questioned the independence of the deterrent. Having decided to preserve the Polaris programme, Labour ministers were nevertheless committed not to develop another generation of nuclear weapons beyond those in the pipeline, placing major doubts over the long term future of the nuclear programme and collaboration with the United States. Defence planners also became increasingly concerned that the deployment of Soviet anti-ballistic missile (ABM) defences around Moscow threatened to undermine the ability of Polaris to fulfil its role as a national strategic nuclear deterrent. During 1967, under heavy pressures to control defence spending, a protracted debate was conducted within Whitehall over the future of Polaris and how to respond to the evolving ABM challenge. The volume concludes with Labour's defeat at the general election of June 1970, by which time the Royal Navy had assumed the nuclear deterrent role from the RAF and plans had already been formulated for a UK project to improve Polaris which could both ensure its continuing credibility and rejuvenate the Anglo-American nuclear relationship. This book will be of much interest to students of British politics, Cold War history, nuclear proliferation and international relations.

Our History of the 20th Century Travis Elborough, 2017-09-28 In Travis Elborough's expertly curated collection of diaries, letters and journals, the great and the good rub shoulders with the obscure, the unsung and the everyday to bring us a unique top-down and bottom-up history of Britain during the twentieth century.

Europe Reborn Harold James, 2014-07-10 In the early twentieth century, brutal nation states such as Mussolini's Italy, Stalin's Russia and Hitler's Germany came to the fore, and the twin evils of dictatorship and war ensured the rapid destruction of liberal democracy, market economics and the international order. In contrast, the latter half was concerned with rethinking and reshaping these core values which still guide political life after the millennium. Harold James analyses the failures and achievements of the twentieth century. The demands of the post-war period, namely the place of Europe in a wider international order, are also examined. Features include Boxed Case Studies, Maps, Plates, Figures, Short Biographies, Chronologies, Statistical Appendix. James lucidly argues that European societies today are dominated by the trend to converge around the principles of democracy, market economics and international integration. He shows that the stability brought by the gradual unwinding of the nation state and the end of left-right politics have created a Europe reborn.

A Bibliography of British History, 1914-1989 Keith Robbins, American Historical Association, Royal Historical Society (Great Britain), 1996. Containing over 25,000 entries, this unique volume will be absolutely indispensable for all those with an interest in Britain in the twentieth century. Accessibly arranged by theme, with helpful introductions to each chapter, a huge range of topics is covered There is a comprehensive index From Recession to Renewal Joanna Richardson,2011 From recession to renewal will be of interest to students academics and practitioners working in a number of areas of local government Book Jacket Finding a Role? Brian Harrison,2011-09-09 In 1970 the cold war was still cold Northern Ireland's troubles were escalating the UK's relations with the EEC were unclear and corporatist approaches to the economy precariously persisted By 1990 Communism was crumbling world wide Thatcher's economic revolution had occurred terrorism in Northern Ireland was waning multi culturalism was in place family structures were changing fast and British political institutions had become controversial Seven analytic chapters pursue these changes and accumulate rich detail on changes in international relations landscape and townscape social framework family and welfare structures economic policies and realities intellect and culture politics and government The concluding chapter ranges chronologically even more widely to bring out the interaction of past and present then asks how far the UK had by 1990 identified its world role Like Harrison's Seeking a Role The United Kingdom 1951 1970 2009 the immediately preceding volume in this series Finding a Role includes a full chronological table and an ample index of names and themes This the first thorough wide ranging and synoptic study of the UK so far published on this period has two overriding aims to show how British institutions evolved but also to illuminate changes in the British people their hopes and fears values and enjoyments failures and achievements It therefore equips its readers to understand events since 1990 and so to decide for themselves where the UK should now be going Eden D R Thorpe,2011-05-31 Anthony Eden who served as both Foreign Secretary and Prime Minister was one of the central political figures of the twentieth century He had good looks charm a Military Cross from the Great War an Oxford first and a secure parliamentary constituency from his mid twenties He was Foreign Secretary at the age of 38 and the first British statesman to meet Hitler Mussolini and Stalin Eden's dramatic resignation from Neville Chamberlain's Cabinet in 1938 outlined here in the fullest detail yet made an international impact This ground breaking book examines his controversial life and tells the inside story of the Munich crisis 1938 the Geneva Conference 1954 Eden's battles with Churchill over the modernisation of the post war Conservative Party and his rivalry with Butler and Macmillan in the early 1950s culminating in a fascinating analysis of the Suez crisis The Labour Governments 1964-70 Steven Fielding,John W. Young,2003 Part of The Labour Governments 1964 70 series this text concentrates on Britain's international policy during Harold Wilson's Labour governments in the 1960s The coverage ranges from defence policy and the government machine to European integration NATO and the Vietnam War Harold Wilson and his ministers have often been accused of betraying the sense of promise that greeted their victory in 1964 Using recently released archival evidence Young argues that a more balanced view of the government should recognize the real difficulties that surrounded decision making not only on Vietnam but also on Aden the Nigerian Civil War and Rhodesia tensions and the need to placate allies all placed limits on what a once great but clearly declining power could achieve Furthermore the government proved of pivotal importance in the history of

Britain's international role in that it presided over a major shift of focus from positions east of Suez to European concerns a focus that has remained until the present day international relations during this exciting period Together with the other books in the series on domestic and economic policy it provides a complete picture of the development of Britain under the premiership of Harold Wilson

Modern Romania Tom Gallagher, 2008-03 Since the 1989 fall of Communism in Eastern Europe Romania arguably the most regimented of states in the Soviet bloc has struggled with the transition from totalitarian state to democratic nation In this insightful examination of modern Romania Tom Gallagher provides an overview of Romania's unique political and social history focusing on both its national identity as well as the legacy of Soviet rule Gallagher provides an in depth look at Romania since 1989 focusing on the government's attempts at economic reform engagement with democracy problems with corruption among the ruling elite as well as the weakness of civil society and the resilience of implacable expressions of nationalism Ultimately Gallagher argues that thus far democracy has essentially failed in Romania In fact he warns that Romania is on its way to becoming one of the most unequal states in Europe and quite possibly a future trouble spot unless efforts to resume much needed reforms are undertaken

From Servants of the Empire to Everyday Heroes Tobias Harper, 2020-02-13 In the twentieth century the British Crown appointed around a hundred thousand people military and civilian in Britain and the British Empire to honours and titles For outsiders and sometimes recipients too these jumbles of letters are tantalizingly confusing OM MBE GCVO CH KB or CBE Throughout the century this system expanded to include different kinds of people while also shrinking in its imperial scope with the declining empire Through these dual processes this profoundly hierarchical system underwent a seemingly counter intuitive change it democratized Why and how did the British government change this system And how did its various publics respond to it This study addresses these questions directly by looking at the history of the honours system in the wider context of the major historical changes in Britain and the British Empire in the twentieth century In particular it looks at the evolution of this hierarchical deferential system amidst democratization and decolonization It focuses on the system's largest and most important components the Order of the British Empire the Knight Bachelor and the lower ranks of other Orders By creatively analysing the politics and administration of the system alongside popular responses to it in diaries letters newspapers and memoirs Tobias Harper shows the many different meanings that honours took on for the establishment dissidents and recipients He also shows the ways in which the system succeeded and failed to order and bring together divided societies

The first referendum Lindsay Aquiri, 2020-08-04 Although the United Kingdom's entry to the European Community EC in 1973 was initially celebrated by the end of the first year the mood in the UK had changed from hope to uncertainty When Edward Heath lost the 1974 General Election Harold Wilson returned to No 10 promising a fundamental renegotiation and referendum on EC membership By the end of the first year of membership 67% of voters had said yes to Europe in the UK's first ever national referendum Examining the relationship between diplomacy and domestic debate this book explores the continuities between the European policies pursued by Heath and Wilson in this period Despite the majority vote in favour of maintaining membership Lindsay Aquiri argues that this majority was underpinned by a degree of uncertainty and that ultimately neither Heath nor Wilson managed to transform the UK's relationship with the EC in the ways they had hoped possible

Contracts, Performance Measurements, and Accountability in the Public Sector Gavin Drewry, Carsten Greve, Thierry Tanquerel, 2005 This book addresses issues to do with public accountability audit and performance measurement that are both highly topical and of crucial importance to the theory and practice of public administration in an era of contractualized public management The literature on public sector contracting covering both hard agreements ones that are legally enforceable and soft agreements enforced by negotiation and mutual trust has been growing for some time and the present book adds a primarily European perspective on contracting performance based management and accountability One important aspect of this study is its recognition that those responsible for monitoring public services and holding them to account have had to an increasing extent to reconcile tensions between on the one hand the need for strong oversight and on the other the encouragement of innovation and risk in an increasingly competitive and entrepreneurial public service culture Following an introductory overview by the three editors the book is in three parts The first part deals with the theory and practice of performance measurement and evaluation the second part provides a series of specific case studies of audit and accountability in a variety of countries and contexts the third part offers some wider cross cutting perspectives Based on the work of the EGPA permanent study group on the history of contractualization Contracts Performance Measurement and Accountability in the Public Sector draws upon the wide expertise and research interests of academics and practitioners from the United Kingdom Denmark Switzerland Belgium Sweden and the USA Britain's Modernised Civil Service June Burnham, Robert Pyper, 2008-02-18 Britain's Modernised Civil Service provides detailed analysis of the structure and operation of the modern civil service along with an historically grounded account of its development Key events personalities and scandals help bring the account to life and illuminate and challenge the various theories of what the civil service is or should be The authors take the evolutionary change of the civil service as a central theme and examine the impact of the major reforms of recent years on the historic Whitehall unitary model They assess the impact of the New Public Management agenda of the Thatcher and Major years and the role of the Civil Service in the multi governmental context of devolution and membership of the European Union Further changes associated with New Labour such the increased role of think tanks special advisers and the impact of the freedom of information act further sharpen the picture of today's civil service and lead to a rethinking of theories of its role This readable book by two leading authorities provides an up to date account of Britain's Civil Service that will be essential reading for students of British politics public policy and management June Burnham is a researcher and consultant in the area of public services and public policy and formerly Senior Lecturer in European Government at Middlesex University Robert Pyper is Professor of Government and

Public Management and Head of the Division of Public Policy at Glasgow Caledonian University He is author of The British Civil Service for which this is a fully revised replacement volume Reluctant Europeans David Gowland, Arthur Turner, 2014-09-25 During the past fifty years few issues in British politics have generated such heated controversy as Britain's approach to European integration Why has Europe had such an explosive impact on British politics What impelled British policymakers to embrace a European destiny and why did they take such a cautious approach These are some of the key issues addressed in The Reluctant Europeans This new study draws upon recently available source material providing a clear chronological account and covering events right up to Blair's first year in office and the launch of the Euro Votes at 16 Ben Kisby, Lee Jerome, 2025-02-20 Votes at 16 weaves together arguments and evidence to present a compelling case in favour of lowering the voting age in Britain to 16 By setting out the key reasons why the voting age should be reduced for all elections this book powerfully refutes the arguments advanced by opponents of reform to the electoral franchise Situating votes at 16 in its historical context in Britain it offers an overview of voting age reform over time and examines the rise of this issue over the last 20 years It analyses evidence on the introduction of votes at 16 in six countries and argues that this demonstrates 16 and 17 year olds possess the knowledge and skills to vote The book also sets out how citizenship education can be enhanced to support the introduction of votes at 16 Lord Mason, Barnsley Pitlad to Peer Brian Elliott, 2008-11-30 Roy Mason swapped the colliery for Westminster when elected MP for Barnsley in 1953 He went on to become one of the leading figures in the Labour Party during the 1960s and 1970s holding a number of prestigious offices including Defence Secretary from 1974 and Secretary of State for Northern Ireland from 1976 This photographic biography presents images from Mason's own archive charting his personal and political life from the Yorkshire pits to the House of Lords Economic Policy Jim Tomlinson, 2004 Documentary focusing on the legendary Goodwood Motor Circuit a high speed track which started out as the perimeter of an RAF base during World War II The programme covers Goodwood's history from its creation through to the present day East Wind Tom Buchanan, 2012-04-19 East Wind offers the first complete archive based account of the relationship between China and the British Left from the rise of modern Chinese nationalism to the death of Mao Tse tung Beginning with the Hands Off China movement of the mid 1920s Tom Buchanan charts the mobilisation of British opinion in defence of China against Japanese aggression 1931 1945 and the role of the British left in relations with the People's Republic of China after 1949 He shows how this relationship was placed under stress by the growing unpredictability of Communist China above all by the Sino Soviet dispute and the Cultural Revolution which meant that by the 1960s China was actively supported only by a dwindling group of enthusiasts The impact of the suppression of the student protests in Tiananmen Square June 1989 is addressed as an epilogue East Wind argues that the significance of the left's relationship with China has been unjustly overlooked There were many occasions such as the mid 1920s the late 1930s and the early 1950s when China demanded the full attention of the British left It also argues that there is nothing new in the current fascination with China's emergence as an economic power Throughout these decades the British left was aware of the immense unrealised potential of the Chinese economy and of how China's economic growth could transform the world In addition to analysing the role of the political parties and pressure groups of the left Buchanan sheds new light on the activities of many well known figures in support of China including intellectuals such as Bertrand Russell R H Tawney and Joseph Needham Many other interesting stories emerge concerning less well known figures which show the complexity of personal links between Britain and China during the twentieth century

Crossing the floor Geoff Horn, 2016-05-16 Reg Prentice remains the most high profile politician to cross the floor of the House of Commons in the post war period His defection reflected an important sea change in British politics the end of the post war consensus and the beginnings of the Thatcher era This book examines the key events surrounding Prentice's transition from a front line Labour politician to a Conservative minister in the first Thatcher government It focuses on the shifting political climate in Britain during the 1970s as the post war settlement came under pressure from adverse economic conditions militant trade unionism and an assertive New Left Prentice's story provides an important case study on the crisis that afflicted social democracy highlighting Labour's left right divide and the possibility of a realignment of British politics This study will be invaluable to anyone interested in the turbulent and transitional nature of British politics during a watershed period

Egalitarian Thought and Labour Politics Nick Ellison, 2002-11-01 In Egalitarian Thought and Labour Politics Nick Ellison argues that the concept of equality is the cornerstone of the British socialist tradition He examines the alternative understandings of equality which have divided the labour party since 1930 and traces the origins of the current shift away from concern for social and economic equality to an increasing emphasis on liberty and individual entitlement Egalitarian Thought and Labour Politics is also concerned with contemporary attitudes within the Labour party discussing the importance of the concept to debates about citizenship and market socialism
