Office Care of Women Martin Olsen, Botros Rizk, 2016-06-06. Office Care of Women covers a wide range of topics which are pertinent to the provision of excellent healthcare. Common gynecologic topics are discussed in depth, as well as non-gynecologic medical conditions which are frequently faced by female patients. This book is designed as a single source reference which covers the majority of topics seen by clinicians as they care for women patients in the office setting. The fifty chapters include topics unique to female patients but also include other health conditions which are affected by the patient's gender. The authors of this book span six specialties and three continents, thereby giving the reader a comprehensive source of information to improve the healthcare of women.

Ambulatory Gynecology John V. Knaus, Marko J. Jachtorowycz, Allan A. Adajar, Teresa Tam, 2018-05-08. There are approximately 55,000 practicing ob-gyns in the United States. The obstetrics and gynecology residency training authority, the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education, has now pushed ambulatory primary and preventative care to the top of its list for residency training. Interest in the area of ambulatory gynecology is not just growing in the field of ob-gyn; however, family and primary care practitioners, emergency room physicians, and advance practice nurses all must know how to diagnose, manage, and treat gynecological conditions. Since office technology has expanded and decision making has become increasingly complex, physicians need a guide through the endless list of treatment options for commonly presenting gynecologic disorders. Ambulatory Gynecology gives practitioners tools for diagnosis, investigation, and management of these disorders, including decision making algorithms. The text is evidence based. From endocrine disorders to breast disease, preventative measures for osteoporosis to management of an abnormal Pap smear, from adolescent gynecology to menopause, this book is crucial for office-based physicians to feel confident practicing in all areas of gynecology.
