Sport and Art Andrew Edgar, 2016-04-08 Sport and Art explores relationship of sport to art It does not argue that sport is one of the arts but rather that sport and art hold common ground Both are ways in which humans confront philosophical challenges though they do this through very different media While art deploys sensual media such as paint or sound sport is the pursuit of a physical challenge at which the athlete may fail This is to propose in an argument that has its roots in Hegel's aesthetics that sport may be interpreted as a way of reflecting upon metaphysical and normative issues such as the nature of human freedom fate and chance and even our sense of space and time This argument is developed by proposing the concept of a sportworld an atmosphere of theory and a knowledge of history through which an event is interpreted and thereby constituted as sport Ultimately Sport and Art argues that in order to be truly appreciated sport must be understood within a modernist aesthetics That is to say that sport is not about beauty but rather about the struggle to find meaning in sporting triumph and crucially sporting failure This book was published as a special issue of Sport Ethics and Philosophy Artificial Intelligence and Games Georgios N. Georgi Togeli, 2024-09-03

As has been pointed out by several industrial game AI developers the lack of behavioral modularity across games and in game tasks is detrimental for the development of high quality AI 605 171 An increasingly popular method for ad hoc behavior authoring that eliminates the modularity limitations of FSMs and BTs is the utility based AI approach which can be used for the design of control and decision making systems in games 425 557 Following this approach instances in the game get assigned a particular utility function that gives a value for the importance of the particular instance 10 169 For instance the importance of an enemy being present at a particular distance or the importance of an agent's health being low in this particular context Given the set of all utilities available to an agent and all the options it has utility based AI decides which is the most important option it should consider at this moment 426 The utility based approach is grounded in the utility theory of economics and is based on utility function design The approach is similar to the design of membership functions in a fuzzy set A utility can measure anything from observable objective data e.g. enemy health to subjective notions such as emotions mood and threat The various utilities about possible actions or decisions can be aggregated into linear or non linear formulas and guide the agent to take decisions based on the aggregated utility The utility values can be checked every n frames of the game So while FSMs and BTs would examine one decision at a time utility based AI architectures
