The Middle and Upper Paleolithic Archeology of the Levant and Beyond Yoshihiro Nishiaki, Takeru Akazawa, 2017-12-06

This volume is a compilation of results from sessions of the Second International Conference on the Replacement of Neanderthals by Modern Humans which took place between November 30 and December 6 2014 in Hokkaido Japan Similar to the first conference held in 2012 in Tokyo the 2014 conference RNMH2014 aimed to compile the results of the latest multidisciplinary approaches investigating the issues surrounding the replacement of Neanderthals by modern humans The results of the sessions supplemented by off site contributions center on the archeology of the Middle and Upper Paleolithic of the Levant and beyond The first part of this volume presents recent findings from the Levant while the second part focuses on the neighboring regions namely the Caucasus the Zagros and South Asia The 13 chapters in this volume highlight the distinct nature of the cultural occurrences during the Middle and Upper Paleolithic periods of the Levant displaying a continuous development as well as a combination of lithic traditions that may have originated in different regions This syncretism which is an unusual occurrence in the regions discussed in this volume reinforces the importance of the Levant as a region for interpreting the RNMH phenomenon in West Asia

Stone Tools in the Paleolithic and Neolithic Near East John J. Shea, 2013-02-28

Stone Tools in the Paleolithic and Neolithic Near East A Guide surveys the lithic record for the East Mediterranean Levant Lebanon Syria Israel Jordan and adjacent territories from the earliest times to 6 500 years ago It is intended both as an introduction to this lithic evidence for students and as a resource for researchers working with Paleolithic and Neolithic stone tool evidence Written by a lithic analyst and professional flintknapper this book systematically examines variation in technology typology and industries for the Lower Middle and Upper Paleolithic the Epipaleolithic and Neolithic periods in the Near East It is extensively illustrated with drawings of stone tools In addition to surveying the lithic evidence the book also considers ways in which archaeological treatment of this evidence could be changed to make it more relevant to major issues in human origins research A final chapter shows how change in stone tool designs points to increasing human dependence on stone tools across the long sweep of Stone Age prehistory

Neandertal Lithic Industries at La Quina Arthur J. Jelinek, 2013-04-18 This book employs new analytical techniques to expand our knowledge of Neandertal life in what is now southwestern France Written by a senior researcher who developed sophisticated methods for analyzing chipped stone and animal bone artifacts it adds significantly to scientific understanding of the Neandertals Perspectives on the Past Geoffrey A. Clark, 2017-11-15 Perspectives on the Past shows how knowledge of the past is contingent and is largely determined by the social and intellectual milieu in which those who study it have received their training In the original essays that comprise the volume field archaeologists discuss their own biases and the effects these biases have on the way they conduct their research on hunter gatherers in the Mediterranean Egypt During the Last Interglacial Angela E. presents our current state of knowledge about a variety of regional adaptations that characterized prehistoric groups in the Old World before 10 000 B P The authors of the chapters consider the behavior of humans rather than that of objects or features and present data and models for various aspects of past cultures and for culture change These presentations integrate findings and understandings derived from a number of related disciplines actively involved in researching the past Data and interpretations are offered on a range of Old world regions during the Paleolithic including Africa Asia Australia and Europe and chronological coverage spans from the Early to Late Pleistocene

From Lake to Sand. The Archaeology of Farafrā Oasis Western desert, Egypt Barbara E. Barich, Giulio Lucarini, Mohamed A. Hamdan, Fekri A. Hassan, 2014-12-11 The volume presents all the data collected during the cycle of research conducted by the Italian Archaeological Mission in the Farafrā Oasis between 1990 and 2005 The 29 multidisciplinary essays contained in this book provide a detailed picture of the population of the Farafrā Oasis hitherto one of the least well known within the Western Desert Farafrā became particularly important during the middle Holocene the period when climate conditions were most favourable with later brief humid episodes even in the historic periods The results of the long term research cycle presented here combined with data from the survey of the whole Wadi el Obeiyid still in progress allow the authors to identify changes in the peopling of the oasis and to define various occupation phases The new chronology for the Wadi el Obeiyid is one of the main achievements of the book and as demonstrated in the final chapter is in complete agreement with the main cultural units of other territories in the Western Desert On this chronological basis the contacts between the latter and the populations established on the Nile are brought into sharper focus The importance of the archaeological documents discovered at Farafrā and at the same time their fragility due to the deterioration of the physical environment and the uncontrolled human activities make us fear for their conservation We hope that this book with its complete documentation of the precious nature of the Farafrā Oasis landscape and its archaeological heritage may help to promote more effective policies for its safeguard

The Social Archaeology of the Levant Assaf Yasur-Landau, Eric H. Cline, Yorke Rowan, 2018-12-20 The volume offers a comprehensive introduction to the archaeology of the southern Levant modern day Israel Palestine and Jordan from the Paleolithic period to the Islamic era presenting the past with chronological changes from hunter gatherers to empires Written by an international team of scholars in the fields of archaeology epigraphy and bioanthropology the volume presents central debates around a range of archaeological issues including gender ritual the creation of alphabets and early writing biblical periods archaeometallurgy looting and maritime trade Collectively the essays also engage diverse theoretical approaches to demonstrate the multi vocal nature of studying the past Significantly The Social Archaeology of the Levant updates and contextualizes major shifts in archaeological interpretation

Beyond the Fertile Crescent: Late Palaeolithic and Neolithic Communities of the Jordanian Steppe. The Azraq Basin Project Andrew Garrard, Brian Byrd, 2013-11-01 The natural arc of resource rich land which forms the Fertile Crescent of South West Asia is regarded as the earliest centre of village based farming in the world and has been the focus of much of our understanding of the transition from Epipalaeolithic hunter gathers to Neolithic farmers Beyond the Fertile Crescent is the first volume of the Azraq Project a large scale archaeological and palaeoenvironmental survey and excavation project undertaken between 1982 and 1989 in the ecologically diverse sub region of the Azraq Basin in north central Jordan an area rich in Palaeolithic and Neolithic archaeology Beginning with an overview to the Project aims a detailed analysis of past and present environments and land use and the history of excavation in the Basin Beyond the Fertile Crescent explores the geology stratigraphy and dating of the Late Palaeolithic sites and provides a detailed description of the technology and typology of the lithic assemblages from the sites These are then compared with those from the wider Levant in order to explore possible links between technological traditions and social groups in order to understand the evidence for settlement strategies across the region
