

HAIR POEMS

- Mirror, Mirror

A young spring-tender girl combed her joyous hair
'You are very ugly' said the mirror.

- On Raglan Road

On Raglan Road on an autumn day I met her first and knew
That her dark hair would weave a snare...

- Before The Throne Of Beauty Xxvi

One heavy day I ran away from the grim face of society and the dizzying clamor of the city...

- Saturday At The Canal

I was hoping to be happy by seventeen.
School was a sharp check mark in the roll book,

- Lenore

Ah, broken is the golden bowl! the spirit flown forever!
Let the bell toll!- a saintly soul floats on the Stygian river...

- Eat Your Heart Out

I've come by, she says, to tell you that this is it. I'm not kidding, it's over. this is it.

- Porphyria's Lover

The rain set early in to-night,
The sullen wind was soon awake

- Wait

Wait, for now.
Distrust everything, if you have to.

Radical as Reality Peter Campion, 2019-10-17 What do American poets mean when they talk about freedom How can form help us understand questions about what shapes we want to give our poetic lives and how much power we have to choose those shapes For that matter what do we even mean by we In this collection of essays Peter Campion gathers his thoughts on these questions and more to form an evolutionary history of the past century of American poetry Through close readings of the great modernists midcentury objectivists late twentieth century poets his contemporaries and more Campion unearths an American poetic landscape that is subtler and more varied than most critics have allowed He discovers commonalities among poets considered opposites dramatizes how form and history are mutually entailing and explores how the conventions of poetry its inheritance and its inventions sprang from the tensions of ordinary life At its core this is a book about poetic making one that reveals how the best poets not only receive but understand and adapt what comes before them reinterpreting the history of their art to create work that is indeed radical as reality Paddy Hew; a poem, from the brain of Timothy Tarpaulin, whistled by a sea lark [by-Clark]. A. Clark, 1815 With Her Machete in Her Hand Catrióna Rueda Esquibel, 2009-09-15 With the 1981 publication of the groundbreaking anthology This Bridge Called My Back Writings by Radical Women of Color Cherr e Moraga and Gloria Anzald a ushered in an era of Chicana lesbian writing But while these two writers have achieved iconic status observers of the Chicana o experience have been slow to perceive the existence of a whole community lesbian and straight male as well as female who write about the Chicana lesbian experience To create a first full map of that community this book explores a wide range of plays novels and short stories by Chicana o authors that depict lesbian characters or lesbian desire Catri na Rueda Esquibel starts from the premise that Chicana o communities theories and feminisms cannot be fully understood without taking account of the perspectives and experiences of Chicana lesbians To open up these perspectives she engages in close readings of works centered around the following themes La Llorona the Aztec Princess Sor Juana In s de la Cruz girlhood friendships rural communities and history and Chicana activism Her investigation broadens the community of Chicana lesbian writers well beyond Moraga and Anzald a while it also demonstrates that the histories of Chicana lesbians have had to be written in works of fiction because these women have been marginalized and excluded in canonical writings on Chicano life and experience Sally's Genius Brooks Clark,2017-09-16 In 1967 Sally Smith needed a school for her son Gary who suffered from dyslexia among other learning disabilities Finding none she founded one the Lab School of Washington In the process she developed the Academic Club Methodology by which children with learning disabilities can be engaged and inspired in school where they had previously suffered only frustration and defeat While directing the Lab School Smith taught her system and ran the master s program in special education at American University for 32 years inspiring a new generation of teachers to pioneer innovations in education Smith also wrote books starting with No Easy Answers in the late 70s and in various editions thereafter that serve as the definitive works in the special education field Smith was driven creative unique and unforgettable Lost City Marion Strobel,1928
